Pharmacist Accused On Drug Counts

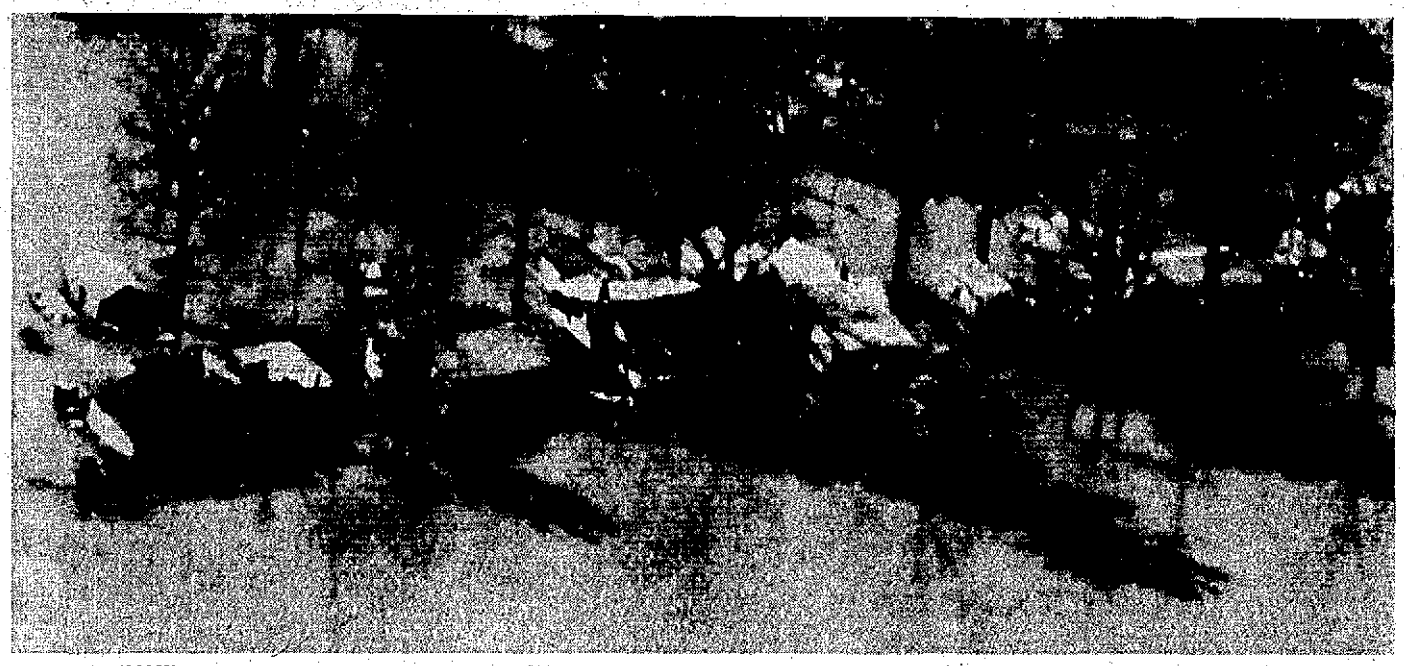

A Benton township pharmacist was arrested and charged with illegal delivery of the controlled substances morphine and hydromorphine, both prescription pain killers. Freed on bonds totaling $10,000 following arraignment Monday in Berrien Fifth District court on four charges of delivering controlled substances was Richard Gibson, 47, pharmacist at Nationwide Pharmacy Center, 1041 East Napier avenue.

According to Berrien Chief Asst. Prosecutor Robert McDowell, Gibson was arrested after a month-long investigation by the Michigan Department of Licensing and Registration's diversion investigation unit.

McDowell explained that the unit investigates the diversion of drugs from legitimate to illegitimate channels.

According to the warrants, Gibson is accused of delivering hydromorphine, a morphine derivative, March 2 and 5 at the pharmacy and March 3 at a building in St. Joseph. And he also is accused of delivering morphine Feb. 24 at a parking lot adjacent to the building in St. Joseph.

McDowell pointed out that Gibson is registered to dispense controlled substances to persons with valid prescriptions. But the police informants to whom the drugs were delivered did not have prescriptions for those particular drugs, the prosecution alleges.

FLOODED HOMES: Flooding on Grand River reached its peak in Grand Rapids area Monday engulfing numerous homes and forcing evacuation of some 200 families. Mrs. Ford Suit Must Take Another Route

By JIM DeLAND
Assistant City Editor

Berrien Circuit Judge Chester J. Byrns said Monday that Benton Harbor "could be buying itself a number of lawsuits" by continuing to conduct city business while the legality of Helen Ford's appointment to the city commission is being challenged in the courts.

Judge Byrns' comments came during a hearing on a suit asking that Mrs. Ford's appointment to the city commission be declared void — an action Byrns said he could not take in the form of an injunction, as sought in the suit.

"A bunch of eggs have been dropped, and I think you're trying to get me to make an omelet," Byrns said to opposing counsel in the hearing. "The state of this file does not permit me at this time to do what you want.

"I adjourn this hearing with the prayerful hope that the parties can find some easier solution."

The suit, filed by Maurice Bishop and Alice Canfield, challenges Mrs. Ford's appointment on two grounds — that she owed the city back taxes at the time of her appointment and was in conflict of interest by being a member of a compensation board that recommended raises for the mayor and city commissioners.

But at least one constitutional issue was raised during Tuesday's hearing by Atty. Benjamin H. Logan of Grand Rapids, counsel for the defendants — Mayor Charles F. Joseph, Mrs. Ford, and Commissioners Barbara Huckaby, Winston Minott, Charles Shepherd and Alfred Williams.

Atty. Logan accepted evidence that Mrs. Ford did, indeed, owe back taxes at the time of her appointment, but questioned a provision in the city charter making her thus ineligible to be elected or appointed to public office.

"It may be a question whether this ordinance is valid," said Logan, who questioned it as "insidious discrimination toward those who own property and can't afford to pay taxes."

After the hearing former Benton Harbor City Atty. Yvonne Hughes, acting as counsel for Bishop and Mrs. Canfield, said she would in line with the judge's recommendation petition the state attorney general and the county prosecutor to pursue the matter of Mrs. Ford's appointment.

Only after this procedure has been followed, Judge Byrns said, may the question of title to a public office be pursued through the use of a private attorney.

Atty. Hughes also said that she would meet with Atty. Logan —

State Women Lawyers Get Rave Notices

DETROIT (AP) — Women lawyers are infiltrating the previously male stronghold of the legal profession — with excellent results, according to Michigan legal officials.

Women lawyers are "hot properties now," said George Bushnell, president of the State Bar of Michigan.

University of Michigan Law School Dean Theodore St. Antoine says the firms that have hired women "are elated with the results, because they tapped into a new pool of talent and have an edge.

"My hunch is that discrimination is passing away as women demonstrate they can do anything.... Law is one of the professions women will gravitate toward," St. Antoine said.

Bushnell acknowledges that the makeup of the legal profession is changing.

"The profession has historically been masculine-oriented, what we might now call 'sexist,'" he said.

"In my lifetime at the Bar (25 years), I've been fully conscious of an attitude that women don't really belong," he said. But, he added, stereotypes about women lawyers are "rapidly disappearing."

More women are studying to become lawyers at Michigan schools than ever before. Wayne State University Law School has 119 women of 353 students in its first-year class. That's an increase of 23 per cent since 1970, school officials said.

At the U-M, there are 232 women in a total enrollment of 1,153. At the University of Detroit Law School, there are 123 women students out of a total 737.

The Women Lawyers Association of Michigan estimates that there are now more than 500 women attorneys who have passed the state Bar examinations out of approximately 13,000 attorneys in the state.

The Wayne County Prosecutor's office employs eight women out of 108 attorneys. At the Oakland County Prosecutor's office, there are three women out of 42 attorneys. There are six women out of 18 attorneys employed at the defender's office.

The Detroit firm Dykema, Gossett, Spencer, Goodnow & Trigg has 10 women out of 90 attorneys, and has one full partner, Kay Felt.

There are no women on Circuit Court or Court of Appeals benches in Michigan, but the state Supreme Court has one woman, Justice Mary Coleman.

St. Joseph River Continues To Drop

The level of the rain-swollen St. Joseph river has continued to drop and families at a Berrien Springs mobile home park, evacuated over the weekend because of high water, were able to move back yesterday.

A spokesman at the Niles waste water treatment plant said this morning that the level of the river there was 8.85 feet, down from a high of 10.2 feet recorded Saturday.

At the Leisure Living mobile home park in Berrien Springs, manager Dave Gordon said today that all 11 families had returned to their trailers by yesterday.

Gordon said the level of standing water at the east end of the park had dropped to between 4 to 6 inches. A high point of 18 to 24 inches was reached Saturday, he said.

High water in the park was caused when the swollen river forced water to reverse the flow through an 18-inch drain pipe, according to Gordon.

Today, workers at the park planned to cap the drain and pump remaining water from the east end at the site, Gordon said.

Heavy rainfall last week caused the river to rise.

State Manhole Legislation Sparks Hijinks In House

By MARY STEVENSON
Associated Press Writer

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — After some legislative hijinks, a bill requiring one worker to be stationed at the ground surface when another enters a manhole is ready for a final vote.

The House moved the bill, which has already passed the Senate, into final vote position Monday night after approving an amendment changing the word "manhole" to "personhole," in what supporters said was an attempt to be nonsexist in terminology.

The amendment was later withdrawn after the House voted to reconsider its approval.

The amendment, sponsored by Reps. Paul Rosenbaum, D-Battle Creek, Gary Owen, D-Ypsilanti, and James O'Neill, D-Saginaw, was approved 56-44 on its first vote after much laughter and debate.

The legislature last year approved legislation changing "Workman's Compensation" to "Worker's Compensation," and Rosenbaum said the amendment was an effort to be consistent. "I'm quite serious about this," he said.

Rep. Josephine Hunsinger, D-Detroit, noted, "There are many people (heads of committees) around this legislature who would rather be called chairperson than chairman."

The House members agreed to reconsider its vote after Majority Floor Leader Joseph Forbes, D-Oak Park, asked them to, calling the amendment "ridiculous."

Rosenbaum then told the House that, "It is with deep humility that I withdraw my amendment."

The House also rejected an amendment that would have let a utility increase its rates to match extra costs brought about by stationing a second worker at a manhole.

And it rejected another amendment that would have required a second worker only if a local union contract contained that requirement.

Opponents of the bill, sponsored by Sen. Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, say it is a feather-bedding measure designed simply to create more jobs that aren't really needed.

And they say the bill could mean a $10 million extra cost for utilities.

But supporters say there are not sufficient safety standards to protect the life and welfare of persons who must work in manholes. A second worker, they argue, could provide alert surveillance and lessen chances of severe or fatal injuries.

Having 'House' Wife Turns Congressman Off

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The idea of having a House wife in his home apparently doesn't appeal to California Congressman James C. Corman. So Mrs. Corman has filed for divorce. Patti Lear Corman, who had worked in her husband's office as an unpaid assistant, said the Democratic congressman was not pleased that she intended to oppose an incumbent from a neighboring district.

"I enjoyed his full support as long as Goldwater was not going to seek re-election," she said. "In fact, Jim told me I would make an outstanding legislator because I could really understand the issues."

Mrs. Corman, 46-year-old daughter of Lear jet developer and millionaire industrialist William P. Lear, announced last week that she will run for the Democratic nomination to oppose Republican Rep. Barry Goldwater Jr. in the 20th District. Her husband, a Democrat from suburban Van Nuys, represents the adjacent 21st District.

Mrs. Corman's attorney, Marvin Mitchelson, filed the dissolution action Monday in Los Angeles County Superior Court. He said the divorce action stemmed from her husband's objection to her plan to run for Congress. The congressman felt, in the lawyer's words, that "the House is not a home.

"He handed her a letter three days ago on House Ways and Means Committee stationery outlining for her the ways and means of getting a divorce." Corman's letter stated that unless his wife withdrew from the race he would seek to end their marriage, Mitchelson said. Mrs. Corman said the letter left her no choice but to file for divorce from her 56-year-old husband. The Cormans, who have no children, were married two years ago.

The marriage is the third for each. Mrs. Corman's first two marriages ended in divorce. One of Corman's wives died; he was divorced from the the other. Corman, reached in Washington, said his wife's decision is "one that I regret but certainly understandable. Patti has always pursued an independent course of action, a quality I have always admired."

Mrs. Corman said of her husband's action, "I sincerely regret that Jim and I have reached a parting of the ways." Members of Congress aren't required by law to live in the districts they represent, so the couple could have lived in their home in suburban Van Nuys while representing different House districts.

Were it left to me to decide whether we should have government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate to prefer the latter. — Thomas Jefferson.

There's A Red Cross On That Blood Bank

The name "Red Cross" makes lots of Americans think of far-off events and places: like earthquakes and Guatemala or prisoners of war and Geneva. But Red Cross is a lot closer to home than that. If you're a resident of Berrien county, you may some day beat death because of the blood Red Cross supplies you.

The Berrien County Chapter of the American National Red Cross operates the county's blood bank program. It's a big task.

The goal is to collect 6,000 pints of blood a year. That's why you see articles in this newspaper listing the times and places where volunteers may donate blood.

Six-thousand pints is a hard goal to reach, incidentally. If you haven't donated, try to make the next bloodmobile visit to your community.

Whether you donate or not, the Red Cross blood is banked for use of every resident of the county if and when an accident or sudden illness requires it. Moreover, a Berrien resident traveling elsewhere in the U.S. can get blood for transfusions in any other county that has a program similar to Berrien's.

The blood bank program alone is reason enough for endorsing proclamations by President Ford and Governor Milliken designating March as Red Cross Month. But the organization does a whole lot more than blood-banking.

Traditionally, Red Cross is known for its ability to react to major disaster situations and for its assistance to servicemen and their families. Life-saving courses by Red Cross probably have saved tens of thousands from watery graves.

One of the most significant aspects of Red Cross activity is that every phase is volunteer directed, from the responsibilities of the national chairman and board of governors to their counterparts in the local chapters.

Here and everywhere they function, the Red Cross volunteers deserve not only a pat on the back but a helping hand, as well.

It's That Frustrating Time Of Year Again

The old saying tells us every cloud has its silver lining.

Probably true enough; to which, however, should be given instant inflection that every spring has its rain cloud.

In this instance the cloud might be reckoned in the sobering thought that come April 15th some 80 million Americans should have filed their Forms 1041 or 1040A with the nearest designated IRS collection point, together with final payment or an unassailable excuse for not ponying up at the deadline.

Filing this season is running behind the 1975 pace, something like 10 per cent in arrears.

Emergence from the 1974-75 downturn probably accounts for most of this foot dragging.

The other cause is the average person's ability and willingness to cope with the tax forms.

So great is this reluctance to come to grips with the paperwork that Consumers Reports, the Consumers Union monthly magazine, estimates at least half of those 80 million people will ask somebody else to take on the job and that possibly the figure could jump to 70 per cent. In the process they will; according to the magazine, spend $1 billion for this outside expertise.

Just how good is the expertise?

Consumers Reports rates it in this descending scale: No. 1, certified public accountants and lawyers specializing in tax matters; No. 2, the IRS's Taxpayer Service Division (the free assistance at the field offices); No. 3, national tax services such as H&R Block; and No. 4, the strictly local store front operator who is moonlighting from some other established employment.

Costwise, the magazine's rating goes this way: highest, the CPA or tax lawyer; next, the national and local operator in something of a dead heat; and cheapest of all, the IRS's freebie.

How the magazine reached its reliability conclusion as between the IRS and the national service is something of a mystery. A 1976 inhouse check by the IRS of its field offices disclosed a 72 per cent error allowance in the returns computed by their personnel.

When two parties go to court over a civil suit, a defense normally available is that one or both acted on advice of an attorney.

Not so, though, when Uncle Sam disputes a tax return. Whether prepared by the highest priced CPA in the land or the IRS Service Division, the taxpayer is on his own to defend what went into the 1040 or 1040A.

The legislatures in California, Idaho and Oregon have adopted licensing statutes aimed to upgrade the commercial tax preparer's professional skill.

Extending the principle could reduce the error margin to some degree, but until the ambiguities in the IRS regulations and the court decisions interpreting the basic tax statute are reduced, error will persist in large measure.

More helpful than this after the fact approach would be a thorough house cleaning within the basic laws enacted by Congress.

The first income tax statute adopted in 1913 was a brief, readable piece of legislation understandable to anyone having graduated from the eighth grade.

Through the years Congress has caved in to all manner of lobbying pressures seeking preferential treatment and to the Treasury Department casting about to find missing pennies.

What should be simple long ago passed all understanding.

This legalistic tangle has so densified as to cause some tax experts to advocate what amounts to a gross income tax at rates greatly below today's graduated scale.

They forecast this simplified figuring could bring down the highest individual rate from 70 per cent to 30 per cent, substantially free up a corporation's earnings tapped by a high, flat ceiling of 48 per cent for investment in new plant and equipment and more jobs, and still not deprive the Treasury of its dollar intake.

The approach would eliminate the preferences under existing law and probably put a chill on charitable giving.

So strong in numbers and political clout are these vested interests it is a 10-1 bet that Congress will never move too far, too fast toward clarity and fairness.

The present muddle probably will be with the country when its Tricentennial rolls around.

INGENUITY STILL NEEDED OVERSEAS

Editor,

A dozen or more firms of the area were named in the special insert about National Engineers Week. They sponsored or participated in activities having to do with the theme of American ingenuity. Now that engineering firms, engineering students, and technical education institutions are all so much better qualified than 15 or 20 years ago, it seems ironic that opportunity for application of this ingenuity around the world becomes more restricted.

Any one who has observed some overseas development activities first hand must feel regret for the passing of the heady days from the late Forties to the early Sixties, when the field was so wide open. Construction projects, modern agriculture, and technical development of all kinds were being called for in every quarter, it seemed. The needs are still there more than ever, but conditions for meeting the needs are different now.

Private American ingenuity could well be expended in developing more appropriate ways to open up large fields for overseas activities again. A key to one approach might be the small area-to-area endeavor, which would see several or many firms in an area in loose association with volunteers from the same area organized for multiple representation in a particular overseas location.

SAYS MIGRANT CENTER REPORT NOT ACCURATE

Editor,

After attending the meeting of the Governor's Inter Agency Task Force for Migrants Affairs in Lansing last Tuesday, (March 2), I feel that more detailed information should be brought to the attention of Southwestern Michigan community concerning the proposed migrant "Port of Entry."

They used name dropping of local people as being for it, which we later found not to be true, and they also stated that the petition from the entire Berrien County Board of Supervisors was weighted as one vote against "Port of Entry" at the hearing last December. It was manipulated so their vote was off-set by a secretary at U.M.O.I., who voted for the project.

In the report there also was a comment on "concern" of various local representatives and senators, namely, Harry Gast, Charles Zollar, Ray Mittan and Bela Kennedy. It did not indicate that they were totally opposed to the project as stated in their letter of Jan. 28, only that they were concerned.

One of the members of the task force also noted that the construction of this P.O.E. will be in excess of $600,000, as the application to HUD is for $300,000 the balance must be made up by asking for more. They admitted one purpose of this center is to obtain data, (number of migrants). We feel that would be used to subsidize more tax funded programs.

Opposition to this project should be sent to Governor Milliken, Office of the Governor, Lansing, Mich., before March 16, 1976. At that time, the governor will make his decision if "Port of Entry" is to be or not to be.

Please get behind those of us who are fighting it as an unnecessary waste of tax papers money.

Do You REMEMBER?

— 10 Years Ago —

The statue of the World War I Doughboy standing guard in St. Joseph's Lake Front park will have its left hand and rifle restored in about a week. Jim Cook, a city water department employe, has been repairing the hand and rifle since they were found broken off some time ago. The restoration is nearly complete except for the "aging process" to turn the hand and gun into the same color as the rest of the statue. Cook described the process as a "military secret."

Voters of the Eaman school district (Hagar No. 4) will ballot March 30 on a $45,000 program to build a new two-room school. The scheduled election was announced today by Robert Hornack, member of the school board. Others on the three-member board are Robert Hirsch, moderator, and Wilbur DeWitt, treasurer. The present one-room Eaman school at the intersection of Eaman road and Maple drive north of Benton Harbor is a frame structure built 75 years ago. Hornack said there are now 67 pupils in the eight-grade school and there have been as many as 70.

— 50 Years Ago —

The old Benton Harbor fair grounds and race track is about to pass into history. In the future it will be known as Fair Acres subdivision. The grounds, which contain approximately 25 acres, have been platted into a subdivision of 54 acres by Chester Sweet. Lots face on Crystal and Britain avenues, and two streets, yet unnamed, intersect the land. The bleachers, exhibition halls and stock barns will be razed to give way to residences. The half-mile race track, one of the best dirt tracks in southern Michigan, will be converted into street and building sites. Fairs held there in the past year proved financial failures. Two years ago an attempt was made to revive the Berrien county fair, but the venture followed in the footsteps of previous failures.

— 75 Years Ago —

The annual election of officers of the Malta Commandary, No. 44, Knights Templar, was held in the lodge rooms in the Bell block, Benton Harbor, last evening. The past year has been most prosperous for the Commandery. The Knights have outgrown their present quarters and are in need of a larger and more commodious quarters. A committee was appointed to look after new quarters and if suitable rooms cannot be found or secured, plans will be made for the erection of the finest Masonic temple in Southwestern Michigan.

Soviet Strategy For Resources

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — One thing that doesn't bother intelligence strategists is that the Soviet Union will start a nuclear war.

Or that the Kremlin will use alliances in the Middle East and Africa to build a string of bases which would threaten this country's lifeline in case of war.

The worry is that step by step, the USSR will gain influence in those countries which produce or have reserves of materials upon which the United States peacetime and war economies are heavily dependent.

If the men in the Kremlin are able to achieve this end, they will be able to force higher unemployment and inflation in the U.S. and shake up the American way of life whenever they choose.

There is no way at present to tell whether the Soviets will succeed in this strategy. As in Egypt and a score of other lands, the Russians are noted, first, for dramatic initial successes, followed by bumbling. The average time between Russian successes and local disillusionment has been calculated at 10 years, give or take a year or so.

But there seems to be no doubt of Russian objectives. A study of Soviet and Cuban activity in Africa; spotted through 11 countries from Algeria, Libya, Egypt, and the Sudan in the North, also Guinea, Mali, Nigeria, Uganda and Somalia in Central Africa to Angola and Mozambique in the South, puts the Soviet Union in a strong position to influence the market for essential minerals and other key raw materials on which the Western industrial world is heavily dependent now and will be in the decades ahead.

We are not concerned here only with the countries in which there is direct Soviet-Cuban involvement.

Take the situation in Angola where Russo-Cuban backed forces have taken over the government. Angola is important for diamonds and petroleum to be sure. But the new pro-Russian leaders have announced plans for guerrilla operations in Rhodesia, rich in chromium, tin, asbestos, copper and gold, and on Namibia, otherwise known as Southwest Africa, with diamond, copper, lead, zinc, vanadium, silver, tin, and cadmium resources. Then there's neighboring Zaire and Zambia, with cobalt, copper, industrial diamonds, bauxite, manganese and zinc.

One top intelligence man here worries intensely about the longtime effects of Soviet control over Zaire and Zambian cobalt and Rhodesian chrome.

Here, he says, they could really do us in.

As might be expected, the Soviet Union has been particularly generous in military aid, and energetic in furnishing military advisers, to countries rich in oil and natural gas — Algeria, Libya and Nigeria.

But the Soviet Union is attracted by more than just petroleum. There's a great deal of bauxite, raw material for aluminum, in Guinea, and titanium ore in Sierra Leone next door.

A number of the countries with which the Soviet Union has become involved, or their immediate neighbors, have uranium, manganese, tin, copper, zinc and appreciable resources of less well known but essential raw materials.

As noted above, the Russians have not won this battle for resources and may never do so.

On Chairman Mao, Franco

When Mao Tse-tung, now 82, dies it will be highly instructive to note the tone taken toward him by the Western press. We will thereupon have an opportunity to compare the media treatment of Mao with that recently accorded, for example, General Franco.

I myself assembled a small file of news stories and editorials written after the deaths of Franco and Chou En-lai, and they provide a remarkable contrast.

Franco gets very stern treatment: "In those years during and after the Civil War, General Franco turned Spain into a totalitarian dictatorship of the right as ingrown and intolerant as the most rigid Communist dictatorships of the left... In the recent upsurges of urban guerrilla violence and Basque separatist terror, General Franco fell back on the only response he knew — increased repression."

The substance of these assertions could of course be questioned. But I am interested in overall tone. Quite clearly, the tone of that editorial indicates, Franco should be the object of every right-thinking person's scorn.

Ah, but now let us attend to the music of the prose requiem editorially extended to Chou En-lai by the very same Times:

"Chou En-lai was one of the more far-sighted statesmen of the twentieth century. If the acute stage of the Cold War from the late 1940s to the mid-1960s is now but a memory, it is in part because of the role this great Chinese leader played... The kind of Communism they developed in China — at enormous cost in human lives and personal liberty — was the product both of China's deep poverty and of the lessons Chou and his comrades learned during the long struggle from the time Chiang Kai-shek almost destroyed them in the 1920s to their conquest of mainland China in 1949."

Reading those passages, you know which of the two you are supposed to admire, which condemn — though Chinese Communism is certainly, beyond any possibility of argument, a more thoroughgoing totalitarianism than anything imagined by Franco.

Some normally judicious commentators actually became swept up in a sentimental afflatus upon Chou's death. Take one more item from my file, a column by the customarily shrewd Max Lerner. "Chou En-lai's death removes a giant figure from the world scene, and impoverishes every people, because while he was a Marxist revolutionary, he was also basically a moderate and a realist . . . I don't doubt that, years from now, the historians will remember Mao and begin to forget Chou. It is the difference between an initiator and dreamer and the man who makes the dream possible and keeps it from being destroyed..."

But what about the content of the dream that dreamer was dreaming? The startling thing here is that Mr. Lerner tacitly puts aside his own commitments to freedom and self-government, as if it would be a form of bad manners to refer to them when writing about a Communist "realist."

Well, the big dreamer himself, Mao Tse-tung, will make his departure, and my file will grow. Indeed, Mr. James Reston got long ago set the toe by referring to the aging despot as a "saint."

There's A Red Cross On That Blood Bank

The name "Red Cross" makes lots of Americans think of far-off events and places: like earthquakes and Guatemala or prisoners of war and Geneva. But Red Cross is a lot closer to home than that. If you're a resident of Berrien county, you may some day beat death because of the blood Red Cross supplies you.

The Berrien County Chapter of the American National Red Cross operates the county's blood bank program. It's a big task.

The goal is to collect 6,000 pints of blood a year. That's why you see articles in this newspaper listing the times and places where volunteers may donate blood.

Six-thousand pints is a hard goal to reach, incidentally. If you haven't donated, try to make the next bloodmobile visit to your community.

Whether you donate or not, the Red Cross blood is banked for use of every resident of the county if and when an accident or sudden illness requires it. Moreover, a Berrien resident traveling elsewhere in the U.S. can get blood for transfusions in any other county that has a program similar to Berrien's.

The blood bank program alone is reason enough for endorsing proclamations by President Ford and Governor Milliken designating March as Red Cross Month. But the organization does a whole lot more than blood-banking.

Traditionally, Red Cross is known for its ability to react to major disaster situations and for its assistance to servicemen and their families. Lifesaving courses by Red Cross probably have saved tens of thousands from watery graves.

One of the most significant aspects of Red Cross activity is that every phase is volunteer directed, from the responsibilities of the national chairman and board of governors to their counterparts in the local chapters.

Here and everywhere they function, the Red Cross volunteers deserve not only a pat on the back but a helping hand, as well.

It's That Frustrating Time Of Year Again

The old saying tells us every cloud has its silver lining.

Probably true enough; to which, however, should be given instant inflection that every spring has its rain cloud.

In this instance the cloud might be reckoned in the sobering thought that come April 15th some 80 million Americans should have filed their Forms 1041 or 1040A with the nearest designated IRS collection point, together with final payment or an unassailable excuse for not ponying up at the deadline.

Filing this season is running behind the 1975 pace, something like 10 per cent in arrears.

Emergence from the 1974-75 downturn probably accounts for most of this foot dragging.

The other cause is the average person's ability and willingness to cope with the tax forms.

So great is this reluctance to come to grips with the paperwork that Consumers Reports, the Consumers Union monthly magazine, estimates at least half of those 80 million people will ask somebody else to take on the job and that possibly the figure could jump to 70 per cent. In the process they will, according to the magazine, spend $1 billion for this outside expertise.

Just how tood is the expertise?

Consumers Reports rates it in this descending scale: No. 1, certified public accountants and lawyers specializing in tax matters; No. 2, the IRS's Taxpayer Service Division (the free assistance at the field offices); No. 3, national tax services such as H&R Block; and No. 4, the strictly local store front operator who is moonlighting from some other established employment.

Costwise, the magazine's rating goes this way: highest, the CPA or tax lawyer; next, the national and local operator in something of a dead heat; and cheapest of all, the IRS's freebie.

How the magazine reached its reliability conclusion as between the IRS and the national service is something of a mystery. A 1976 inhouse check by the IRS of its field offices disclosed a 72 per cent error allowance in the returns computed by their personnel.

When two parties go to court over a civil suit, a defense normally available is that one or both acted on advice of an attorney.

Not so, though, when Uncle Sam disputes a tax return. Whether prepared by the highest priced CPA in the land or the IRS Service Division, the taxpayer is on his own to defend what went into the 1040 or 1040A.

The legislatures in California, Idaho and Oregon have adopted licensing statutes aimed to upgrade the commercial tax preparer's professional skill.

Extending the principle could reduce the error margin to some degree, but until the ambiguities in the IRS regulations and the court decisions interpreting the basic tax statute are reduced, error will persist in large measure.

More helpful than this after the fact approach would be a thorough house cleaning within the basic laws enacted by Congress.

The first income tax statute adopted in 1913 was a brief, readable piece of legislation understandable to anyone having graduated from the eighth grade.

Through the years Congress has caved in to all manner of lobbying pressures seeking preferential treatment and to the Treasury Department casting about to find missing pennies.

What should be simple long ago passed all understanding.

This legalistic tangle has so densified as to cause some tax experts to advocate what amounts to a gross income tax at rates greatly below today's graduated scale.

They forecast this simplified figuring could bring down the highest individual rate from 70 per cent to 30 per cent, substantially free up a corporation's earnings tapped by a high, flat ceiling of 48 per cent for investment in new plant and equipment and more jobs, and still not deprive the Treasury of its dollar intake.

The approach would eliminate the preferences under existing law and probably put a chill on charitable giving.

So strong in numbers and political clout are these vested interests it is a 10-1 bet that Congress will never move too far, too fast toward clarity and fairness.

The present muddle probably will be with the country when its Tricentennial rolls around.

WONDERS WHY LAWRENCE CHIEF WAS FIRED

Editor,

Why has the Lawrence Police chief been fired? Is it possible he stepped on some toes in doing his duty?

The man had the respect of both young and old. The young people knew they had a friend in the chief. They could talk with him and this means something to young people.

The old knew that they could depend on the chief. He understood their problems and tried to help them.

INGENUITY STILL NEEDED OVERSEAS

Editor,

A dozen or more firms of the area were named in the special insert about National Engineers Week. They sponsored or participated in activities having to do with the theme of American ingenuity. Now that engineering firms, engineering students, and technical education institutions are all so much better qualified than 15 or 20 years ago, it seems ironic that opportunity for application of this ingenuity around the world becomes more restricted.

Any one who has observed some overseas development activities first hand must feel regret for the passing of the heady days from the late Forties to the early Sixties, when the field was so wide open. Construction projects, modern agriculture, and technical development of all kinds were being called for in every quarter, it seemed. The needs are still there more than ever, but conditions for meeting the needs are different now.

Private American ingenuity could well be expended in developing more appropriate ways to open up large fields for overseas activities again. A key to one approach might be the small area-to-area endeavor, which would see several or many firms in an area in loose association with volunteers from the same area organized for multiple representation in a particular overseas location.

Workers Charge Firm's Paychecks Bounce

By NICK SMITH
Staff Writer

A summons charging failure to pay wages is being sought by the Berrien prosecutor's office against Monitor Sound Systems, Inc., a three-month-old Benton Harbor industry.

Within the past week 22 of the firm's employes filed complaints with the Michigan Department of Labor alleging that they either received no pay or were paid with insufficient funds' checks, according to Asst. Prosecutor Robert U. McDowell.

McDowell said the charges will likely lead to another investigation because Monitor Sound Systems pays its employes in part with federal funds. The company began production in January with workers trained under a Michigan Department of Labor grant using federal Comprehensive Employment Training Act funds.

A $25,000 loan also helped Monitor get started. The loan was through the United Community Development Corporation which uses federal funds from the City of Benton Harbor's Community Development grant to promote business and industrial growth.

McDowell authorized a summons yesterday and it was to go to a District court judge today for determination if a summons will be issued. He explained a summons is issued against a corporation and a warrant is issued against an individual.

The criminal charge sought (a misdemeanor) is against the corporation; not against its officers O.J. Patti, president, and Mrs. Ann Patti, vice president, he said.

If issued, the summons will be delivered to St. Joseph Atty. Robert B. Locke, the registered agent for the corporation, according to McDowell. McDowell does not know who owns the company, he added.

The summons lists three workers as complainants and four charges. Each charge deals with a check which was issued by Monitor Sound Systems and which "bounced," McDowell said.

Gertrude McKinley allegedly cashed checks for $99 and $93 Feb. 6 and 20 which bounced; Maxine Harris allegedly cashed an insufficient funds check for $106 Feb. 6; and a bad check was allegedly issued to Rick Granback for $60 on Feb. 20, according to McDowell.

Last week Jim Anderson, superintendent of the plant at 59 Wall street, said Monitor Sound had laid off some 45 workers because it had run out of parts. The company manufacturers security alarm systems.

FILE COMPLAINTS: Women identified as employes of Monitor Sound Systems, Inc., Benton Harbor, wait at a Berrien prosecutor's office after complaints were filed with Michigan Department of Labor that they either hadn't been paid or were paid with insufficient funds checks, according to Robert U. Penetrator Balloting Approved In St. Joe

St. Joseph residents will get a chance to cast an advisory vote on the controversial I-94 penetrator as city commissioners last night approved putting the issue on the ballot for the May 18 presidential primary election.

Commissioner William Gillespie, prior to the commission approval of the election, stressed that the election is strictly an advisory one and the commission is not bound to follow the outcome.

Concrete Opposition Unlimited which opposes construction of the penetrator was responsible for getting advisory elections in St. Joseph township as well as in the City of St. Joseph.

An advisory election on the penetrator will also be held May 18 in St. Joseph township. Concrete Opposition Unlimited presented petitions with over 1,000 signatures each to township and city officials asking that advisory elections be held. The penetrator is proposed to run across St. Joseph township to the St. Joseph city limits.

Wording on the advisory ballot will be as follows:

"Should the St. Joseph city commission adopt a resolution opposing the construction of another highway (the penetrator) from I-94 to the intersection of Hilltop road, Washington and Niles avenues to bring motor vehicles into and out of the City of St. Joseph?"

Before approving the wording the commission eliminate "at an undetermined cost?" as the last four words of the original ballot submitted by the Concrete Opposition Unlimited steering committee. The wording change was made on recommendation of Commissioner Warren Gast and Joseph Hanley.

Mrs. Joseph Hartwig and Dr. Emil Bolline, members of the Concrete Opposition Unlimited steering committee, were present at last night's meeting.

In other business last night the commission:

PUBLIC HEARING IN APRIL

BH Unveils $6 Million Budget

Benton Harbor City Manager James Peeples Jr. last night presented a tentative $6 million budget to the city commission for the fiscal year starting next July 1.

The proposed budget is more than $2 million less than the current year. Peeples said the biggest reduction is in federal grants for one-time projects.

But Peeples warned that general fund revenues also are expected to decline and force cutbacks in personnel and services. General fund income for day-to-day operation of the city is predicted at $2,448,240 — down $135,000 from the estimate for the current fiscal year.

The general fund also will be charged nearly $150,000 in what Peeples described as a write-off for non-collectable taxes.

The proposed budget indicates the police department will be cut $138,000 from the current fiscal year to a total of $869,000; fire department down $103,000 to a total of $509,662; and inspections cut $30,000 to a total of $68,781.

Peeples said these cuts will mean layoffs. Many will be workers employed under the Comprehensive Employment Training act who are scheduled for layoffs April 1 when federal funding runs out.

Expenditures for the city manager's office are pegged at $43,284, down $23,000. The mayor-commission office is budgeted for $30,405 — a $10,000 increase because of addition of a secretary who would be paid with federal community development funds, Peeples said.

For general fund revenues, real property taxes are budgeted for $624,000, down $10,000. Personal property taxes are figured for $240,000, down $146,000 because of state elimination of taxes on inventories. This loss is expected to be more than offset by $230,000 in state reimbursement.

The budget will go before a public hearing in April and is scheduled to be adopted by the commission the first Monday in May. The proposed budget may be revised by the commission.

BHHS Symphony Band Plays Concert Tomorrow

The 47th annual winter concert of the Benton Harbor high school symphony band will be tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the school's new performing arts center. Director Charles Bullard said the freshman band also will be on the program.

BH Recall Leaders Call Meeting Tonight

Leaders of a drive to recall Benton Harbor Mayor Charles Joseph and four "Clean Slate" commissioners have announced they will hold a meeting at 7 p.m. tonight in the city library. Morgan Hager, Maurice Bishop and former Commissioner Carl Brown said the purpose of the meeting was to inform citizens of progress of the recall campaign and to explain why all petitions calling for a recall election have not yet been submitted.

NAACP Appeals To BH Factions To Settle Differences Peacefully

The executive board of the Twin City Branch NAACP says "current deplorable actions are destroying our city" and calls on opposing factions in Benton Harbor "to peacefully mediate the differences." Herschel McKenzie, branch president, said: "We are impartial and not are not taking sides, but we can't condone this kind of thing. It's not good for the community."

Recent turmoil at city hall has produced dismissals of a city manager and city attorney, a recall drive against a majority of the city commission, and sensational charges of an assassination plot against Mayor Charles F. Joseph. The statement from the Twin City NAACP executive board:

"The Twin City Branch of the NAACP solicits the cooperation of the opposing factions within the City of Benton Harbor to peacefully mediate the differences for the well-being of the community. The current deplorable actions are destroying our city. The NAACP feels that there are outside manipulations that are influencing the actions that have taken place within the community."

Asked to elaborate on "outside manipulations" McKenzie said he couldn't be specific, but "we have reason to believe some people are glad to see this happen."

SJ Board Slates Public Meet On School Closing

The St. Joseph board of education Monday night received petitions from two separate groups asking that Jefferson elementary school be kept open and that high school seniors be exempted from final examinations.

Petitions reportedly signed by 691 residents opposed to the proposed closing of Jefferson school were presented to the board by W. Gale Cutler of 218 Crofton circle.

"We (Jefferson area residents) have the willingness to work any way we can to help keep the school open," Cutler said. "We're proud of the St. Joseph school system and particularly proud of our neighborhood schools."

The board then scheduled a meeting with Jefferson school area residents for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 16, at Jefferson school and board President Ray Dumke said "we resolve to work toward an agreement."

SUPT. Burton Aldrich said last month that the board was considering closing Jefferson school and Milton junior high school because of reduced enrollments and the need to cut spending in the district.

No action was taken on petitions reportedly signed by more than 400 high school students asking that final examination requirements be eliminated for seniors. The petitions were presented by Matt Reschke, a senior.

Reschke said this was the first year in the past five that final exams were required of seniors. He noted that the new requirement was written into the new master contract with teachers. Reschke listed some arguments:

High school students take many exams during the school year to help determine grades; seniors who plan to go to college know if they've been accepted before the final exam date; and for seniors this year, the final exams will be given the day before graduation exercises.

Aldrich said teachers wanted final exams, and the contract says, written final exams will be required by all students in session. Aldrich said the only way to change this is to re-negotiate this portion of the contract. Approval would be required by the board and St. Joseph Education association.

While the student issue was unresolved, senior citizens received a breakthrough an approved board policy revision:

"The board welcomes senior citizens at all school sponsored activities. Upon request to the superintendent's office, any resident of our school district who is 62 years of age or older shall be issued without charge an identification card. This card entitles the bearer to attend free of charge adult enrichment classes and any school sponsored activity for which a general admission charge is made. If reserve seats only are available at such activities, the card bearer is entitled to a 50 per cent reduction in price."

Dennis Percy, district business manager, said water damage to ceilings near the high school auditorium have been traced to a "sizeable roof separation." Percy estimated repair costs at $2,500.

The board authorized Percy to secure written quotations for repairs and award the project to the lowest reasonable bidder.

The board also approved budgeting $7,000 for the 1976-77 fiscal year for repairs to the swimming pool. Costs include an estimated $4,000 for replacement of pool filters and $3,000 to grout the pool and deck. The pool was constructed in 1939.

The board also:

— Approved seeking bids for a table model offset press for the graphic arts program, expected to cost about $2,500. A press now used was reported to save the district money that would otherwise be spent in outside printing jobs for the district.

— Designated the accounting firm of McMurray, Marks and Edmunds, St. Joseph, as school auditor for the current fiscal year.

— Approved issuance of one note to Peoples State bank St. Joseph, in the amount of $69,548 for seven years at an annual interest rate of 5 per cent, to finance four buses. The board authorized the buses as replacements last December. It was reported that the interest would be recovered from the state, along with 75 per cent of the vehicle costs.

The board accepted the resignation of Orchestra Director Fred Erbach, who has been with the district 24 years. Erbach plans to retire from teaching, the board reported. In accepting the resignation, the board voted its appreciation for Erbach's service to the district.

Richard Maxam, St. Joseph Education association president, reviewed a survey of teachers and administrators that showed the district to be ranked high in most areas, including instruction programs and materials and physical facilities. Weaknesses were recorded in areas of professional development and financial support.

Brown school Principal Doug Nichols showed a filmstrip on the recent colonial crafts day at the school, one of several Bicentennial projects sponsored by parents. The board also congratulated Upton junior high spelling contest participants for winning the Cloverleaf contest this year. Upton has won the event three of the past five years, it was reported.

OPPOSE FINAL EXAMS: Matt Reschke (standing), a senior at St. Joseph high school, Monday night presented the board of education with petitions asking that final examinations not be required of seniors. Workers Charge Firm's Paychecks Bounce

By NICK SMITH
Staff Writer

A summons charging failure to pay wages is being sought by the Berrien prosecutor's office against Monitor Sound Systems, Inc., a three-month-old Benton Harbor industry.

Within the past week 22 of the firm's employes filed complaints with the Michigan Department of Labor alleging that they either received no pay or were paid with insufficient funds' checks, according to Asst. Prosecutor Robert U. McDowell.

McDowell said the charges will likely lead to another investigation because Monitor Sound Systems pays its employes in part with federal funds. The company began production in January with workers trained under a Michigan Department of Labor grant using federal Comprehensive Employment Training Act funds.

A $25,000 loan also helped Monitor get started. The loan was through the United Community Development Corporation which uses federal funds from the City of Benton Harbor's Community Development grant to promote business and industrial growth.

McDowell authorized a summons yesterday and it was to go to a District court judge today for determination if a summons will be issued. He explained a summons is issued against a corporation and a warrant is issued against an individual.

The criminal charge sought (a misdemeanor) is against the corporation; not against its officers O.J. Patti, president, and Mrs. Ann Patti, vice president, he said.

If issued, the summons will be delivered to St. Joseph Atty. Robert B. Locke, the registered agent for the corporation, according to McDowell. McDowell does not know who owns the company, he added.

The summons lists three workers as complainants and four charges. Each charge deals with a check which was issued by Monitor Sound Systems and which "bounced," McDowell said.

Gertrude McKinley allegedly cashed checks for $99 and $93 Feb. 6 and 20 which bounced; Maxine Harris allegedly cashed an insufficient funds check for $106 Feb. 6; and a bad check was allegedly issued to Rick Granback for $60 on Feb. 20, according to McDowell.

Last week Jim Anderson, superintendent of the plant at 59 Wall street, said Monitor Sound had laid off some 45 workers because it had run out of parts. The company manufacturers security alarm systems.

FILE COMPLAINTS: Women identified as employes of Monitor Sound Systems, Inc., Benton Harbor, wait at a Berrien prosecutor's office after complaints were filed with Michigan Department of Labor that they either hadn't been paid or were paid with insufficient funds checks, according to Robert U. McDowell, chief assistant prosecutor. (Staff photo)

Penetrator Balloting Approved In St. Joe

St. Joseph residents will get a chance to cast an advisory vote on the controversial I-94 penetrator as city commissioners last night approved putting the issue on the ballot for the May 18 presidential primary election.

Commissioner William Gillespie, prior to the commission approval of the election, stressed that the election is strictly an advisory one and the commission is not bound to follow the outcome.

Concrete Opposition Unlimited which opposes construction of the penetrator was responsible for getting advisory elections in St. Joseph township as well as in the City of St. Joseph.

An advisory election on the penetrator will also be held May 18 in St. Joseph township. Concrete Opposition Unlimited presented petitions with over 1,000 signatures each to township and city officials asking that advisory elections be held. The penetrator is proposed to run across St. Joseph township to the St. Joseph city limits.

Wording on the advisory ballot will be as follows:

"Should the St. Joseph city commission adopt a resolution opposing the construction of another highway (the penetrator) from I-94 to the intersection of Hilltop road, Washington and Niles avenues to bring motor vehicles into and out of the City of St. Joseph?"

Before approving the wording the commission eliminate "at an undetermined cost?" as the last four words of the original ballot submitted by the Concrete Opposition Unlimited steering committee. The wording change was made on recommendation of Commissioner Warren Gast and Joseph Hanley.

Mrs. Joseph Hartwig and Dr. Emil Bolline, members of the Concrete Opposition Unlimited steering committee, were present at last night's meeting.

In other business last night the commission:

—Voted approval of a planning commission recommendation to grant a special use permit that would allow a lot at the corner of Pixley and Myrtle avenues to be converted into parking lot for Schneck's supermarket across the street.

—Extended condolences to Heppler whose father died Sunday. Heppler was not at last night's meeting.

Commissioner Lee Selent was also absent. Commissioner Hanley was present after being released Friday from St. Mary's hospital, Grand Rapids, where he was being treated for asthma. He missed last week's meeting.

Stitching Skill

MAKES OWN SLACKS: Stitching skill came easily to Tom Keats, right, who learned the trade to understand consumers' complaints about yard goods he bought for Montgomery Ward. Raymond Yules, left, technical designer for the company, points out pattern construction. Keats now makes many of his own slacks.

Men who sew do so for all sorts of reasons: to get a better fit, to save money or just for fun.

But Tom Keats began sewing in order to understand the complaints of his customers. He went on to develop his own custom-designed wardrobe of slacks.

As the sales manager and buyer for the yard goods division of Montgomery Ward, Tom was the target of consumer complaints from all the local stores. He said that they fussed about the polyester doubleknits, they complained because stitches skipped and sewing machines jammed, because threads broke and needles dulled.

What was worse, they blamed their woes on the company's fabrics, which Tom had selected.

To understand their problems Tom bought himself a modest portable zigzag sewing machine and took home some swatches of the troublesome fabric.

He quickly discovered that the customers were right — that the less expensive polyester doubleknits leave a fuzzy residue that will jam the machine. He advised his customers to clean their machines frequently, to use ballpoint needles and a compatible polyester thread, to test stitch for the correct tension setting. Complaints dropped off sharply. And Tom began to appreciate natural fibers such as wool, linen and cotton. "They can be mixed with a little polyester for better performance," he says, "but no more hundred per cent polyester for me!"

Having learned to handle fabrics, Tom went on to make slacks for himself. A designing friend showed him the value of a sloper — a corrected pattern traced off onto durable cardboard so it can be used many times and he began using mass production techniques on his slacks, cutting out a half-dozen at a time.

Tom's slacks have a lot of style. Among the fine points are a hidden back waistband pocket which he devised, side seam pockets, belt loops and no cuffs. He likes best to sew with fine wools.

Tom's attractive wife, Crystal, also works with Wards as a junior sportswear buyer. They are busy remodeling their brownstone in a gracious section of Brooklyn, New York, where they live with their daughter Christie, 13, and their sons Kent, 8, and Tom, 1. Crystal has solved the working-Mom problem by putting her mother-in-law on salary to care for the youngsters while she works.

Both Tom and Crystal are of a relatively rare species, native New Yorkers. They love the city, the excitement and the success it has brought them. Tom is no longer in the piece goods section — he has been promoted to manager of another division — but he still enjoys stitching up his slacks, in his spare time.

Reviews Changes In Home Sewing

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Home sewing isn't what it used to be.

In less than 12 years, new products and time-saving sewing techniques have been introduced to the home sewer, who also isn't what she used to be.

"The woman who sews today," says Belle Rivers, vice president, consumer affairs, for a leading sewing notions manufacturer, "is interested in sewing as a creative activity and an economic consideration. And as she strives to individualize her looks, she is willing to spend more money in fabrics and sewing notions."

Because of these trends, Mrs. Rivers feels more home sewers need to become conscientious consumerists. They must start evaluating products, fabrics and sewing techniques so they receive top value for their sewing dollar and time.

For example, sewing cotton pajamas for children as opposed to purchasing them may not be the wisest use of one's sewing dollars, she says. Always consider how much you really save by making the home sewn garment.

Mrs. Rivers was a consumer advocate in the home sewing industry long before "consumerism" became a public watchword. In the early '60s, she initiated a panel that has grown to 900 women who review the company's zipper and sewing notions products and test sewing techniques.

Before beginning a sewing project, Mrs. Rivers suggests, ask yourself these questions:

Is it a wise use of time? Decide if the time and effort you will put into the garment merit the end result. Realize you will probably spend as much time creating a $10 dress as you would a $50 one. Ask yourself which dress is more worth your time.

How much fabric do I need? Carefully check fabric information listed on the pattern. Be sure to save extra yardage, especially when sewing for children. That way, if hems or pants legs need to be lengthened, you can do it easily and professionally.

Which thread is the best buy? The label answers that question. Companies who put their name on a thread do so only after it has passed rigid quality control tests. Labels also tell you if the thread is compatible with your fabric. An all-polyester thread is the economical buy, because it can be used for practically every sewing need and on both natural and synthetic fabrics.

Will any zipper do? Never buy a zipper that is too short, just to save a dime. You will end up with a space where the zipper ends and material begins. Consider an all-polyester zipper that doesn't need to be preshrunk, no matter what fabric you apply it to. And remember, if the zipper and zipper tape are sewn out of sight, as with a lapped application, you don't have to match the zipper color with your fabric shade.

Will the finishing touches last? Appliques that accent children's clothing get a lot of wear and laundering. A good way to keep those patches on, no matter what, is to stitch them in place.

Do I want premium aids? Notions are priced in relation to their quality. If you are sewing a garment that has a one-occasion life span, it is not necessary to select premium aids (name brand threads, packaged zippers, etc.). But if you are creating an expensive dress or one that you will wear often, select the best aids for top performance and a professional touch.

Can I buy shortcuts? Select sewing aids that save time no matter what you are creating. For example, a stick and stitch basting tape eliminates time consuming pinning, pinholes in ultra-suede material and makes aligning stripes and plaids fast and easy.

Will the fabric dull aids? The new synthetic fabrics sport finishes that can dull shears and needles, slow down your sewing and hamper the product performance. Use the new ballpoint needles for both machine and hand sewing; and a lightweight shears that has high carbon, polished stainless steel bow-shaped blades and a peened screw instead of a rivet to ensure a full cut each time.

Am I ready to sew? Be cautious with your purchases. Wash your fabric before you start sewing to eliminate hidden shrinkage. If you feel you must pre-shrink a zipper, don't throw it into the washing machine; just hold it under a running tap of hot water for a minute.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Follow Advice Of Friend

Dear Ann Landers: I don't write well, but I have followed your column for a long time and I value your opinion.

I have gone with this great woman for 15 years. Marriage evaded us (for a long list of reasons which I won't go into here) but I have remained faithful and true.

I learned several weeks ago that I have a terminal illness and stopped seeing her on the grounds that I had "lost interest." She took it very well. Actually, I felt it was best to break off abruptly because she cannot cope with emergencies and I have learned from experience that she finds it very difficult to be around anyone who is ill.

My motives for terminating the relationship are as follows: (1) I want to spare her the agony of watching me die, one day at a time. (2) I'd like her to build another life with someone else and it will be easier if she isn't subjected to months of needless anxiety.

Only one person outside of my doctor knows of my physical condition. That person feels I was wrong to break off with the woman and not at least give her the choice. I have written a long letter (with full explanation) to be delivered to her after my death.

With whom do you agree, my friend or me? — Days Numbered

Dear Friend: I agree with your friend.

Tell Him

Dear Ann Landers: We have an office problem that has us stumped. I have been asked by six gals to write to you in the hope that you will print the letter. Please don't let us down.

ANN LANDERS

There's this colleague of ours who is a perfect gentleman in every way but he has a habit that is very upsetting. The washrooms are at the rear of our offices and his desk is down in front. Every time he heads for the washroom he walks down the middle aisle and when he gets about half way he begins to unzip his trousers. We are certain one of these days he will embarrass us all to death.

The gentleman is completely unaware of what he is doing. He is a dignified, quiet person and there is no way any of us could approach him on this subject. Perhaps if you printed our letter in the paper he would recognize himself. Thank you, friend. — Bewildered In Boston

Dear Bewildered: Don't count on the Brahmin recognizing himself. The chances are unlikely.

Since the gentleman is unapproachable I suggest you ask one of the less formidable men in the office to pass the word. I'm sure the problem would be solved at once — if only he knew.

Be Thankful

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a girl 16 who has two problems. My parents. Whenever I leave the house in the evening (usually I have a date) they insist on kissing me goodbye as if I was leaving for the salt mines in Siberia.

Last night my dad was upstairs and Mom shouted, "Come kiss Ruthie goodbye. She's leaving." All this in front of my date. I felt like a two-year-old. Any advice? — Smothered In Topeka

Dear S.: Yes. Quit complaining. If you could read some of the letters I receive from teenagers whose parents ignore them, you'd be thankful for your kissin' kin.

Is alcoholism ruining your life? Know the danger signals and what to do. Read the booklet, "Alcoholism — Hope and Help," by Ann Landers. Enclose 50 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

Dr. Lester Coleman

My husband had a heart attack two years ago. He is not an alcoholic, but he certainly drinks more than I think he should.

Can you tell me if alcohol is good for a person who has had a heart attack, or can it be dangerous?

Mrs. V. McN., Penn.

Dear Mrs. McN.:

For years, alcohol was considered to be beneficial in some types of heart disease. It was thought to be stimulating.

Today, experimental studies on animals have shown that this idea is not entirely valid.

It seems that definite changes in the heart have resulted from the overuse of alcohol.

A recent report in the Journal of the American Medical Association showed that "prolonged use of alcohol can produce cardio-myopathy (disorder or disease of the heart) with congestive heart failure."

In addition, there are other, highly technical, unfavorable reactions in the heart muscle.

The authors of this article advise physicians to be careful when allowing cardiac patients to ingest alcohol. Patients with evidence of severe myocardial (heart muscle) damage should never drink alcohol.

They say:

"Patients with coronary artery disease should limit their intake of alcohol to 1½ ounces of 90 proof whiskey a day.

"Physical activity should be limited for two hours after alcohol ingestion to permit metabolism to occur."

Each case should, of course, be individually evaluated by the doctor. Even with his permission, moderation is the essence of safety.

* * *

In the evening particularly, my eyes become very dry. It is hard to describe the feeling because there is no pain. Is there any help for this condition?

Mr. T.H., R.I.

Dear Mr. H.:

The first thing, of course, is to be examined by an eye specialist in order to rule out any basic underlying disease.

Drugs, allergy, low-grade infection and diminished secretion of tears must be checked for possible cause. If none is found, then treatment with artificial tears may be helpful. These new preparations were created to closely resemble normal tears in mineral content.

The condition of "dry eye" must be respected, for dry eyes seem to be more susceptible to infections and foreign bodies.

Normally, tears act as a protection.

DR. LESTER COLEMAN has prepared a special booklet entitled "Alcoholism — A Family Disease." It probes this grave problem and offers hopeful advice. For your copy, send 25 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lester L. Coleman, M.D., (Alcoholism booklet), P.O. Box 5178, Grand Central Station, New York City 10017. South bid four spades rather cheerfully although he didn't really expect to make it. He rather hoped that East or West would take the push to five hearts, but everyone passed and the defense started out with two hearts and two clubs before shifting to a diamond.

South was on lead and had to pick up the queen of spades in order to hold the penalty to a mere 100 points.

The game was duplicate and South noted that minus 100 would be worth some match points since some East-West pairs would have been allowed to pay at a heart partial and three hearts would be a surefire contract irrespective of the how the spades divided. South noted further that if spades were 3-1 the four heart contract would have wheeled in, so South banged down his top spades, picked up the queen and was one down.

Suppose supdes broke 3-1. Then South would have been minus 200, for down two, but East-West would have made their heart game, if allowed to play it.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY DINNER

Feature Irish Fare

With St. Patrick's Day just a short time off, many consumers and food retailers turn their thoughts to corned beef, cabbage and potatoes.

These three traditional favorites will all be specialed in the days ahead, says Maryann Beckman, Food Marketing Agent for southwestern Michigan.

Potato prices abroad have tripled recently because heavy rains last spring and a dry summer greatly diminished the European potato crop. But exports in the United States say our potato prices here will be affected very little, as a result, even though European countries are buying some of our potatoes.

At current prices, you can buy fresh potatoes from Michigan for about two cents a serving, Idaho baking potatoes at about four cents a serving, new potatoes for about five cents a serving and instant potatoes at a cost of two to five cents a serving, depending on brand and package size. So go ahead and include potatoes often and especially for the St. Patrick's Day feast of potatoes, corned beef and cabbage.

Among all fresh vegetables, cabbage is one of the most popular and right now, one of the most inexpensive. More than ample supplies are coming in from Texas and Florida and prices are very low; quality is reported to be excellent.

Cabbage is convenient to prepare, well liked by many people, adapts to many dishes, stores well, is a good source of vitamin C and is low in calories. No wonder it's so popular.

When buying cabbage, choose heads that are well trimmed, reasonably solid and heavy for their size. Avoid those that show discoloration or any signs of decay.

Cabbage is a highly stable and dependable source of vitamin C, thiamine, iron and roughage. Even after two months in modern farm storage, it retains three-fourths or more of its vitamin C. The outer green leaves and core are richest in this important vitamin. Small heads contain more vitamin C than larger heads, even though large heads are more desirable when using cabbage leaves for wrappers for cabbage rolls.

To get the most vitamin C from the cabbage you buy, refrigerate the head in a plastic bag, especially after its been cut into. A sharp knife for cutting, rather than a chopper, is preferred to retain more of this nutrient. Choppers bruise tissue. Once shredded, cover immediately and refrigerate cabbage. Use quickly, too.

Cooked cabbage will retain more nutrients if cooked properly. Small pieces that cook fast are best for vitamin C retention. Most cooks overcook cabbage, giving it a strong odor and a somewhat bitter taste. If you cook it until you can smell it, you've cooked it too long, according to the experts. Cabbage will taste better, too, when cooked quickly in a small amount of water.

One of the best things cabbage has going for it may be its low calorie count. With only 100 calories to the pound, it's a good choice for the dieter.

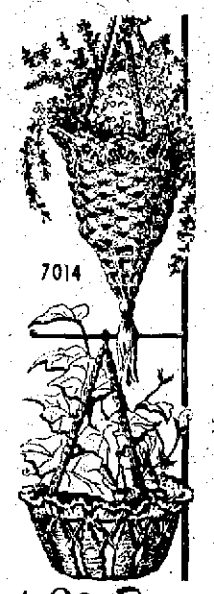

Corned beef; both the brined kind available at meat counters, and canned, will be featured this month. Prices are lower on many brands of canned so this may be your choice. Or choose from a variety of different styles and kinds from the meat counter.

Corned beef is usually made from the brisket, a less tender cut, or the beef round, which is more expensive. Both require long, slow cooking to make them really tender. The newer oven roasting styles are also available, which eliminates the long, slow simmering, but be aware they're most expensive, too.

Since all three products, corned beef, cabbage and potatoes, will likely be featured in coming weeks, serve them to celebrate St. Patrick's day or any other day. You can't go wrong when you compare costs, for all will give you very inexpensive meals.

At current prices, you can buy fresh potatoes from Michigan for about two cents a serving, Idaho baking potatoes at about four cents a serving, new potatoes for about five cents a serving and instant potatoes at a cost of two to five cents a serving, depending on brand and package size. So go ahead and include potatoes often and especially for the St. Patrick's Day feast of potatoes, corned beef and cabbage.

Among all fresh vegetables, cabbage is one of the most popular and right now, one of the most inexpensive. More than ample supplies are coming in from Texas and Florida and prices are very low; quality is reported to be excellent.

Cabbage is convenient to prepare, well liked by many people, adapts to many dishes, stores well, is a good source of vitamin C and is low in calories. No wonder it's so popular.

When buying cabbage, choose heads that are well trimmed, reasonably solid and heavy for their size. Avoid those that show discoloration or any signs of decay.

Cabbage is a highly stable and dependable source of vitamin C, thiamine, iron and roughage. Even after two months in modern farm storage, it retains three-fourths or more of its vitamin C. The outer green leaves and core are richest in this important vitamin. Small heads contain more vitamin C than larger heads, even though large heads are more desirable when using cabbage leaves for wrappers for cabbage rolls.

To get the most vitamin C from the cabbage you buy, refrigerate the head in a plastic bag, especially after its been cut into. A sharp knife for cutting, rather than a chopper, is preferred to retain more of this nutrient. Choppers bruise tissue. Once shredded, cover immediately and refrigerate cabbage. Use quickly, too.

Cooked cabbage will retain more nutrients if cooked properly. Small pieces that cook fast are best for vitamin C retention. Most cooks overcook cabbage, giving it a strong odor and a somewhat bitter taste. If you cook it until you can smell it, you've cooked it too long, according to the experts. Cabbage will taste better, too, when cooked quickly in a small amount of water.

One of the best things cabbage has going for it may be its low calorie count. With only 109 calories to the pound, it's a good choice for the dieter.

Corned beef, both the brined kind available at meat counters, and canned, will be featured this month. Prices are lower on many brands of canned so this may be your choice. Or choose from a variety of different styles and kinds from the meat counter.

Corned beef is usually made from the brisket, a less tender cut, or the beef round, which is more expensive. Both require long, slow cooking to make them really tender. The newer oven roasting styles are also available, which eliminates the long, slow simmering, but be aware they're most expensive, too.

Since all three products, corned beef, cabbage and potatoes, will likely be featured in coming weeks, serve them to celebrate St. Patrick's day or any other day. You can't go wrong when you compare costs, for all will give you very inexpensive meals.

Patty Is Called 'Queen' Of SLA

By TONY LEDWELL
Associated Press Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Dismissing portions of Patricia Hearst's defense as "unbelievable," a government psychiatric expert has portrayed her as the reigning monarch of a rag-tag army of revolutionaries she lifted to international fame.

"She was the queen" of the Symbionese Liberation Army, said Dr. Joel Fort. "She brought them international recognition, the excitement, the press attention.... She enjoyed the status and recognition this brought her."

Fort, a physician with psychiatric training, took issue on Monday with several key elements in Miss Hearst's own story of fear and sexual assault inflicted by her SLA captors.

The government is trying to prove to the jury that Miss Hearst took part willingly in a 1974 bank robbery. The defense claims, and Miss Hearst has testified, that she participated out of fear for her life.

U.S. Atty. James L. Browning Jr. spent most of the day eliciting Fort's picture of the 22-year-old newspaper heiress. Defense attorney F. Lee Bailey had just begun his cross-examination when court recessed for the day. He planned to resume his questioning today.

Fort, his opinions based on four jailhouse interviews with Miss Hearst as well as other material, declared that the defendant was "a voluntary member of the SLA" when she and four comrades robbed the Hibernia Bank on April 15, 1974.

"She did not perform the bank robbery because she was in fear of her life," Fort said over strenuous objections by Bailey. U.S. District Court Judge Oliver J. Carter allowed the answer to stand but instructed the jury that it was strictly Fort's opinion.

When Browning asked about Miss Hearst's contention that she shot up a sports store in the Los Angeles area to rescue two underground companions because of a "reflex" action drilled into her by the terrorists, Fort said, "I find it unbelievable."

An enraged Bailey jumped to his feet, but Carter overruled his objection, again cautioning the jury to treat the answer as one man's opinion.

Fort appeared to push Miss Hearst to the point of an angry outburst when he specifically contradicted her emotional tale of rape in a tiny closet where she was held captive in the weeks after her Feb. 4, 1974, kidnaping.

Deputies Must Be Retained

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne County cannot lay off 28 sheriff's deputies to save money, an arbitrator has ruled.

The ruling Monday means the county must find an estimated $838,240 that was to have been saved through the layoffs, said auditor Richard T. Kelly.

The deputies, who belong to Local 502, National Union of Police Officers, SEIU, AFLCIO, sought the ruling based on contract language prohibiting the county from reducing the number of deputies during the life of the pact.

PCB Ban Given Senate Approval

By MALCOLM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A bill virtually outlawing the manufacture, sale and use in Michigan of the toxic chemicals known as PCBs is one step away from final approval in the state legislature.

The bill won unanimous approval in the Senate Monday night, 32-0, and returned to the House for agreement in minor amendments. The House has already passed the bill, sponsored by Rep. David Bonior, D-Mount Clemens.

PCBs are a nearly indestructable compound and have resulted in the death and reproductive failure of many Michigan fish and fish-eating birds and animals. High concentrations of PCBs have been found in nearly all fish tested in the Great Lakes, according to state officials.

In addition, PCBs have been detected in rain and snowfalls, and are considered a probable cause of illness in humans as well as animals. Symptoms of PCB affliction may be tumors, lesions, baldness, liver disturbances and visual and reproductive problems.

The bill approved Monday night reduces over a three-year period the concentration of polychlorinated biphenyl (PCB) which could be contained in any item in Michigan. Beginning in July, no item could contain more than 250,000 parts per million, and that is reduced to 1,000 next January and to 100 in January 1978.

The director of the state Department of Natural Resources could order even lower maximum concentrations if he decides those set in the bill are not low enough to safeguard the public.

However, PCB or an item containing PCBs could be sold or used in the state if used in a closed system, such as a transformer or capacitor. Now, they are also used in a variety of industrial processes such as hydraulic and heat transfer fluids, insulation, adhesives, laminates, textile coverings and casting waxes.

When adequate substitutes become available for transformers and capacitors, the director of the DNR could phase out the exemptions permitting the use of PCBs there also.

Beginning next July, in addition, persons could not manufacture or sell an item containing more than 100 parts per million of PCBs unless they give notice to the DNR. The item would have to be labeled to disclose the presence and concentration of PCB.

Violation of the new law would be a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment for up to 30 days and a fine of up to $10,000 for each violation.

Animals affected by PCBs have included mink, northern pike, Lake Michigan salmon, the bald eagle and the Lake Ontario herring gull. The federal government has banned the commercial sale of any fish with a PCB content of more than five parts per million, and Canada has set a two ppm limit.

Bridgman Board Wants Building Ideas

BRIDGMAN — Bridgman school board last night instructed its architects, Daverman & Associates, Grand Rapids, to report back with recommendations for a new middle school based on criteria established by the school board.

The basic criteria calls for the building to contain 80,000 square feet for a capacity of 450 students, at a cost not to exceed $2.6 million.

A vote on a bonding issue for the proposed new middle school will held sometime between July and December, Dr. David Lechner, superintendent, has said that sale of the bonds would not result in any significant increase in the school district's millage rate, which is the lowest in the state.

Reed middle school students are currently housed in the old high school building, which school officials say has 38 deficiencies, including primary problems of deteriorating plumbing and heating facilities.

No definite site for the new school has been purchased yet, but the board has taken out an option on 34 acres of land on California road, one-half mile south of Lake street. The property is located on the northern portion of the estate of the Theodore Katzbach farm.

In other areas, the board approved putting fifth grade students on a permanent self-contained classroom basis and approved putting sixth grade students on a similar pilot program next school year. In the self-contained classroom, students learn all basic subjects from the same teacher in the same room, instead of moving from room-to-room for different subjects. Approval was given upon recommendation of Ted Tucker, middle school principal.

The board passed a resolution supporting a petition which is being circulated in the Bridgman area to have four-way stop signs installed at the intersection of Shawnee and Gast roads by the high school.

Mrs. Vickie Markovitch, elementary principal, reported the elementary reading tutor wagon (a motorized van) will begin operation later this month, to help students with reading problems. The program is financed under title-1 funds.

The board approved senior high band students attending a band camp this summer, probably the University of Michigan band camp. Cost of the camp will be paid by the students and band boosters club.

Washington Needs Religion: Graham

By JUDITH RUSKIN
Associated Press Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham isn't sorry he tried to put a little bit of the Lord into American politics.

Graham, a close friend of former President Richard Nixon, said the country "needs more Christianity in Washington. We need senators and congressmen who will stand up and say, 'I believe in Jesus Christ.'"

Graham sprinkled a goodly dose of politics into his religious themes Monday when he held a press conference in Detroit to promote his Southeastern Michigan Crusade Oct. 15-24 at the Pontiac Stadium.

The 57-year-old Graham said more love and Christian brotherhood are needed in the government. "If everyone had shown love," he said, "maybe we would not have had a Watergate."

As for his friendship with Nixon, the evangelist said, "He's still my friend and I'm still his friend. A religious leader does not desert a person because he is in trouble."

When asked if he considered Nixon a sinner, Graham replied, "I consider myself a sinner in need of the grace of God. All people are sinners."

Graham said he did not think Nixon would go back into politics. "I don't think he will ever have political aspirations again," Graham said. "I don't think the American people would expect him to."

Despite his close association with presidents and his desire to see more Christianity in politics, Graham said he would never run for the presidency himself.

"I do not have the qualifications to be president," he said, adding, "I already hold a higher position than the president. The lowliest minister who serves God has a higher position."

Graham, a Democrat, says this election year he is "staying a million miles away from politics." He said he believes he can be more influential in his role as evangelist and prophet.

Graham last held a crusade in Southeastern Michigan in 1952 at the State Fairgrounds in Detroit. Although his preaching is not quite as loud as it was then and there is more social comment, Graham said his message has not changed much in the last 24 years.

"A person is a sinner and needs to come back to Christ," he said. "A sinner needs to repent and come back to God."

Curbs Suggested On Utility Ads

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A special House committee has recommended that Michigan utilities be forbidden to advertise at the expense of their customers unless the ads benefit consumers.

The recommendation would put into law a policy which has already been generally established by the Public Service Commission.

The committee, which is studying the PSC and its role in regulating state utilities, noted that advertising and public relations expenses make up only a tiny fraction of utility costs.

But they also noted that there is considerable public skepticism over such advertising.

The committee, on a 6-0 vote Monday, recommended that a law be passed to ban the cost of advertising and public relations from the costs which are considered by the PSC in setting rates.

Excluded would be spending for the benefit of the consumer — such as information about inexpensive hours to make phone calls, dialing down thermostats to save money and so on.

But the committee's recommendation indicated the proposal was more for public appearance than a way to save the consumer any money.

"Although the dollar amounts expended for advertising by regulated utilities appear large, realistically as a percentage of any one company's annual expenses, such amounts are minimal," a committee report said.

"Advertising expenditures are so obvious to the public, while the need for such advertising is poorly established. Accordingly, such expenditures are commonly regarded as wasteful," the report said.

The combined advertising spending of Michigan's four major utilities totaled $5.5 million in 1974. Based on total revenue of $3.4 billion, advertising made up less than two-tenths of a per cent of revenue.

But because ads are so visible, and utility rates are going up continually, many customers feel they are paying for "image building" by utilities which, as monopolies, don't need to advertise, the committee recommendation said.

The Public Service Commission has already ruled that to consider ad costs in setting rates, the ads must be of benefit to the consumer and not image-building, sales-building or an effort to sway public opinion on utility issues.

Jobless Vietnam Vets

DETROIT (AP) — Some 18 per cent of all Vietnam-era veterans in Michigan were unemployed as of Jan. 1, according to Asst. U.S. Secretary of Labor William H. Kolberg. That represents 53,700 people, a figure Kolberg finds unsatisfactory. He said better placement programs, job training and education are needed, but added that the business slump has been a factor, too. Kolberg said 25 per cent of the veterans in the 20-24 age bracket are unemployed and that on the national basis, 106,000 — 20.7 per cent — of all jobless veterans are black. Some 502,000 Vietnam veterans are unemployed nationwide, Kolberg said.

Rate Rejection Angers Consumers

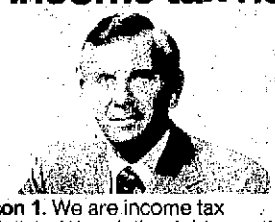

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Consumers Power Co. reacted angrily Monday to the state Public Service Commission's rejection of a $25.1 million gas rate increase request.

The Jackson-based utility called the PSC rejection "incredible," "inconceivable" and "politically motivated."

The three-member commission ruled the utility must prove its Marysville natural gas-producing plant cost $183 million to build before the PSC will grant the increase. The PSC said the cost was $93 million too high, based on information supplied by Consumers.

The PSC unanimously ordered that new hearings be held by June on Consumers' request for the rate increase. The decision means that — at least until June — rates for the company's 950,000 gas customers will not go up.

Bridgman Board Wants Building Ideas

BRIDGMAN — Bridgman school board last night instructed its architects, Daverman & Associates, Grand Rapids, to report back with recommendations for a new middle school based on criteria established by the school board.

The basic criteria calls for the building to contain 80,000 square feet for a capacity of 450 students, at a cost not to exceed $2.6 million.

A vote on a bonding issue for the proposed new middle school will held sometime between July and December, Dr. David Lechner, superintendent, has said that sale of the bonds would not result in any significant increase in the school district's millage rate, which is the lowest in the state.

Reed middle school students are currently housed in the old high school building, which school officials say has 38 deficiencies, including primary problems of deteriorating plumbing and heating facilities.

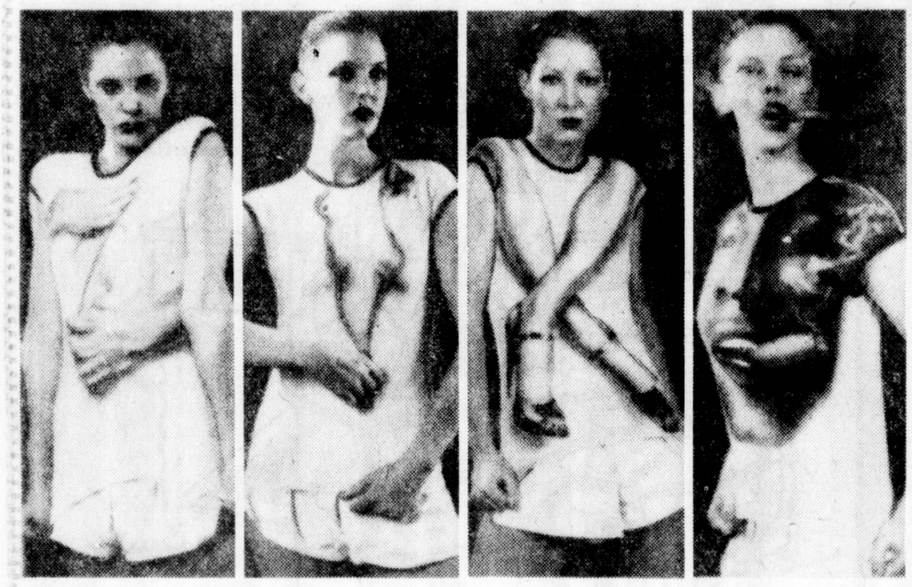

No definite site for the new school has been purchased yet, but the board has taken out an option on 34 acres of land on California road, one-half mile south of Lake street. The property is located on the northern portion of the estate of the Theodore Katzbach farm.

In other areas, the board approved putting fifth grade students on a permanent self-contained classroom basis and approved putting sixth grade students on a similar pilot program next school year. In the self-contained classroom, students learn all basic subjects from the same teacher in the same room, instead of moving from room-to-room for different subjects. Approval was given upon recommendation of Ted Tucker, middle school principal.

The board passed a resolution supporting a petition which is being circulated in the Bridgman area to have four-way stop signs installed at the intersection of Shawnee and Gast roads by the high school.

Mrs. Vickie Markavitch, elementary principal, reported the elementary reading tutor wagon (a motorized van) will begin operation later this month, to help students with reading problems. The program is financed under title-1 funds.

The board approved senior high band students attending a band camp this summer, probably the University of Michigan band camp. Cost of the camp will be paid by the students and band boosters club.

Washington Needs Religion: Graham

By JUDITH RUSKIN
Associated Press Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham isn't sorry he tried to put a little bit of the Lord into American politics.

Graham, a close friend of former President Richard Nixon, said the country "needs more Christianity in Washington. We need senators and congressmen who will stand up and say, 'I believe in Jesus Christ.'"

Graham sprinkled a goodly dose of politics into his religious themes Monday when he held a press conference in Detroit to promote his Southeastern Michigan Crusade Oct. 15-24 at the Pontiac Stadium.

The 57-year-old Graham said more love and Christian brotherhood are needed in the government. "If everyone had shown love," he said, "maybe we would not have had a Watergate."

As for his friendship with Nixon, the evangelist said, "He's still my friend and I'm still his friend. A religious leader does not desert a person because he is in trouble."

When asked if he considered Nixon a sinner, Graham replied, "I consider myself a sinner in need of the grace of God. All people are sinners."

Graham said he did not think Nixon would go back into politics. "I don't think he will ever have political aspirations again," Graham said. "I don't think the American people would expect him to."

Despite his close association with presidents and his desire to see more Christianity in politics, Graham said he would never run for the presidency himself.

"I do not have the qualifications to be president," he said, adding, "I already hold a higher position than the president. The lowliest minister who serves God has a higher position."

Graham, a Democrat, says this election year he is "staying a million miles away from politics." He said he believes he can be more influential in his role as evangelist and prophet.

Graham last held a crusade in Southeastern Michigan in 1952 at the State Fairgrounds in Detroit. Although his preaching is not quite as loud as it was then and there is more social comment, Graham said his message has not changed much in the last 24 years.

"A person is a sinner and needs to come back to Christ," he said. "A sinner needs to repent and come back to God."

FINALLY: It took some doing but Linda Ann Jackson, 11, of Rome, N.Y., proudly displays signature of California Gov. Jerry Brown who had been reluctant to give it but finally surrendered to Linda's repeated requests. It completes her Bicentennial project on 50 states. (AP Wirephoto)

Curbs Suggested On Utility Ads

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A special House committee has recommended that Michigan utilities be forbidden to advertise at the expense of their customers unless the ads benefit consumers.

The recommendation would put into law a policy which has already been generally established by the Public Service Commission.

The committee, which is studying the PSC and its role in regulating state utilities, noted that advertising and public relations expenses make up only a tiny fraction of utility costs. But they also noted that there is considerable public skepticism over such advertising.

The committee, on a 6-0 vote Monday, recommended that a law be passed to ban the cost of advertising and public relations from the costs which are considered by the PSC in setting rates.

Excluded would be spending for the benefit of the consumer — such as information about inexpensive hours to make phone calls, dialing down thermostats to save money and so on.

But the committee's recommendation indicated the proposal was more for public appearance than a way to save the consumer any money.

"Although the dollar amounts expended for advertising by regulated utilities appear large, realistically as a percentage of any one company's annual expenses, such amounts are minimal," a committee report said.

"Advertising expenditures are so obvious to the public, while the need for such advertising is poorly established. Accordingly, such expenditures are commonly regarded as wasteful," the report said.

The combined advertising spending of Michigan's four major utilities totaled $5.5 million in 1974. Based on total revenue of $3.4 billion, advertising made up less than two-tenths of a per cent of revenue.

But because ads are so visible, and utility rates are going up continually, many customers feel they are paying for "image building" by utilities which, as monopolies, don't need to advertise, the committee recommendation said.

The Public Service Commission has already ruled that to consider ad costs in setting rates, the ads must be of benefit to the consumer and not image-building, sales-building or an effort to sway public opinion on utility issues.

Power's Still Out At 62,200 Sites

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Crews were busy Monday restoring power to 42,600 Michigan homes and businesses but another 62,200 were still powerless in the wake of last week's ice storms.

In Oakland County, 11,700 homes were still without power late Monday. Detroit Edison Co. officials said it would be tonight before repairs were made.

Edison said it expected power to be returned early today to most of the 8,000 homes in Detroit and the Grosse Pointes that were dark for the seventh day Monday.

Consumers Power Co. of Jackson said that some 28,000 of its customers remained without power Monday. Officials said most would be restored by midweek, except in rural areas southwest of Saginaw where repairs will take until the weekend.

Edison has about 14,500 customers in the Thumb area southeast of Saginaw and many were not expected to be back in service until early next week.

In the Thumb area, companies must replace wooden poles that went down in the storms as well as string new electrical wire.

A Detroit Edison "wire watch" team was stationed in Grosse Pointe Woods Monday.

The team, Gail McKinney, 24, and Arnold Smedes, 35, were in their 24th straight hour of duty guarding a live wire down on the street. The two Edison employes volunteered to work on the company's storm disaster staff.

Their job Sunday and Monday was to sit in a parked car and watch so no people or animals got near the live wire, which could kill on contact.

"There wasn't much to do but we have to keep alert," Miss McKinney said. The wire was repaired after a total "wire watch" of 44 hours.

By noon Monday, Michigan Bell Telephone Co. had restored phone service to all but about 17,500 customers whose phones were knocked out. Most were in the Detroit area or near Saginaw.

Tuscola County officials said Monday that three children were seriously burned Sunday night when one of them dropped a kerosene lamp they were using for light because their home's power was out.

The children — 2-year-old Barbara Kowalski, her 18-month-old sister, Michelle, and their 16-month-old cousin, Victor Wallos — were taken to Marlett Community Hospital in Kingston. The home burned to the ground.

Many Florida Voters Will Stay At Home

A second major matchup between President Ford and challenger Ronald Reagan was the focus of today's presidential primary in Florida, while three of the leading Democratic candidates hoped to strengthen their position for their party's nomination.

Only a smattering of last minute campaigning — and perhaps some rain — was expected today as Florida officials predicted less than half of the state's 3.4 million eligible voters would bother to go to the polls.

At least four of the six candidates who actively sought support in Florida were elsewhere — or headed out of the state — as the polls opened. They were concentrating on other upcoming primaries.

The weatherman forecast rain all day in the state's north and at least part of it in the south.

The Republican balloting was seen as an important test of Reagan's challenge to Ford.

And though 11 Democrats were on the other side of the ballot, only four went after votes. The primary featured the first-Deep South primary test for Alabama Gov. George Wallace and Jimmy Carter, the former Georgia governor who won the New Hampshire primary.

Washington Sen. Henry Jackson, fresh from victory in Massachusetts, could spoil the Wallace-Carter matchup. Pennsylvania Gov. Milton Shapp was not expected to be a major factor in the race.

"It looks good," said Rogers C.B. Morton, Ford's chief political adviser. "In fact, it looks so good that I'm afraid to predict."

Lou Frey, Ford's campaign chief in the state, said the President would carry the state, though narrowly. "If you get 50 per cent plus one, you're a winner," he said. "If you don't, you're a loser."

Reagan predicted a close race, discounting talk that a loss to Ford would severely damage his effort. But whatever happens, he said, "there won't be any folding of my tent and slipping away."

"I'm in this all the way to (the Republican national convention in) Kansas City," Reagan told about 1,000 supporters in Champaign, Ill., as he began a five-day campaign swing through the state.

Ford beat Reagan in New Hampshire with less than half the vote, carried Massachusetts where neither candidate campaigned and won Vermont where Reagan was not on the ballot.

Both Wallace and Carter predicted triumph in the Democratic race.

Detroit Couple Live, Die Together

DETROIT (AP) — Albert and Erna Hafer died Sunday — together, as they had lived.

The body of Mrs. Hafer, 80, was found in her bed with a pillow over her face. The coroner said she had been smothered.

Her 79-year-old husband's body was found in the bathtub of their East Side home. The tub was three-quarters full of water and contained a radio, plugged into a wall socket. The coroner said Hafer had been electrocuted.

Police are calling the deaths a murder-suicide.

Hafer left a note on the kitchen table with instructions about who should be notified at their bank and church.

"The note showed planning. Preparations had been made," said Lt. Robert Hislop of the Detroit police department's homicide division.

The two, married 56 years, had held hands every week as they walked to church.

Authorities theorize that Hafer chose death for them both rather than have them face years of illness.

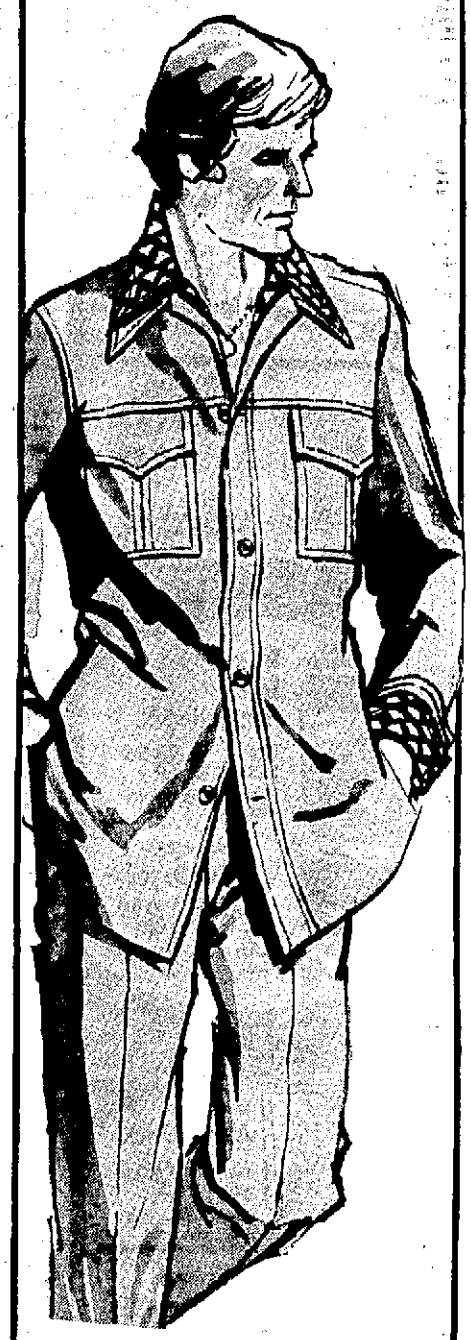

Their bodies were discovered by a friend Sunday afternoon after the Hafers did not attend morning church services.

MINSTER, Ohio (AP) — "I came into work today, but I just can't seem to get anything done," said Roger Borneman, a merchant. "I've got a daughter home crying her heart out. I lost a paperboy, and another dead boy's father rents my store. The kid used to sweep up for us."

This town near the Indiana border has 2,500 residents. Eight of them, teen-agers, died in a roadside accident Sunday night.

"We take it personally here," said Cletus Coverman, a farmer. "We all knew every one of those kids."

The accident happened when a caravan of cars filled with 39 teen-agers celebrating a high school basketball victory stopped at an intersection outside town. A car plowed into them as they stood beside their cars. In addition to the eight dead, three were hurt.

On Monday, at least 600 persons overflowed the pews of St. Augustine Roman Catholic Church. Its twin, gold-capped spires dwarf everything except the grain elevators here, and all eight dead were members of the parish. The caravan had left from its parking lot.

As sobs echoed in the church, the Rev. Joseph Pax said, "We ask a special blessing for those here most closely touched by the tragedy, those left behind."

Meanwhile, four funeral masses were planned for Thursday. The main thoroughfare was hushed, almost deserted. Flags at the high school, post office and fire station flew at half staff.

At the intersection, law officers rubbed elbows with gawkers. The pavement was stained a reddish brown. Bits of twisted sheet metal, a hub cap and a door handle lay in roadside ditches.

In nearby fields, bottles of wine and beer were found, many still full. Authorities said they did not know where they were from or if anyone had been drinking.

The victims were on their way to the neighboring town of Maria Stein, the highway patrol said.

"We beat Maria Stein in the basketball playoffs the night before, and we wanted to go through town in sort of a procession," said senior Jim Sexauer. He said some of the youths stepped out of their cars at the intersection to organize the group.

At 8:10 p.m., the highway patrol said, a car driven by John Kremer, 21, of Maria Stein, came over the hill from the opposite direction, sideswiped the first car in the caravan and ripped through a group of students. It continued down the road to a farmhouse.

No charges were filed pending an investigation, the patrol said.

"I was standing between two open doors, and the car hit Scott (Westerheide) and sent him flying," Sexauer said. "He was only five feet away."

One teen-ager told of Fred Sommer's dash from farmhouse to farmhouse so he could telephone for help. But it came too late to save his younger brother, Ken, 15. Others told of youths making pillows of their coats for dying friends, covering the injured with blankets and administering mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

"It's kind of hard when you see your best friends die," said Jim Quinlan, 15.

Cyclist Sticks Up Bank

WALDRON, Mich. (AP) — A motorcycle-riding gunman held up the Waldron branch of the Hudson State Savings Bank shortly before noon Monday and fled with about $25,200, police said.

James G. Baker, an executive from the bank's home office, said the gunman robbed four tellers.

There were two customers in the bank at the time, he said. No one was hurt, although the bandit pulled back the hammer on his gun, Baker said.

"They were scared stiff," Baker said of the customers. He said the bandit put the money, all bills, in an army-type satchel.

Police said they believed the bandit, who they said used a .22-caliber, long-barreled revolver, had a dark beard, long hair possibly pulled back in a ponytail, and was wearing glasses.

Patriotism Gives Him Tax Break

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The assessed value of a Sun City home has been cut by nearly $14,000 after the owner complained of living next door to "a Bicentennial celebration."

James A. White claimed his $44,000 house had lost value because of the actions of his next door neighbor, Lewis Singer.

White said the Singer family, among other things, has:

—Adorned the roof of its home with 13 poles, eight to 16 feet high and painted red, white and blue. Some have flags.

—Erected a 70-foot tower on the front lawn, also painted red, white and blue.

—Painted an American flag, eight by 16 feet, on the roof.

—Painted a front-yard palm tree red, white and blue and strung flags from it to the front of the home.

—Placed a cattle trough in the front yard, painted it red, white and blue and installed a fountain, with water splashing 20 feet in the air.

—Lighted the home, yard, trees, roof and towers at night with "thousands of lights."

—Played music through outdoor loudspeakers for long periods and late at night.

In addition to the patriotism, White said Singer left garbage and trash stacked in his front yard for weeks.

White said the display attracts many sightseers and that real estate agents have told him they could not sell his home for $20,000 despite its apparent worth of twice that amount.

"So if we can't get any relief from the county on getting rid of the garbage dump next door, it seems the least you could do is reduce our taxes," said White.

The Maricopa County Board of Supervisors reduced the assessment on White's home from $43,870 to $30,000 and instructed the assessor to determine whether Singer's other neighbors should get similar reductions.

Judge Byrns Stays State Reversal Of Sodus Transfer

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

On paper at least, Berrien Circuit court says the Sodus transfer area is in the Eau Claire school district.

But the Federal District court says it's in the Benton Harbor school district.

Although state and federal courts can't technically agree to what school district the area belongs, children in the transfer area still attend Benton Harbor schools, and residents pay their taxes to the Benton Harbor system.

Berrien Circuit Judge Chester J. Byrns Monday issued a temporary restraining order against the State Board of Education, staying the effectiveness of a State Board ruling that reversed a previous transfer of Sodus township property from the Benton Harbor to the Eau Claire school district.

The order, as far as the state court is concerned, returns the Sodus area to the status quo it had before the state board held a re-hearing and denied the transfer, according to Byrns, which on paper puts the area in the Eau Claire district.

For practical matters, Sodus still remains in the Benton Harbor district as Byrns noted the federal court has greater jurisdiction, and that an earlier federal order prevented Sodus from transferring while a desegregation suit is in progress against Benton Harbor.

The final decision at the state level won't be made until Byrns rules on whether the state board actually had jurisdiction to hold the re-hearing and reverse its prior decision, which granted the transfer.

"I promise this court will move on this and (the case) should be completed in the next several months," Byrns said as about 40 members of the Concerned Parents and Taxpayers of Sodus listened in the audience.

The judge said he granted the restraining order with the provision that the 247 Sodus petitioners who took the case to court "use diligence in concluding the case." He also told Assistant Atty. General George McCarger, representing the state board at the hearing, to move to dismiss the case "if it is not pursued with diligence."

The state board in 1974 approved the transfer of three former Sodus area districts from Benton Harbor to Eau Claire, but a federal court order has not permitted that transfer to actually take place.

In January of this year the state board reversed its 1974 decision and ruled that the Sodus area should remain in the Benton Harbor district, noting the reversal came because a desegregation suit was pending against the Benton Harbor district when the transfer was originally approved.

"The federal court has greater jurisdiction than I have on this matter," Byrns told a reporter for The Herald-Palladium, which is why children from the transfer area still attend Benton Harbor schools.

"But if only state law was involved, the area would be in the Eau Claire district," he emphasized.

But as McCarger noted in his argument, Byrns ruling "won't affect the status of the Sodus area" until the federal court makes its ruling.

"This is an extremely complicated and complex case," Byrns stated, and noted "an uncertainty exists in the local education system.

"Who has the last word," he questioned, "the federal courts, the state courts, or the board of education?" The school district (transfer area) has bounced back and forth and the children and people of the area are in a state of uncertainty," he declared.

He noted the petitioners from the Sodus area might have their rights prejudiced in seeking an expeditious hearing if the restraining order wasn't granted, and said the action was "to preserve and protect the rights" of the petitioners.

The judge explained the case is one to test the jurisdiction of the state board in holding the re-hearing and "I can't see how the state board would be hurt by a temporary restraining order."

The suit filed by the Sodus residents contends the state board's reconsideration came long after a 60-day appeal period had expired following the initial transfer decision on July 3, 1974. The suit also claims the State Administrative Procedures act does not allow a reconsideration of an administrative decision beyond the appeal period provided in the act.

The petition by the Sodus residents claims the reversal by the state board is in excess of the board's authority and in violation of Michigan statutes; prejudiced the petitioners because the state board did not adopt any procedures for a rehearing; was not in accordance with evidence on the record; and was illegal because the board "has no power to rescind its prior order when (certain laws) made the board's order final."

The desegregation suit the board cited in reversing its first decision is one which has been in progress against the Benton Harbor district since 1967.

The Sodus transfer was held in abeyance by a temporary injunction issued in August, 1974, by Judge Noel Fox in Federal District court, Grand Rapids. Fox suspended the transfer to maintain the Sodus area's status in the Benton Harbor district until the desegregation suit was decided.

Also Monday, Atty. Robert Small before the start of the hearing told the court 10 people named as defendants in the suit brought by Concerned Parents and Taxpayers of Sodus didn't intend to contest it.

Small said the 10 did not have any part in the reconsideration and reversal of the transfer by the state board of education. Small said the 10 are Bene Fox, Jane Cuthbert, John and Doris Handy, Vance and Lillian Ferguson, Paul and Virginia Ohmann, Bernadine Johns and Margaret Prillwitz.

Two others named defendants, Otis and Julia Joseph, gave no indication they would not contest the suit.

These people had appealed the Berrien Intermediate board's 1974 approval of the transfer to the state board, which at that time upheld the intermediate board.

Decatur Approves Review Of Housing

DECATUR — The Decatur village council last night gave its approval to plans that call for a census-type review of housing conditions in the village.

The study is being funded by an $83,000 U.S. Department of Housing and Urban development grant approved for the village in December.

The housing census will spotlight substandard housing and the federal grant is to provide money for demolition or grants or loans to low-income families to make housing repairs.

The census is to be conducted by the village's consulting firm headed by Les Cripps of Berrien Springs.

The village has also applied for, but not yet received federal approval of, a $300,000 community development grant for 1976, Cripps said.

In other areas, the council voted to advertise for bids from firms to cut down dead or dying trees in the village; accepted the $6,342 low bid of Dwane Knuth of Berrien Springs for construction of sewer lines on Gregary Terrace; and voted to contribute $176 to Task Force Transportation, a federally-funded transportation system that will provide rides to and from shopping areas two days each week for senior citizens in the Decatur area.

Decatur Rejects Hopkins SAC Bid

DECATUR — The Decatur school board last night voted to deny a request from Hopkins high school to join the Southwestern Athletic Conference (SAC).

Decatur was the second school board in the conference to deny the request from Hopkins, thus eliminating the idea, according to Harold Groendyk, Decatur high school principal. He said the Marcellus school board also denied the request and it only takes two refusals to defeat such a request.

Other members of the conference besides Decatur and Marcellus are Lawton, Lawrence, Bloomingdale, Gobles, and Martin. The majority of Decatur school board members felt Hopkins is too far away (over 100 miles round trip) from Decatur. Hopkins is located in north central Allegan county.

In other areas, the board gave final approval for trips by the high school agriculture and biology classes. The agricultural class will go to Lansing, March 23, and the biology class to Cape Hatteras, N.C., April 9-14.

Richard Johnson, elementary school principal, said kindergarten registration for next fall's incoming students will be Thursday and Friday, May 6-7, at the elementary school on Phelps street. Nurses from the county health department will be present to check health records and two teachers will administer school readiness tests.

Upon recommendation of Supt. Wayne Hellenga, the board approved participation in the title-1, co-op program, in which Decatur would receive the services of three reading specialists whose salaries are paid by the Van Buren intermediate school district.

The board denied a request from Manual Robinson, high school student council president, that a student council member be allowed to sit on the school board without voting rights. The board assured Robinson that all board meetings are open to the public.

Home Repair Plan Ending

DETROIT (AP) — A federal program that may allow free home repairs for hundreds of Michigan homeowners is scheduled to end March 22, officials say. That is the deadline for filing applications for the program, which authorizes the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development to correct or pay for correcting structural and other defects under certain conditions. The conditions are: The mortgage was insured after Aug. 1, 1968, and before Jan. 1, 1973. The house is located in an older, declining urban area. The defect existed when the mortgage was insured. The house was at least a year old when purchased. The defects created a safety hazard or were such that a proper home inspection would have disclosed them.

BICENTENNIAL FACTS

FT. GRANBY, S.C. was defended by Tories under Andrew Maxwell when on the night of May 14, 1781, "Light-Horse Harry" Lee moved a six-pounder gun within 600 yards of the fort. The next morning, Lee fired the cannon and his infantry moved in. Maxwell, not noted for courage or military skill, agreed to surrender if he and his men could keep their plunder and withdraw to Charleston as prisoners of war. Lee, aware of approaching British reinforcements, agreed. Without the loss of a man, The World Almanac recalls, the rebels gained possession of an important post along with a considerable supply of ammunition.

Judge Byrns Stays State Reversal Of Sodus Transfer

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

On paper at least, Berrien Circuit court says the Sodus transfer area is in the Eau Claire school district.

But the Federal District court says it's in the Benton Harbor school district.

Although state and federal courts can't technically agree to what school district the area belongs, children in the transfer area still attend Benton Harbor schools, and residents pay their taxes to the Benton Harbor system.

Berrien Circuit Judge Chester J. Byrns Monday issued a temporary restraining order against the State Board of Education, staying the effectiveness of a State Board ruling that reversed a previous transfer of Sodus township property from the Benton Harbor to the Eau Claire school district.

The order, as far as the state court is concerned, returns the Sodus area to the status quo it had before the state board held a re-hearing and denied the transfer, according to Byrns, which on paper puts the area in the Eau Claire district.

For practical matters, Sodus still remains in the Benton Harbor district as Byrns noted the federal court has greater jurisdiction, and that an earlier federal order prevented Sodus from transferring while a desegregation suit is in progress against Benton Harbor.

The final decision at the state level won't be made until Byrns rules on whether the state board actually had jurisdiction to hold the re-hearing and reverse its prior decision, which granted the transfer.

"I promise this court will move on this and (the case) should be completed in the next several months," Byrns said as about 40 members of the Concerned Parents and Taxpayers of Sodus listened in the audience.

The judge said he granted the restraining order with the provision that the 247 Sodus petitioners who took the case to court "use diligence in concluding the case." He also told Assistant Atty. General George McCarger, representing the state board at the hearing, to move to dismiss the case "if it is not pursued with diligence."

The state board in 1974 approved the transfer of three former Sodus area districts from Benton Harbor to Eau Claire, but a federal court order has not permitted that transfer to actually take place.

In January of this year the state board reversed its 1974 decision and ruled that the Sodus area should remain in the Benton Harbor district, noting the reversal came because a desegregation suit was pending against the Benton Harbor district when the transfer was originally approved.

"The federal court has greater jurisdiction than I have on this matter," Byrns told a reporter for The Herald-Palladium, which is why children from the transfer area still attend Benton Harbor schools.

"But if only state law was involved, the area would be in the Eau Claire district," he emphasized.

But as McCarger noted in his argument, Byrns ruling "won't affect the status of the Sodus area" until the federal court makes its ruling.

"This is an extremely complicated and complex case," Byrns stated, and noted "an uncertainty exists in the local education system.

"Who has the last word," he questioned, "the federal courts, the state courts, or the board of education?" The school district (transfer area) has bounced back and forth and the children and people of the area are in a state of uncertainty," he declared.

He noted the petitioners from the Sodus area might have their rights prejudiced in seeking an expeditious hearing if the restraining order wasn't granted, and said the action was "to preserve and protect the rights" of the petitioners.

The judge explained the case is one to test the jurisdiction of the state board in holding the re-hearing and "I can't see how the state board would be hurt by a temporary restraining order."

The suit filed by the Sodus residents contends the state board's reconsideration came long after a 60-day appeal period had expired following the initial transfer decision on July 3, 1974. The suit also claims the State Administrative Procedures act does not allow a reconsideration of an administrative decision beyond the appeal period provided in the act.

The petition by the Sodus residents claims the reversal by the state board is in excess of the board's authority and in violation of Michigan statutes; prejudiced the petitioners because the state board did not adopt any procedures for a rehearing; was not in accordance with evidence on the record; and was illegal because the board "has no power to rescind its prior order when (certain laws) made the board's order final."

The desegregation suit the board cited in reversing its first decision is one which has been in progress against the Benton Harbor district since 1967.

The Sodus transfer was held in abeyance by a temporary injunction issued in August, 1974, by Judge Noel Fox in Federal District court, Grand Rapids. Fox suspended the transfer to maintain the Sodus area's status in the Benton Harbor district until the desegregation suit was decided.

Also Monday, Atty. Robert Small before the start of the hearing told the court 10 people named as defendants in the suit brought by Concerned Parents and Taxpayers of Sodus didn't intend to contest it.

Small said the 10 did not have any part in the reconsideration and reversal of the transfer by the state board of education. Small said the 10 are Ilene Fox, Jane Cuthbert, John and Doris Handy, Vance and Lillian Ferguson, Paul and Virginia Ohmann, Bernadine Johns and Margaret Prillwitz.

Two others named defendants, Otis and Julia Joseph, gave no indication they would not contest the suit.

These people had appealed the Berrien Intermediate board's 1974 approval of the transfer to the state board which at that time upheld the intermediate board.

Decatur Approves Review Of Housing

DECATUR — The Decatur village council last night gave its approval to plans that call for a census-type review of housing conditions in the village.

The study is being funded by an $83,000 U.S. Department of Housing and Urban development grant approved for the village in December.

The housing census will spotlight substandard housing and the federal grant is to provide money for demolition or grants or loans to low-income families to make housing repairs.

The census is to be conducted by the village's consulting firm headed by Les Cripps of Berrien Springs.

The village has also applied for, but not yet received federal approval of, a $300,000 community development grant for 1976, Cripps said.

In other areas, the council voted to advertise for bids from firms to cut down dead or dying trees in the village; accepted the $6,342 low bid of Dwane Knuth of Berrien Springs for construction of sewer lines on Gregary Terrace; and voted to contribute $176 to Task Force Transportation, a federally-funded transportation system that will provide rides to and from shopping areas two days each week for senior citizens in the Decatur area.

Decatur Rejects Hopkins SAC Bid

DECATUR — The Decatur school board last night voted to deny a request from Hopkins high school to join the Southwestern Athletic Conference (SAC).

Decatur was the second school board in the conference to deny the request from Hopkins, thus eliminating the idea, according to Harold Groendyk, Decatur high school principal. He said the Marcellus school board also denied the request and it only takes two refusals to defeat such a request.

Other members of the conference besides Decatur and Marcellus are Lawton, Lawrence, Bloomingdale, Gobles, and Martin. The majority of Decatur school board members felt Hopkins is too far away (over 100 miles round trip) from Decatur. Hopkins is located in north central Allegan county.

In other areas, the board gave final approval for trips by the high school agriculture and biology classes. The agricultural class will go to Lansing, March 23, and the biology class to Cape Hatteras, N.C., April 9-14.

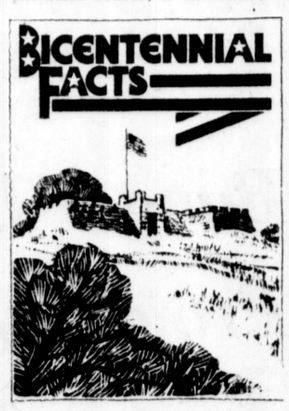

Richard Johnson, elementary school principal, said kindergarten registration for next fall's incoming students will be Thursday and Friday, May 6-7, at the elementary school on Phelps street. Nurses from the county health department will be present to check health records and two teachers will administer school readiness tests.

Upon recommendation of Supt. Wayne Hellenga, the board approved participation in the title-1, co-op program, in which Decatur would receive the services of three reading specialists whose salaries are paid by the Van Buren intermediate school district.

The board denied a request from Manual Robinson, high school student council president, that a student council member be allowed to sit on the school board without voting rights. The board assured Robinson that all board meetings are open to the public.

Home Repair Plan Ending

DETROIT (AP) — A federal program that may allow free home repairs for hundreds of Michigan homeowners is scheduled to end March 22, officials say. That is the deadline for filing applications for the program, which authorizes the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development to correct or pay for correcting structural and other defects under certain conditions. The conditions are: The mortgage was insured after Aug. 1, 1968, and before Jan. 1, 1973. The House is located in an older, declining urban area. The defect existed when the mortgage was insured. The house was at least a year old when purchased. The defects created a safety hazard or were such that a proper home inspection would have disclosed them.

FT. GRANBY, S.C. was defended by Tories under Andrew Maxwell when on the night of May 14, 1781, "Light-Horse Harry" Lee moved a six-pounder gun within 600 yards of the fort. The next morning, Lee fired the cannon and his infantry moved in. Maxwell, not noted for courage or military skill, agreed to surrender if he and his men could keep their plunder and withdraw to Charleston as prisoners of war. Lee, aware of approaching British reinforcements, agreed. Without the loss of a man, The World Almanac recalls, the rebels gained possession of an important post along with a considerable supply of ammunition.

Eau Claire Asks Budget Cut Plan

EAU CLAIRE — The Eau Claire school board last night instructed Dr. William Schaefer, schools superintendent, to draft a proposal outlining personnel and program cuts for the 1976-77 school year involving $80,000 to $100,000.

Dr. Schaefer said the board would hold a special meeting March 22 to take final actinn on the budget-trimming proposal. The board will also consider asking for an increase to the present 25-mill levy at the meeting.

In the meantime, Dr. Schaefer said he would meet with the Eau Claire Education association to draw up recommended staff reductions. As of now, it was too early for him to know how many employes stand to lose their jobs, he said.

Estimates based on this year's programs and revenues showed the district would incur a deficit of $80,000 to $100,000 in the 1976-77 school year if no cuts are made. He said the board is aiming at a budget for next year at nearly the same level as this year's $1.6 million budget.

Dr. Schaefer noted that the district is projecting an enrollment next year of about 1,340 students, 27 less than this year. He said the pupil-teacher ratio this year is 19.5 to one.

He said the last millage increase was in 1969, and the district enrollment has increased over 30 per cent since then.

In other areas, the board instructed Dr. Schaefer to arrange a board meeting with the engineering firm of Wightman and Associates, St. Joseph, to plan the construction of a bus garage near the high school.

When completed, the garage will handle maintenance for the district's 18 buses which are presently serviced by a private garage in Eau Claire. It is expected the garage will result in reduced maintenance costs, Dr. Schaefer said.

The garage is to be paid for from funds left over from the 1971 high school bond issue, he said. Those funds can only be used for construction on the high school property.

The board extended contracts through June, 1978, for Jerry Greenhaw, middle school principal, and Charles Volin, Lybrook elementary principal. Salaries will be negotiated at a later date, Dr. Schaefer said.

A two-year contract through June, 1978, was awarded to John Laskarides, high school principal, and that salary will be negotiated later.

State Department Official Hunted In Deaths Of 5

COLUMBIA, N.C. (AP) — A U.S. State Department official is being sought by police for questioning in the bludgeon deaths of five members of his family, whose burning bodies were found in a swampy grave near this eastern North Carolina village. The victims were identified Monday as the family of Bradford Bishop Jr., 39, assistant chief of the special trade activities office of the State Department's economic and business section.

North Carolina Atty. Gen. Rufus Edmisten said Bishop, who had not reported to his office for a week, "is being sought for questioning," although Edmisten added that Bishop could be "lying dead somewhere."

Police in Montgomery County, Md., where the family lived, have listed Bishop as a missing person, pending further investigation.

The burning bodies of Bishop's mother, wife and three children were discovered a week ago, piled in an open, gasoline-soaked pit nearly 300 miles from their home in the Washington, D.C., suburbs. The bodies were found by a state forest ranger investigating a three-acre brush fire that had spread from the burning grave.

BRADFORD BISHOP
Family found burning

Identity of the victims was a mystery until Montgomery County police were told Monday by a neighbor of the Bishops that the family had not been seen for days.

North Carolina authorities already had been focusing their search for the identity of the victims on the Washington area because a shovel bearing the label of a Montgomery County hardware store had been found near the grave.

The victims were identified from photographs as Bishop's wife, Annette, 37; the Bishops' three children, William Bradford III, 14, Brenton G., 10, and Geoffrey, 5; and Bishop's mother, Lovellia Bishop, 68.

Montgomery County police say they believe the killings occurred about 6:30 p.m. March 1 at the Bishop's $100,000, split-level home in the exclusive Carderock Springs section of the Washington, suburb of Bethesda, Md.

Bloodstains were found in all four bedrooms of the house, police said, as well as bloody trails to the driveway.

Police said there was no sign of forced entry at the Bishop home, no weapon has been found and there was "no struggle in the home as far as we could tell."

Police said it appeared the bodies were carried out the front door of the home, loaded into the family's 1974 station wagon and driven the 275 miles to the isolated eastern North Carolina burial site.

The station wagon reportedly was seen near the gravesite about 10 a.m. the next morning, shortly before the fire led to the discovery of the bodies. Police in both states are searching for the car.

Royce Rhodes, sheriff of sparsely populated Tyrrell County where the bodies were found, said he was investigating reports that the Bishops may have had some ties to the area. "One of the most fantastic things about the whole thing is if he (the killer) isn't familiar with the area why he came so far," Rhodes said.

No motive for the killings has been determined, according to police.

Eugene Rosenfeld, director of the U.S. Information Service in Ethiopia, where the Bishops formerly were stationed, said Mrs. Bishop "was among the loveliest of the American mission wives."

Another associate in Ethiopia said the Bishops were "perhaps the most popular couple in Addis Ababa."

Besides Ethiopia, Bishop's foreign service posts included Milan, Italy, and Gaberones, Botswana, where he headed the U.S. mission.

One Monigomery County neighbor of the Bishops described them as "super-nice people."

"You wouldn't think anyone would want to hurt them," said another.

ACCUSED SLAYER

DETROIT (AP) — A 36-year-old Detroit man, Andrew Jackson Hardaway, has been arraigned on a charge of first degree murder in the mutilation murder of a prostitute, Betty Mathis, 29, last week.

Suit Must Take Another Route

as suggested by Byrns — in an attempt to reach an out-of-court resolution of the issue, and added that "Mrs. Ford ought to be re-appointed tonight" to prevent continued questions about her status on the commission.

Testimony during Monday's hearing by County Treasurer William C. Heyn showed that the 1974 property taxes on the home owned by Charles and Helen Ford at 1118 Colfax, Benton Harbor, were delinquent from March 1, 1975, until they were paid on Feb. 18 this year — nine days after she was appointed and sworn in as a city commissioner and one day after she took part in her first full commission meeting.

Heyn also testified that 1971, 1972 and 1973 taxes on the same property also were delinquent at different times.

In addition to questioning the constitutionality of paid-up taxes as a requisite for holding public office, Atty. Logan suggested several other legal arguments:

— That individuals appointed to office could be allowed "reasonable effort" to correct any defects that might invalidate their appointment.

— That an individual taking a second office "automatically" vacates the first office if they are "incompatible."

— That actions by an appointee who later was ruled illegally appointed might still be held valid under some case law.

In adjourning the hearing, Byrns requested written briefs from both counsel, whether or not Atty. Hughes pursues the legal route be specified or files a brief challenging his decision.

He assigned the case to himself and said he would give it "as high a priority as possible" once briefs are filed by both parties.

100-Year-Old Tells Troopers Of Theft

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

GOBLES — State police at the Paw Paw post reported they arrested a Gobles couple last night in connection with the theft of $520 from a 100-year-old man.

Troopers said Evelyn Mae Garrett, 43, will be arraigned in Seventh District court today on a charge of larceny in a building and that her husband, Franklin Garrett, 43, will be arraigned on a charge of conspiracy to commit larceny.

According to police a call was received from Camille Lavilette, 100, CR-388, Gobles, informing them that money in a jar inside his refrigerator had been stolen, while a neighbor was helping him to clean it out.

A jar was found buried behind the Garrett's mobile home, CR-388, according to police. All the money was recovered, police said.

Agreement With ConRail

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state of Michigan and ConRail have reached an agreement under which the state will own the Toledo-to-Ann Arbor segment of the bankrupt Ann Arbor Railroad and ConRail will operate it. Details about the 47-mile long line are to be worked out this week and submitted to the state Highway Commission before a final agreement is signed later this month, Gov. William Milliken said Monday. He called the agreement in principle "a key step" in the state's plan to maintain service on the entire Ann Arbor Railroad, which runs from Toledo northwest across the Lower Peninsula to Frankfort and across Lake Michigan by ferry to Kewaunee, Wis.

School Suit Dropped

LELAND, Mich. (AP) — A suit charging the Glen Lake school board with mishandling funds has been dropped. John Stebbins, one of three plaintiffs in the suit scheduled for a hearing today in Leelanau County Circuit Court, announced the action on Monday. Stebbins said the suit was dropped at the request of former school Supt. John Greenan. One of the charges in the suit was that Greenan's dismissal was improper. Although the suit was dropped, Stebbins said efforts to recall four school board members will continue, as will a request that the state Department of Education investigate district operations.

'Doomsday Is Coming'

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state retirement system will cost taxpayers $400 million this year, but a state official with a "doomsday" prediction says it still won't be enough. Stephen Van Note, director of the state Bureau of Retirement Systems, said Monday "doomsday is coming." Unless the appropriations are increased, many state employes and public school teachers may never get their pensions, Van Note said. Prior to the 1974-75 fiscal year, state employes contributed to their pension program. But they no longer do. After 1977, all schoolteachers will discontinue their contributions. The result is a jump in state appropriations from $57 million in 1965-66 to $259 million in 1975-76 for outstate schoolteachers.

Milliken 'Copter Tour

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken was scheduled to take a helicopter inspection tour today to survey ice storm damage in central Michigan, his office announced Monday evening. The tour will be used to decide whether to seek a presidential declaration of disaster for parts of the state hit by last week's storm. The decision will be based on local response to questionnaires sent out last weekend, inspection by state-federal teams which begin Wednesday and Milliken's own observations. Milliken's three-hour tour was to cover Clinton, Gratiot, Saginaw, Tuscola, Sanilac, Lapeer, Oakland, Genesee and Shiawassee counties.

Noncandidate Back In Office

FOWLER, Mich. (AP) — Dudley McKean got just three votes Monday, but it was enough to put him in office for another four-year term. McKean, an accountant who had decided not to run again for the village board of trustees, said he was nonetheless surprised that he got only three write-in votes. "I thought I had more friends than that," said McKean. McKean's wife, Winnie, the village clerk, was re-elected with 45 votes. After conferring with his wife, McKean said, "I'll accept the mandate of the people and continue in office."

Voters were to chose three trustees. But the names of the two incumbents who were running for re-election were the only names printed on the ballot. So McKean, with three write-in votes, was third — and won. The village has about 250 registered voters and village offices are non-partisan.

In other local elections Monday, voters in Stockbridge approved liquor by the glass on a vote of 147-110. In millage elections, voters in the Waverly school district voted down a 4.7 mill increase on a vote of 1,903-1,883. In Grand Ledge, a 4.5 mill increase and 16.5 mill renewal for school operations were rejected, 2,142-1,911.

ITALY MARKS 'WOMAN'S DAY': Dressed in long black robes after the prevailing style of Sicilian women, Roman women pull float on which stands an effigy representing the Italian male. The protest parade, held in Rome and duplicated in many Italian cities Monday, marked the observation of "Woman's Day" in keeping with a leftist tradition setting March 8 aside for women. The demonstrators also denounced male predominance in Italian society. (AP Wirephoto)

Bridge Traffic Record

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A record number of vehicles crossed the Mackinac Bridge last month for any February, it was announced Monday. February traffic was up 0.8 per cent from a year ago, with 80,496 crossings. Fare revenues were up 8.9 per cent to $162,781, also a record for February. For the first two months of 1976, traffic is up 6.2 per cent over a year ago, the Mackinac Bridge Authority said.

Russia Blocks Parts Sales

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia has blocked India from supplying spare parts for Egypt's Soviet-built MIG21 jet fighters, U.S. intelligence sources said today. The new Russian move, following its own cutoff of maintenance support for Egypt's air force, was reported as the Ford administration was laying the groundwork for possible sales of U.S. warplanes and antitank missiles to Egypt. India, which produces MIGs and other weapons under Russian license, was said to have asked Moscow's permission to sell spare parts to Egypt after the Cairo government appealed to India for help. Intelligence sources say Moscow denied India permission to do so.

Pair Face Robbery Charges

Benton township police arrested a young man and a boy on charges of unarmed robbery of a purse from Arlene Mikels, 52, of 102 Eastman avenue, Monday. She was unhurt in the 1 p.m. incident, police said.

Booked at the Berrien county jail was James Blue, 17, of 970 Bishop avenue, Benton Harbor. The 16-year-old boy was turned over to his parents pending petitioning to juvenile court.

Police said the boy was taken into custody after officers from several area departments searched the area near the robbery scene, the 1000 block of Union street. Blue turned himself into police early today, officers reported.

Arlene Mikels told police she struggled with a youth who grabbed her purse. The youth got the purse, but dropped it when an unidentified truck driver gave chase on foot. Police recovered the purse.

Bangor Downtown Sidewalk Project Gets Green Light

BANGOR — Bangor city council last night voted to have Alpha engineering of Grand Junction start preliminary plans for a curb, gutter, and sidewalk project in the downtown area.

The $25,000 project to redo sidewalks on Monroe street has already been agreed to by the majority of the businessmen who will foot part of the bill.

The project cost will be equally split between the city and property owners in the downtown area.

In other areas, the council gave permission for the Van Buren Youth Association for Retarded Citizens to hold a rockathon April 12 and 13 in the Sacred Heart church in Bangor.

The rockathon will raise money to send handicapped children to the special olympics this summer in Mount Pleasant.

The council also gave the youth association permission to canvass Bangor residents asking for donations for the project. The group needs to raise about $1,000.

The council voted to pay $205 to the Van Buren county transportation task force, which is organizing a transportation service for handicapped and senior citizens. The $205 is figured as 10 cents per resident in Bangor.

Councilman Vincent Fritz was named to represent the council to the task force.

Paul Jones, of 5 Division street, was given a variance from a city ordinance which prohibits having animals other than normal house pets such as cats, dogs, birds, and fish within the city limits.

Jones wants to raise rabbits in a pen in his yard.

The council ordered four no-turn-on-red signs to be placed at the intersection of Arlington road and Walnut street when the right-turn-on-red law goes into effect in April.

The signs are being placed at this intersection because it is a major crossing near the elementary and middle schools.

Eau Claire Asks Budget Cut Plan

EAU CLAIRE — The Eau Claire school board last night instructed Dr. William Schaefer, schools superintendent, to draft a proposal outlining personnel and program cuts for the 1976-77 school year involving $80,000 to $100,000.

Dr. Schaefer said the board would hold a special meeting March 22 to take final action on the budget-trimming proposal. The board will also consider asking for an increase to the present 25-mill levy at the meeting.

In the meantime, Dr. Schaefer said he would meet with the Eau Claire Education association to draw up recommended staff reductions. As of now, it was too early for him to know how many employes stand to lose their jobs, he said.

Estimates based on this year's programs and revenues showed the district would incur a deficit of $80,000 to $100,000 in the 1976-77 school year if no cuts are made. He said the board is aiming at a budget for next year at nearly the same level as this year's $1.6 million budget.

Dr. Schaefer noted that the district is projecting an enrollment next year of about 1,340 students, 27 less than this year. He said the pupil-teacher ratio this year is 19.5 to one.

He said the last millage increase was in 1969, and the district enrollment has increased over 30 per cent since then.

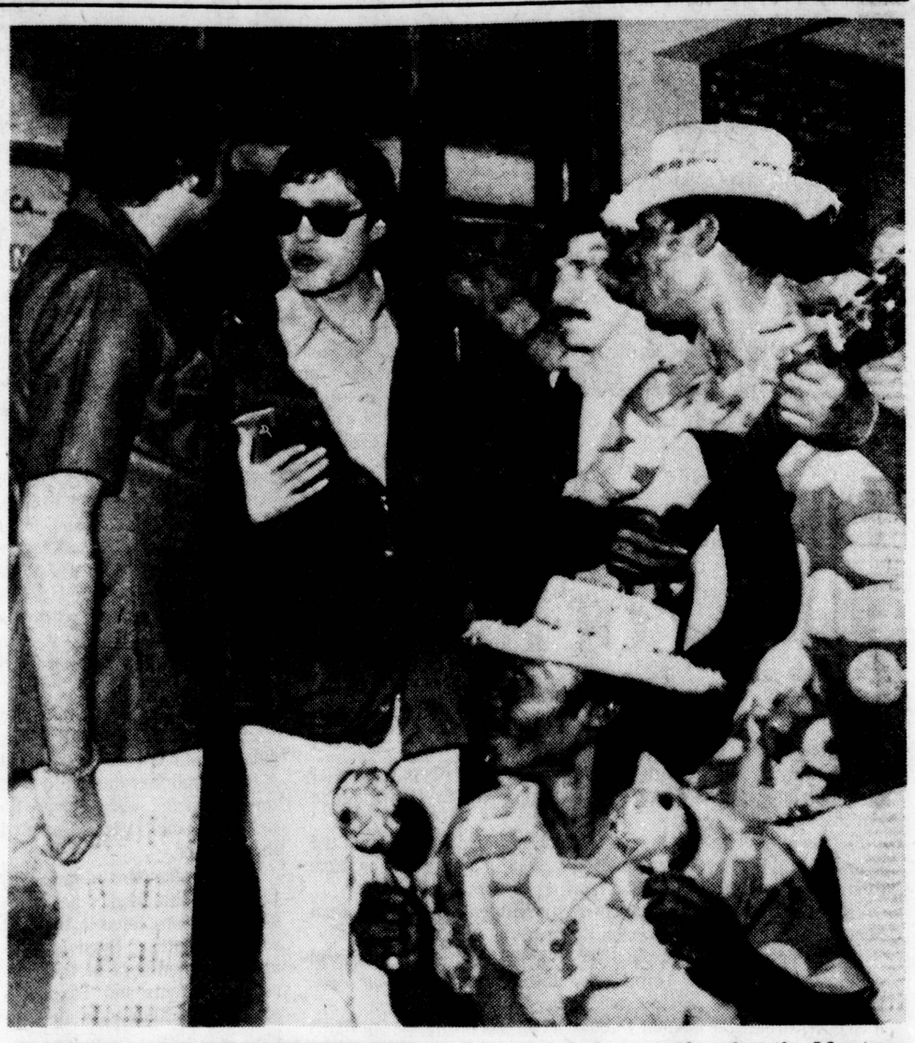

In other areas, the board instructed Dr. Schaefer to arrange a board meeting with the engineering firm of Wightman and Associates, St. Joseph, to plan the construction of a bus garage near the high school.

When completed, the garage will handle maintenance for the district's 18 buses which are presently serviced by a private garage in Eau Claire. It is expected the garage will result in reduced maintenance costs, Dr. Schaefer said.

The garage is to be paid for from funds left over from the 1971 high school bond issue, he said. Those funds can only be used for construction on the high school property.

The board extended contracts through June, 1978, for Jerry Greenhaw, middle school principal, and Charles Volin, Lybrook elementary principal. Salaries will be negotiated at a later date, Dr. Schaefer said.

A two-year contract through June, 1978, was awarded to John Laskarides, high school principal, and that salary will be negotiated later.

State Department Official Hunted In Deaths Of 5

COLUMBIA, N.C. (AP) — A U.S. State Department official is being sought by police for questioning in the bludgeon deaths of five members of his family, whose burning bodies were found in a swampy grave near this eastern North Carolina village. The victims were identified Monday as the family of Bradford Bishop Jr., 39, assistant chief of the special trade activities office of the State Department's economic and business section.

North Carolina Atty. Gen. Rufus Edmisten said Bishop, who had not reported to his office for a week, "is being sought for questioning," although Edmisten added that Bishop could be "lying dead somewhere."

Police in Montgomery County, Md., where the family lived, have listed Bishop as a missing person, pending further investigation.

The burning bodies of Bishop's mother, wife and three children were discovered a week ago, piled in an open, gasoline-soaked pit nearly 300 miles from their home in the Washington, D.C., suburbs. The bodies were found by a state forest ranger investigating a three-acre brush fire that had spread from the burning grave.

BRADFORD BISHOP
Family found burning

Identity of the victims was a mystery until Montgomery County police were told Monday by a neighbor of the Bishops that the family had not been seen for days.

North Carolina authorities already had been focusing their search for the identity of the victims on the Washington area because a shovel bearing the label of a Montgomery County hardware store had been found near the grave.

The victims were identified from photographs as Bishop's wife, Annette, 37; the Bishops' three children, William Bradford III, 14, Brenton G., 10, and Geoffrey, 5; and Bishop's mother, Lovellia Bishop, 68.

Montgomery County police say they believe the killings occurred about 6:30 p.m. March 1 at the Bishop's $100,000, split-level home in the exclusive Carderock Springs section of the Washington suburb of Bethesda, Md.

Bloodstains were found in all four bedrooms of the house, police said, as well as bloody trails to the driveway.

Police said there was no sign of forced entry at the Bishop home, no weapon has been found and there was "no struggle in the home as far as we could tell."

Police said it appeared the bodies were carried out the front door of the home, loaded into the family's 1974 station wagon and driven the 275 miles to the isolated eastern North Carolina burial site.

The station wagon reportedly was seen near the gravesite about 10 a.m. the next morning, shortly before the fire led to the discovery of the bodies. Police in both states are searching for the car.

Royce Rhodes, sheriff of sparsely populated Tyrrell County where the bodies were found, said he was investigating reports that the Bishops may have had some ties to the area. "One of the most fantastic things about the whole thing is if he (the killer) isn't familiar with the area why he came so far," Rhodes said.

No motive for the killings has been determined, according to police.

Eugene Rosenfeld, director of the U.S. Information Service in Ethiopia, where the Bishops formerly were stationed, said Mrs. Bishop "was among the loveliest of the American mission wives."

Another associate in Ethiopia said the Bishops were "perhaps the most popular couple in Addis Ababa."

Besides Ethiopia, Bishop's foreign service posts included Milan, Italy, and Gaberones, Botswana, where he headed the U.S. mission.

One Montgomery County neighbor of the Bishops described them as "super-nice people."

"You wouldn't think anyone would want to hurt them," said another.

Noncandidate Back In Office

FOWLER, Mich. (AP) — Dudley McKean got just three votes Monday, but it was enough to put him in office for another four-year term. McKean, an accountant who had decided not to run again for the village board of trustees, said he was nonetheless surprised that he got only three write-in votes. "I thought I had more friends than that," said McKean. McKean's wife, Winnie, the village clerk, was re-elected with 45 votes. After conferring with his wife, McKean said, "I'll accept the mandate of the people and continue in office."

Voters were to chose three trustees. But the names of the two incumbents who were running for re-election were the only names printed on the ballot. So McKean, with three write-in votes, was third — and won. The village has about 250 registered voters and village offices are non-partisan.

In other local elections Monday, voters in Stockbridge approved liquor by the glass on a vote of 147-110. In millage elections, voters in the Waverly school district voted down a 4.7 mill increase on a vote of 1,903-1,883. In Grand Ledge, a 4.5 mill increase and 16.5 mill renewal for school operations were rejected, 2,142-1,011.

Bridge Traffic Record

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A record number of vehicles crossed the Mackinac Bridge last month for any February, it was announced Monday. February traffic was up 6.8 per cent from a year ago, with 80,496 crossings. Fare revenues were up 8.9 per cent to $162,781, also a record for February. For the first two months of 1976, traffic is up 6.2 per cent over a year ago, the Mackinac Bridge Authority said.

Russia Blocks Parts Sales

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia has blocked India from supplying spare parts for Egypt's Soviet-built MIG21 jet fighters, U.S. intelligence sources said today. The new Russian move, following its own cutoff of maintenance support for Egypt's air force, was reported as the Ford administration was laying the groundwork for possible sales of U.S. warplanes and antitank missiles to Egypt. India, which produces MIGs and other weapons under Russian license, was said to have asked Moscow's permission to sell spare parts to Egypt after the Cairo government appealed to India for help. Intelligence sources say Moscow denied India permission to do so.

Suit Must Take Another Route

as suggested by Byrns — in an attempt to reach an out-of-court resolution of the issue, and added that "Mrs. Ford ought to be re-appointed tonight" to prevent continued questions about her status on the commission.

Testimony during Monday's hearing by County Treasurer William C. Heyn showed that the 1974 property taxes on the home owned by Charles and Helen Ford at 1118 Colfax, Benton Harbor, were delinquent from March 1, 1975, until they were paid on Feb. 18 this year — nine days after she was appointed and sworn in as a city commissioner and one day after she took part in her first full commission meeting.

Heyn also testified that 1971, 1972 and 1973 taxes on the same property also were delinquent at different times.

In addition to questioning the constitutionality of paid-up taxes as a requisite for holding public office, Atty. Logan suggested several other legal arguments:

— That individuals appointed to office could be allowed "reasonable effort" to correct any defects that might invalidate their appointment.

— That an individual taking a second office "automatically" vacates the first office if they are "incompatible."

— That actions by an appointee who later was ruled illegally appointed might still be held valid under some case law.

In adjourning the hearing, Byrns requested written briefs from both counsel, whether or not Atty. Hughes pursues the legal route he specified or files a brief challenging his decision.

He assigned the case to himself and said he would give it "as high a priority as possible" once briefs are filed by both parties.

Agreement With ConRail

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state of Michigan and ConRail have reached an agreement under which the state will own the Toledo-to-Ann Arbor segment of the bankrupt Ann Arbor Railroad and ConRail will operate it. Details about the 47-mile long line are to be worked out this week and submitted to the state Highway Commission before a final agreement is signed later this month, Gov. William Milliken said Monday. He called the agreement in principle "a key step" in the state's plan to maintain service on the entire Ann Arbor Railroad, which runs from Toledo northwest across the Lower Peninsula to Frankfort and across Lake Michigan by ferry to Kewaunee, Wis.

School Suit Dropped

LELAND, Mich. (AP) — A suit charging the Glen Lake school board with mishandling funds has been dropped. John Stebbins, one of three plaintiffs in the suit scheduled for a hearing today in Leelanau County Circuit Court, announced the action on Monday. Stebbins said the suit was dropped at the request of former school Supt. John Greenan. One of the charges in the suit was that Greenan's dismissal was improper. Although the suit was dropped, Stebbins said efforts to recall four school board members will continue, as will a request that the state Department of Education investigate district operations.

'Doomsday Is Coming'

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state retirement system will cost taxpayers $400 million this year, but a state official with a "doomesday" prediction says it still won't be enough. Stephen Van Note, director of the state Bureau of Retirement Systems, said Monday "doomsday is coming." Unless the appropriations are increased, many state employes and public school teachers may never get their pensions, Van Note said. Prior to the 1974-75 fiscal year, state employes contributed to their pension program. But they no longer do. After 1977, all schoolteachers will discontinue their contributions. The result is a jump in state appropriations from $57 million in 1965-66 to $259 million in 1975-76 for outstate schoolteachers.

Milliken 'Copter Tour

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken was scheduled to take a helicopter inspection tour today to survey ice storm damage in central Michigan, his office announced Monday evening. The tour will be used to decide whether to seek a presidential declaration of disaster for parts of the state hit by last week's storm. The decision will be based on local response to questionnaires sent out last weekend, inspection by state-federal teams which begin Wednesday and Milliken's own observations. Milliken's three-hour tour was to cover Clinton, Gratiot, Saginaw, Tuscola, Sanilac, Lapeer, Oakland, Genesee and Shiawassee counties.

Pair Face Robbery Charges

Benton township police arrested a young man and a boy on charges of unarmed robbery of a purse from Arlene Mikels, 52, of 102 Eastman avenue, Monday. She was unhurt in the 1 p.m. incident, police said.

Booked at the Berrien county jail was James Blue, 17, of 970 Bishop avenue, Benton Harbor. The 16-year-old boy was turned over to his parents pending petitioning to juvenile court.

Police said the boy was taken into custody after officers from several area departments searched the area near the robbery scene, the 1600 block of Union street. Blue turned himself into police early today, officers reported.

Arlene Mikels told police she struggled with a youth who grabbed her purse. The youth got the purse, but dropped it when an unidentified truck driver gave chase on foot. Police recovered the purse.

Bangor Downtown Sidewalk Project Gets Green Light

BANGOR — Bangor city council last night voted to have Alpha engineering of Grand Junction start preliminary plans for a curb, gutter, and sidewalk project in the downtown area.

The $25,000 project to redo sidewalks on Monroe street has already been agreed to by the majority of the businessmen who will foot part of the bill.

The project cost will be equally split between the city and property owners in the downtown area.

In other areas, the council gave permission for the Van Buren Youth Association for Retarded Citizens to hold a rockathon April 12 and 13 in the Sacred Heart church in Bangor.

The rockathon will raise money to send handicapped children to the special olympics this summer in Mount Pleasant.

The council also gave the youth association permission to canvass Bangor residents asking for donations for the project. The group needs to raise about $1,000.

The council voted to pay $205 to the Van Buren county transportation task force, which is organizing a transportation service for handicapped and senior citizens. The $205 is figured as 10 cents per resident in Bangor.

Councilman Vincent Fritz was named to represent the council to the task force.

Bachman Resigns As Mayor Of Buchanan

BUCHANAN — Joseph Bachman, Buchanan mayor since 1970, resigned the mayor's post effective immediately during last night's Buchanan city commission meeting, but said he would continueas city commissioner.

Named to replace Bachman was Commissioner Joseph Garbert II.

In Buchanan, the mayor is a commission member elected to serve as mayor by his fellow commissioners.

Bachman, in a letter to the commission, cited "business pressures" as the reason for his relinquishing the mayor's post.

Bachman, 57, has served on the commission since 1963. He is employed by the North American Sign company, South Bend.

Garbert, 28, is serving his third year on the commission. He is employed by the Sexton Furniture store in Buchanan, a business owned by his father, Joseph Garbert Sr.

JOSEPH BACHMAN
Buchanan mayor resigns

Bachman threatened to resign the mayor's post if voters in a May, 1974, referendum voted to reject the rezoning of land that would have allowed expanded construction of an apartment development. The voters did overrule a city commission vote that approved the rezoning, but Bachman did not resign.

The controversial rezoning proposal again surfaced last night, and the commission approved a request from the attorney for developer Fred Schaller of Niles asking that the rezoning petition be tabled indefinitely.

In a meeting moved from a packed city hall to the Buchanan middle school, Atty. Murray Campbell of Niles said in a letter to the commission his client (Schaller) also requested a meeting with city officials, business leaders and opponents of the rezoning to discuss the proposal.

Schaller is seeking to have just over 15 acres of land rezoned from single family-residential (R-1) to multiple family residential (R-3). The land is located adjacent is his West Wind apartment development on Front street and if approved, rezoning would allow expansion of the development.

The proposal was tabled after a lengthy meeting on Feb. 23 during which more opposition to the petition was voiced.

Campbell's letter to the commission said in part, "...if at this meeting Mr. Schaller is convinced that an expansion of his apartment complex is legally improper and socially detrimental to the city of Buchanan, he will withdraw his petition to rezone."

The letter said Schaller was disturbed that if the commission approved the rezoning some commissioners might be recalled; as opponents of the rezoning have threatened.

At the Feb. 23 meeting Campbell said that if the rezoning were not approved, his client would take the matter to court.

In other areas, the commission approved establishment of special assessment districts for both a storm drain and curbs and gutters in the Ryncarson street-Liberty avenue area.

Commission action split the districts into two separate districts, one for the storm sewer, to cost a total of $25,926, and the second for the curbs and gutters, to cost $17,883.

Property owners will be assessed 90 per cent of the costs, while the city will be the remaining 10 per cent.

Both projects are to be constructed on Ryncarson from Liberty avenue to the east city limits, and on Liberty from Ryncarson to Front street.

The commission also heard a report from planning consultant Leslie Cripps who said a study of housing in the city found a vacancy rate in houses and apartments in the city of five and one-half per cent; and tabled until its March 22 meeting a proposal to hire Engineering Services, Mishawaka, Ind., to design and estimate costs for replacing bridges in the city

Buchanan Voters Trounce 20-Mill School Tax Levy

BUCHANAN — Buchanan school district voters defeated a 20-mill property tax proposal by a wide margin in yesterday's special election.

Unofficial returns showed the proposal defeated 1,061 to 627. A total of 1,719 ballots were cast, with 28 spoiled.

Some 4,500 voters are registered to vote in the school district.

The proposal included renewal of the expired 17-mill levy and an additional three mills.

School officials said the 20-mill package was necessary to operate the district next year. The three mills were needed, the school board said, to restore programs cut earlier this year when state school aid to the district was reduced.

Even if the proposal had been approved, school officials said local tax revenue was expected to decrease an estimated $100,000, because of the loss of about $17 million from its tax base of $77,256,681. The loss was expected because of a change in state tax laws on taxing business inventories.

The 20 mills were expected to raise $1.8 million, while the 17 mills this year raised $1,800,000, according to Paul Montgomery, business manager for the school district.

A tentative 1976-77 school operating budget of $3.1 million, up $200,000 from the current budget, hinged on approval of the 20-mill levy, according to Montgomery.

Contacted last night, Richard Dougherty, school superintendent, said neither he nor the school board had any statements to make.

Noting new attitudes of "confrontation and distrust" on the part of Congress and the news media, Congressman Edward Hutchinson Monday deplored a "relentless attack on our intelligence system."

Hutchinson (R-St. Joseph) spoke at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club of St. Joseph and Benton Harbor. He covered problems of big government and intelligence leaks.

He touched only briefly on his personal career and didn't go into his decision for not seeking re-election. Hutchinson is in his 14th year in Congress.

Prior to his speech on the intelligence problems, Hutchinson commented about big government in general. He referred to a bill the House will act on shortly which would put the medical profession under more control of the government. Hutchinson said, "I don't understand why legislators want to wrap everything in the hands of the government."

He continued, "I don't understand why people think there is any 'particular' wisdom in the government. There isn't."

Hutchinson said, "It's the private sector of this country that keeps it going. I've been in government a long time. Government is not a problem solver. Government reacts, it doesn't lead. We have the same problems today we had 30 years ago."

On intelligence operations, Hutchinson said that Americans in the past took comfort in the fact that U.S. leaders were as well informed as those in Russia.

He then said, "We may have reason to believe otherwise today, because for more than a year our intelligence system has been under relentless attack by the news media, and by the Congress itself."

Hutchinson noted that problems with the intelligence community (FBI - CIA) began to surface about the time of Watergate as "a spirit of non-cooperation" between the CIA and the FBI was revealed. Consequently in the post-Watergate days committees were formed by the President, the Senate and the House (Select Committee on Intelligence), according to Hutchinson.

He said that under the House committee a large amount of "sensitive" intelligence information leaked to the press including large parts of the suppressed report that appeared in a New York newspaper, called the "Village Voice". A CBS newsman, Daniel Schorr, later admitted the "Village Voice" got the report from him.

Hutchinson added, "The House Select Committee on Intelligence leaked like a sieve. A few days ago it was revealed that more than 200 documents which had been entrusted by the CIA to the committee are missing. It should be evident by now that only information intended for the world to know can be given to the Congress."

During a question and answer period after Hutchinson's speech, Benton Harbor Deputy City Manager Melvin Farmer said he was not defending the media, but questioned whether certain governmental facts would ever come out if it were not for the media.

Hutchinson replied, "The press is essential. I'm certainly not against freedom of the press. However, I think the press has a responsibility to the government that goes along with their privileges."

Concluding his speech Hutchinson said it is not Congress' job to govern, but to make policy and the investigation of U.S. intelligence agencies should be left in the executive branch of government.

Royalton To Buy Materials For Park

Royalton township board last night authorized the township park board to take bids on materials and work for a township park.

Clerk Otto Jasper said the board wants bids on 15 picnic tables, constructing water lines from the township hall to the park, eight grills and trash covers.

He said the board is also planning for later this year the construction of a pavilion at the park located across from the township hall at Scottdale and John Beers roads.

In other areas, the board approved a $1,000 payment to the Tri-Unit fire department and a $500 appropriation to the Berrien sheriff's Metro crime unit.

The board also set the township's annual meeting for 2 p.m., Saturday April 3, at the township hall.

Bangor School Chief Beyer Sent On Unasked Sick Leave

By STEVE McQUOWN

BANGOR — The Bangor school board last night put the school's superintendent, Howard Beyer, on a sick leave he did not request and appointed administrative assistant Frederick Stap as acting superintendent.

The 5-0 board vote came after a motion to split the superintendent's duties between Stap and Beyer, and make Beyer a special consultant to the board, failed in a 3-2 vote. It needed four votes to pass the five-member board.

Stap this morning said the board action on the sick leave on which Beyer was placed is "hazy," and does not establish a definite number of days he will be on sick leave.

He said Beyer did not ask for the sick leave. Beyer has 90.5 days of accumulated sick leave, Stap said.

The veteran superintendent has been under attack by board critics and five former board members were ousted in a February recall election for several reasons, including one that the board at that time did not ask for Beyer's resignation.

The sick leave issue for the superintendent came to a board vote after Board Member Donald Freestone proposed that the superintendent's duties be split between Beyer and Stap.

Freestone proposed that *Beyer be made a board consul*tant in the areas of the school budget and the current construction of a new middle school.

Voting in favor of the motion that was defeated were Members Freestone, John Lyster and Clark Dowell.

Against it were Members Otto Watkins Jr. and Peggy Phillips.

Freestone, Lyster and Dowell were appointed to the board by Gov. Milliken in February. They are serving interim terms that will expire with a special school board election March 22.

Mrs. Phillips and Watkins were the only two members of the board who were not named in the February recall election.

There were some indications, although no one would say it for the record, that Beyer's sick leave will last until the board is filled by the March 22 special election at which time a full board will determine the status of his future employment with the school.

In other areas last night, the board gave girl track coach Linda Henry a pay increase that will make her pay equal to what male track coaches receive.

The board also accepted nearly $212,430 in bids on equipment for the new middle school.

Accepted as low bids were: for science room equipment, the bid of $28,875 from Scientific Equipment company; for library furniture, the bid of $22,268 from Classroom, Inc.; for student desks, the bid of $9,990 from Haywood-Wakefield; for wood bleachers, from Universal Bleacher company, $109,925; and from Republic Steel, the bid of $11,372 for steel lockers.

Coach Slots Open At River Valley

THREE OAKS — The River Valley school board last night approved addition of two coaching positions at the high school.

One was for coach of the freshman boys baseball team while the other was an assistant coaching position for girls track.

James White, assistant high school principal and athletic director, said he recommended addition of the two posts because of increased participation in both sports.

The coaches will be named from the school district's teaching staff, White said.

In other areas, Weldon Burden, board president, named trustees Adrian VanGinhuyen and James Schreiber to the board's teacher contract negotiating team. Trustees Mrs. Doris Rice and Carl Anderson were named alternates.

Also named to the team, on recommendation of Dr. Charles Williams, superintendent, was Robert Schroeder, Chikaming elementary school principal.

A request from an advisory committee to purchase equipment for the district's vocational machine shop, not to exceed $7,000, was approved by the board. William Weirick, shared time program director, said the equipment was available from a Centerville machine shop auction.

The board approved a request submitted by the "Wizards of Education," a group of River Valley and New Buffalo school teachers, to paint playground equipment at the district's three elementary schools free of charge. The board will pay for the red, white and blue paint that will be used to decorate the equipment.

A request submitted by Michigan Bell Telephone company to install underground cable in front of the high school was approved by the board

Bachman Resigns As Mayor Of Buchanan

BUCHANAN — Joseph Bachman, Buchanan mayor since 1970, resigned the mayor's post effective immediately during last night's Buchanan city commission meeting, but said he would continueas city commissioner.

Named to replace Bachman was Commissioner Joseph Garbert II.

In Buchanan, the mayor is a commission member elected to serve as mayor by his fellow commissioners.

Bachman, in a letter to the commission, cited "business pressures" as the reason for his relinquishing the mayor's post.

Bachman, 57, has served on the commission since 1963. He is employed by the North American Sign company, South Bend.

Garbert, 28, is serving his third year on the commission. He is employed by the Sexton Furniture store in Buchanan, a business owned by his father, Joseph Garbert Sr.

JOSEPH BACHMAN
Buchanan mayor resigns

Bachman threatened to resign the mayor's post if voters in a May, 1974, referendum voted to reject the rezoning of land that would have allowed expanded construction of an apartment development. The voters did overrule a city commission vote that approved the rezoning, but Bachman did not resign.

The controversial rezoning proposal again surfaced last night, and the commission approved a request from the attorney for developer Fred Schaller of Niles asking that the rezoning petition be tabled indefinitely.

In a meeting moved from a packed city hall to the Buchanan middle school, Atty. Murray Campbell of Niles said in a letter to the commission his client (Schaller) also requested a meeting with city officials, business leaders and opponents of the rezoning to discuss the proposal.

Schaller is seeking to have just over 15 acres of land rezoned from single family residential (R-1) to mutiple family residential (R-3). The land is located adjacent is his West Wind apartment development on Front street and if approved, rezoning would allow expansion of the development.

The proposal was tabled after a lengthy meeting on Feb. 23 during which more opposition to the petition was voiced.

Campbell's letter to the commission said in part, "...if at this meeting Mr. Schaller is convinced that an expansion of his apartment complex is legally improper and socially detrimental to the city of Buchanan, he will withdraw his petition to rezone."

The letter said Schaller was disturbed that if the commission approved the rezoning some commissioners might be recalled, as opponents of the rezoning have threatened.

At the Feb. 23 meeting Campbell said that if the rezoning were not approved, his client would take the matter to court.

In other areas, the commission approved establishment of special assessment districts for both a storm drain and curbs and gutters in the Rynearson street-Liberty avenue area.

Commission action split the districts into two separate districts, one for the storm sewer, to cost a total of $25,920, and the second for the curbs and gutters, to cost $17,883.

Property owners will be assessed 90 per cent of the costs, while the city will be the remaining 10 per cent.

Both projects are to be constructed on Rynearson from Liberty avenue to the east city limits, and on Liberty from Rynearson to Front street.

The commission also heard a report from planning consultant Leslie Cripps who said a study of housing in the city found a vacancy rate in houses and apartments in the city of five and one-half per cent; and tabled until its March 22 meeting a proposal to hire Engineering Services, Mishawaka, Ind., to design and estimate costs for replacing bridges in the city

Clark Equipment CMD Promotes Twin City Men

The Clark Equipment Co., construction machinery division, Benton township, announced the promotion of Dick Pruess to the post of director of marketing support. He formerly was general product development manager for the division. Morris Hohnstein was named general product development manager. He previously was product development manager for tractor shovels at the division.

DICK PRUESS

Pruess will direct the division's after-sales marketing efforts. Duties include service and service training support for Clark's line of rubber-tired tractor shovels, scrapers, dozers and forestry products.

Pruess joined Clark in 1957 as a field engineer. Other posts include assistant sales development manager, and product manager for tractor shovels. Pruess holds a bachelor's degree in industrial engineering from Iowa State university. Pruess, his wife, June and their three children reside at 1865 Briarcliff drive, St. Joseph.

Hohnstein will be responsible for planning and developing products to meet present and future needs within industries served by Clark. Included is preparation of data to increase productivity and owner-benefit features of the division's tractor shovels, scrapers, dozers, compactors, log skidders, log loaders and other forestry-related products.

MORRIS HOHNSTEIN

Hohnstein, a civil engineering graduate of the University of Colorado, joined Clark in 1963 as a product design and development engineer. He was product development manager for tractor shovels for the past three years. Hohnstein, his wife, Patricia, and their three children reside at 1385 Pontiac road, Fairplain.

Buchanan Voters Trounce 20-Mill School Tax Levy

BUCHANAN — Buchanan school district voters defeated a 20-mill property tax proposal by a wide margin in yesterday's special election.

Unofficial returns showed the proposal defeated 1,061 to 627. A total of 1,714 ballots were cast, with 26 spoiled.

Some 4,500 voters are registered to vote in the school district.

The proposal included renewal of the expired 17-mill levy and an additional three mills.

School officials said the 20-mill package was necessary to operate the district next year. The three mills were needed, the school board said, to restore programs cut earlier this year when state school aid to the district was reduced.

Even if the proposal had been approved, school officials said local tax revenue was expected to decrease an estimated $100,000, because of the loss of about $17 million from its tax base of $77,250,681. The loss was expected because of a change in state tax laws on taxing business inventories.

The 20 mills were expected to raise $1.8 million, while the 17 mills this year raised $1,990,000, according to Paul Montgomery, business manager for the school district.

A tentative 1976-77 school operating budget of $3.1 million, up $200,000 from the current budget, hinged on approval of the 20-mill levy, according to Montgomery.

Contacted last night, Richard Dougherty, school superintendent, said neither he nor the school board had any statements to make.

Congress Hopeful Stockman Names Three Top Aides

David Stockman, candidate for the Republican nomination as Fourth District congressman, has announced that Barry Davis, Atty. John Globensky and Atty. Murray Campbell are serving in top positions in the Stockman for Congress campaign. Globensky is campaign chairman, Campbell, campaign treasurer, and Davis campaign manager.

Globensky last month took a leave of absence as vice chairman of the Berrien county Republican committee so he could campaign for Stockman. Globensky is senior partner in the St. Joseph law law firm of Globensky, Gleiss, Henderson and Bittner. A former president of the Berrien Bar association, he has been a delegate to Republican county and state conventions for 20 years. Globensky and his wife, the former Virginia Hetler, have one daughter.

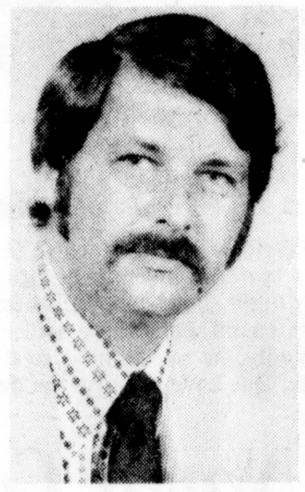

Campbell is a partner in the Niles law firm of Klute, Stone and Campbell. He has served as of the Niles Republican committee and secretary of the Berrien county Republican committee. He and his wife, the former Sarah Plym of Niles, have five children.

Davis, of St, Joseph, is responsible for the day-to-day operation of the campaign. He formerly was a vice president of Paxson Advertising, and personnel manager for Auto Specialties Manufacturing Co. Davis and his wife, Lauri, have two daughters and a son.

Stockman, of St. Joseph, currently is the only declared candidate for the Republican nomination.

Bucks, Gaels Head Area Regional Delegation

Buchanan and Galien may be neighbors, but the styles of the two basketball teams are at times as far apart as New York and Los Angeles.

Despite the difference, however, the two schools head a five-team southwestern Michigan field into the regional phase of the Michigan High School Basketball Tournament beginning tonight.

The Bucks and Gaels, both district champs for the second straight year, join Niles, Decatur and Brandywine as area schools which still entertain state title hopes.

Buchanan and Decatur are a part of the four-team Class C field at Watervliet, the first area regional site in four years. Decatur (21-2) opens play tonight against Kalamazoo Hackett (11-12), while the Bucks, 23-0 and ranked No. 1, face White Pigeon (19-4) Thursday.

Galien, meanwhile, takes an 18-3 record against Concord (18-5) in a Wednesday game at Sturgis in a Class D regional. Brandywine and Niles both compete at Western Michigan University. The Bobcats (17-6) take on Caledonia (17-6) tonight in the Class B regional, while Niles (13-9) faces top-ranked Class A power Lansing Everett (21-1) Wednesday.

The Bucks, who lost to Albion in the regional finals last year while competing in Class B, seem to get better with each game. Buchanan ran through its district without working up a sweat. The Bucks hit 49 per cent of their shots, while winning by an average of 29.3 points per game. Buck coach Bill Wilson expects White Pigeon to give Buchanan a tougher assignment, however.

"I expect a very competitive, very aggressive game from White Pigeon," says Wilson, who used to coach at Centreville (a member of the same league White Pigeon participates in). "They play a very aggressive man-to-man defense."

White Pigeon is led by 6-7 southpaw center Al Biland, who averaged 24.3 points in three district games.

Wilson plans to put 6-6 Ken Garrett (22.0) on the hefty center.

"Ken has gone up against bigger people," Wilson adds. "Biland is a little like Bob Waalkes of Dowagiac. He's a little quicker than Waalkes, but not as strong."

Mike Busby (14.2), Walt Vanderbush (12.6) and Gerald Busby (11.0) join Garrett as double figure Buck scorers. The tenacious Buchanan man-to-man defense has also played a big part in the Bucks' success. Buchanan caused 84 turnovers by its opponents in three tourney games.

Unlike the Bucks, Galien employs a tough zone defense and leads the area with a brilliant 52.2 point mark on defense. The Gaels are the lone team from the Red Arrow conference still alive.

"Winning the district kind of salvages something from finishing second in the league," Galien coach Mike Heekathorn notes. "It's just a pleasure to still be playing."

If an edge can be given to a team at Sturgis, the Gaels may have it. They have four starters, Don Kooy, Mike Kuntz, Dale Luther and Craig Schau, returning from last year's team that won the regional but was beaten by powerhouse Detroit East Catholic 70-54 in the quarterfinals.

Kooy has been Galien's main scoring threat, hitting at an 18.5 clip per game. Joining Kooy are guard Dale Luther (14.8) and forward Rick Busher (10.1) as double figure scorers.

Galien shot an unbelievable 58 per cent in its two district wins, hitting 50 per cent against Michigan Lutheran and 67 per cent against Bridgman.

With 6-4 Rick Kuntz opening at center and the 6-2 Kooy at one forward, Galien will have a height advantage over Concord. The Yellowjackets will probably start two 5-11 forwards, Mike Jurasek and Jeff Barton, 6-1 center Marty Thompson and 5-9 guards Walt New and Terry Baker.

Jurasek leads Concord in scoring with a 20.3 average while New and Baker are putting in around 13 points per game.

Decatur, a district winner for the first time in 14 years, faces a Hackett team which is stronger than its record indicates.

Decatur had to rally twice in its three district games to gain a regional berth. Probably the team's most memorable comeback came against Hartford, which held a 16-point lead only to lose to the Raiders 62-58.

"We made some great comebacks in the district," Gibson recalls. "The kids are excited and the town is excited. We realize now, however, that we have to keep putting out because the competition will keep getting better."

Guard Kurt Wiese continues to lead Decatur with a 21.2 scoring average. Wiese pumped in 71 points last week in three district games. Jim Overley (12.0) is also scoring in double figures.

Don Juzwiak was Hackett's district hero, hitting a free throw with no time left on the clock to lift Hackett past Kalamazoo Christian in the title game at Hackett. Juzwiak, Joe Albertson and Dave Chandler all averaged in double figures.

Brandywine will be shooting for a school record when it takes on Caledonia tonight. If the Bobcats can win, it will be the most wins ever by a Brandywine cage team in one season.

Steve McCarthy and Greg Gallas were the leading point getters for the Bobcats in their three district wins at South Haven. McCarthy, a 6-2 center, scored 58 points and Gallas 40 in Brandywine's victories over Colonia, Dowagiac and River Valley.

Caledonia finished third in the Ottawa-Kent conference Blue division, behind ranked Byron Center and Wyoming Lee. Kim Jones leads the team in scoring with a 17-point average.

The Niles - Everett pairing will not be entirely unfamiliar for either team. Two years ago, after its first "A" district title ever, Everett went up against Niles in the regional at Western and lost 82-49.

That Viking team did not have 6-8 superstar Earvin Johnson, however, and that makes a tremendous difference.

Johnson, who earned All-State honors last year as a sophomore, may get All-American honors if he and his team go far enough this year. The lanky junior forward is hitting about 24 points per game, but can rebound and pass off with the best of the guards. In December, Johnson scored 54 points for a Lansing city record. More recently, he pumped in 37 and 40 points in two Everett district wins.

Niles, a surprising winner of the Class A district at Benton Harbor, will counter with guard Tim Garner (15.8) and forward Bill Brenner (13.0).

Alabama's SEC Title Dream Comes True

Nightmare Playoffs Coming Up

From Associated Press

Eighth-ranked Alabama has fulfilled a dream night by capturing its first outright Southeastern Conference basketball title in 20 years.

However, the nightmare is just around the corner.

The Crimson Tide simply earned the deadliest path possible to a national championship when freshman Reginald King poured in eight points in overtime to give Alabama an 84-77 triumph over Vanderbilt Monday night. The victory ended ninth-ranked Tennessee's hopes of sharing the SEC crown.

It places Alabama in the NCAA Mideast Regional tournament against such awesome opposition as top-ranked Indiana, second-ranked Marquette and No. 5 North Carolina, the Tide's opening-round foe at Dayton Saturday.

Coach C. M. Newton wasn't too worried about that, though.

"When you are in a tournament with the top 32 teams in the country, it doesn't make a difference who you play or where you play," Newton said. "They are all going to be tough."

Newton, who had shared SEC titles the last two years with Vanderbilt and Kentucky, respectively, said he told his wife, Evelyn, before the game that "if you want something this badly, it's got to be sinful."

The Alabama coach had already left Nashville before it was learned that his coaching opponent, Vandy's Roy Skinner, was resigning.

Skinner, bowing to what he called the pressure of coaching, had said repeatedly this season that "this team is destroying me with all these overtimes and close games."

He had gone through four overtimes before Monday night — winning them all. "I was all torn up inside as I watched this one, just like all the others this season."

There were only three other major college games in the nation Monday night — all in the SEC.

Kentucky, bound for the National Invitation Tournament, slipped past Mississippi State in overtime 94-93 in the final game ever in the Wildcats' Memorial Coliseum. Gary Redding scored a career high 30 points as Auburn smashed Mississippi 103-88 and Florida erupted at the start of the second half with a 17-2 spurt that produced a 91-81 rout of Louisiana State.

Tennessee, which ended its regular season Saturday night, got a break in the NCAA tourney when Alabama won. The Vols will play Southern Conference champion VMI in the East Region which has only two other ranked teams — unbeaten Rutgers, No. 3, and No. 13 Virginia.

Leon Douglas led the Tide with 30 points and King contributed 27.

Streaking Irwin Joins Golf Elite

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Hale Irwin has scored two victories in the space of three weeks.

He's rapidly gaining stature as one of the world's finest players and has nailed down a spot in the elite field of champions who will play in the new World Series of Golf.

He's the year's leading money-winner with $113,612.

"I think I'll retire," the fiercely competitive golfer said facetiously Monday after his delayed, two-day, six-hole sudden death victory over Kermit Zarley for the title in the Citrus Open Golf Tournament.

He will take the next two weeks off, but retirement is far from his mind.

"Actually," Irwin said, tilting back in his chair, "there's a little tournament down the road that holds some considerable interest for me."

"The Masters?" someone asked.

"The Masters," confirmed Irwin. "I'm rather interested in that one. That's a goal."

He won one title in 1971, one in 1973, one in 1974. He won three, including an important British crown, last season. Now, with the 1976 senson just under way, he's won the Los Angeles Open and the Citrus and leads the money list.

Bargain Center Clinches First

SOUTH BEND — The Bargain Center Bombers clinched first place in the open hockey league with a 9-4 win over South Bend Sunday here at the Ice Box.

Bill Born scored two goals with single goals coming from Pat Robach, Kevin Sandel, Mark Schnieder, Gary Pollyea, Mike Parrish, Brian LaSota and Andy Paul. Vince Johnson was the winning goalie.

North Carolina Flavor For NIT

NEW YORK (AP) — There is absolutely no truth to the suggestion that the N in NIT stands for North Carolina.

Not it's still the National Invitation Tournament, the nation's oldest postseason basketball extravaganza, which completed its 12-team field Monday by naming six more clubs, including North Carolina State, 19-8, and North Carolina-Charlotte, 21-5. North Carolina A&T, 20-5, was selected Sunday.

None of those clubs is to be confused with the University of North Carolina, the nation's fifth-ranked team. And a flat turndown by Maryland, an also-soran in the Atlantic Coast Conference postseason playoffs, leaves the NIT without a Top Twenty team in the field.

North Carolina State was ranked 17th last week but the Wolfpack was upset by Virginia in the Atlantic Coast Conference playoffs and dropped out of the ratings.

The NIT, which lost its television contract this year, also was faced with having to pick from what was left after the National Collegiate Athletic Association selected its 32-team field.

Also named to the NIT Monday were San Francisco, 23-7; Kansas State, 20-7; Holy Cross, 21-6, and St. Peter's, N.J., 19-10, the only local five in a tournament which has been accused in the past of selecting teams on their ability to sell tickets rather than play basketball.

The five clubs picked Sunday along with North Carolina A&T were Louisville, 20-8; Kentucky, 15-10; Niagara, 17-11; Oregon, 19-10, and Providence, 19-8.

Kansas State, Louisville, N.C. State and Oregon were given byes for the first round of the NIT, which gets under way at Madison Square Garden Saturday with a pair of doubleheaders. In the afternoon, Kentucky faces Niagara and Providence meets North Carolina A&T. At night, San Francisco plays UNC-Charlotte and Holy Cross opposes St. Peter's.

On Monday night, March 15, Oregon goes against the USF-UNCC winner and N.C. State faces the Holy Cross-St. Peter's victor. The next evening, Louisville takes on the Providence-N.C. A&T survivor and Kansas State plays the Kentucky-Niagara winner. The finals will be held Sunday, March 21.

Meanwhile, Maryland, 22-6, upheld the ACC's recent tradition of having one of its top teams, disappointed at failing to win the conference tourney, snub the NIT. The Terrapins, 1972 NIT champs, also turned down an invitation in 1974 while N.C. State rejected a bid last year.

"It's been a long season and, we feel, a good season," said Maryland athletic director Jim Kehoe. "We don't feel we have anything to apologize for and we didn't want the season to last another 10 days or so."

Kehoe also cited high travel and lodging costs and noted that Maryland's share of the 1972 receipts barely covered expenses.

Bucks, Gaels Head Area Regional Delegation

Buchanan and Galien may be neighbors, but the styles of the two basketball teams are at times as far apart as New York and Los Angeles.

Despite the difference, however, the two schools head a five-team southwestern Michigan field into the regional phase of the Michigan High School Basketball Tournament beginning tonight.

The Bucks and Gaels, both district champs for the second straight year, join Niles, Decatur and Brandywine as area schools which still entertain state title hopes.

Buchanan and Decatur are a part of the four-team Class C field at Watervliet, the first area regional site in four years. Decatur (21-2) opens play tonight against Kalamazoo Hackett (11-12), while the Bucks, 23-0 and ranked No. 1, face White Pigeon (19-4) Thursday.

Galien, meanwhile, takes an 18-3 record against Concord (18-5) in a Wednesday game at Sturgis in a Class D regional. Brandywine and Niles both compete at Western Michigan University. The Bobcats (17-6) take on Caledonia (17-6) tonight in the Class B regional, while Niles (13-9) faces top-ranked Class A power Lansing Everett (21-1) Wednesday.

The Bucks, who lost to Albion in the regional finals last year while competing in Class B, seem to get better with each game. Buchanan ran through its district without working up a sweat. The Bucks hit 49 per cent of their shots, while winning by an average of 29.3 points per game. Buck coach Bill Wilson expects White Pigeon to give Buchanan a tougher assignment, however.

"I expect a very competitive, very aggressive game from White Pigeon," says Wilson, who used to coach at Centreville (a member of the same league White Pigeon participates in). "They play a very aggressive man-to-man defense."

White Pigeon is led by 6-7 southpaw center Al Biland, who averaged 24.3 points in three district games.

Wilson plans to put 6-6 Ken Garrett (22.0) on the hefty center.

"Ken has gone up against bigger people," Wilson adds. "Biland is a little like Bob Waalkes of Dowagiac. He's a little quicker than Waalkes, but not as strong."

Mike Busby (14.2), Walt Vanderbush (12.6) and Gerald Busby (11.0) join Garrett as double figure Buck scorers. The tenacious Buchanan man-to-man defense has also played a big part in the Bucks' success. Buchanan caused 84 turnovers by its opponents in three tourney games.

Unlike the Bucks, Galien employs a tough zone defense and leads the area with a brilliant 52.2 point mark on defense. The Gaels are the lone team from the Red Arrow conference still alive.

"Winning the district kind of salvages something from finishing second in the league," Galien coach Mike Heckathorn notes. "It's just a pleasure to still be playing."

If an edge can be given to a team at Sturgis, the Gaels may have it. They have four starters, Don Kooy, Mike Kuntz, Dale Luther and Craig Schau, returning from last year's team that won the regional but was beaten by powerhouse Detroit East Catholic 70-54 in the quarterfinals.

Kooy has been Galien's main scoring threat, hitting at an 18.5 clip per game. Joining Kooy are guard Dale Luther (14.8) and forward Rick Busher (10.1) as double figure scorers.

Galien shot an unbelievable 58 per cent in its two district wins, hitting 50 per cent against Michigan Lutheran and 67 per cent against Bridgman.

With 6-4 Rick Kuntz opening at center and the 6-2 Kooy at one forward, Galien will have a height advantage over Concord. The Yellowjackets will probably start two 5-11 forwards, Mike Jurasek and Jeff Barton, 6-1 center Marty Thompson and 5-9 guards Walt New and Terry Baker.

Jurasek leads Concord in scoring with a 20.3 average while New and Baker are putting in around 13 points per game.

Decatur, a district winner for the first time in 12 years, faces a Hackett team which is stronger than its record indicates.

Decatur had to rally twice in its three district games to gain a regional berth. Probably the team's most memorable comeback came against Hartford, which held a 16-point lead only to lose to the Raiders 62-58.

"We made some great comebacks in the district," Gibson recalls. "The kids are excited and the town is excited. We realize now, however, that we have to keep putting out because the competition will keep getting better."

Guard Kurt Wiese continues to lead Decatur with a 21.2 scoring average. Wiese pumped in 71 points last week in three district games. Jim Overley (12.0) is also scoring in double figures.

Don Juzwiak was Hackett's district hero, hitting a free throw with no time left on the clock to lift Hackett past Kalamazoo Christian in the title game at Hackett. Juzwiak, Joe Albertson and Dave Chandler all averaged in double figures.

Brandywine will be shooting for a school record when it takes on Caledonia tonight. If the Bobcats can win, it will be the most wins ever by a Brandywine cage team in one season.

Steve McCarthy and Greg Gallas were the leading point getters for the Bobcats in their three district wins at South Haven. McCarthy, a 6-2 center, scored 58 points and Gallas 40 in Brandywine's victories over Coloma, Dowagiac and River Valley.

Caledonia finished third in the Ottawa-Kent conference Blue division, behind ranked Byron Center and Wyoming Lee. Kim Jones leads the team in scoring with a 17-point average.

The Niles - Everett pairing will not be entirely unfamiliar for either team. Two years ago, after its first "A" district title ever, Everett went up against Niles in the regional at Western and lost 62-49.

That Viking team did not have 6-8 superstar Earvin Johnson, however, and that makes a tremendous difference.

Johnson, who earned All-State honors last year as a sophomore, may get All-American honors if he and his team go far enough this year. The lanky junior forward is hitting about 24 points per game, but can rebound and pass off with the best of the guards. In December Johnson scored 54 points for a Lansing city record. More recently, he pumped in 37 and 40 points in two Everett district wins.

Niles, a surprising winner of the Class A district at Benton Harbor, will counter with guard Tim Garner (15.8) and forward Bill Brenner (13.0).

Alabama's SEC Title Dream Comes True

Nightmare Playoffs Coming Up

From Associated Press

Eighth-ranked Alabama has fulfilled a dream night by capturing its first outright Southeastern Conference basketball title in 20 years.

However, the nightmare is just around the corner.

The Crimson Tide simply earned the deadliest path possible to a national championship when freshman Reginald King poured in eight points in overtime to give Alabama an 84-77 triumph over Vanderbilt Monday night. The victory ended ninth-ranked Tennessee's hopes of sharing the SEC crown.

It places Alabama in the NCAA Mideast Regional tournament against such awesome opposition as top-ranked Indiana, second-ranked Marquette and No. 5 North Carolina, the Tide's opening-round foe at Dayton Saturday.

Coach C. M. Newton wasn't too worried about that, though.

"When you are in a tournament with the top 32 teams in the country, it doesn't make a difference who you play or where you play," Newton said. "They are all going to be tough."

Newton, who had shared SEC titles the last two years with Vanderbilt and Kentucky, respectively, said he told his wife, Evelyn, before the game that "if you want something this badly, it's got to be sinful."

The Alabama coach had already left Nashville before it was learned that his coaching opponent, Vandy's Roy Skinner, was resigning.

Skinner, bowing to what he called the pressure of coaching, had said repeatedly this season that "this team is destroying me with all these overtimes and close games."

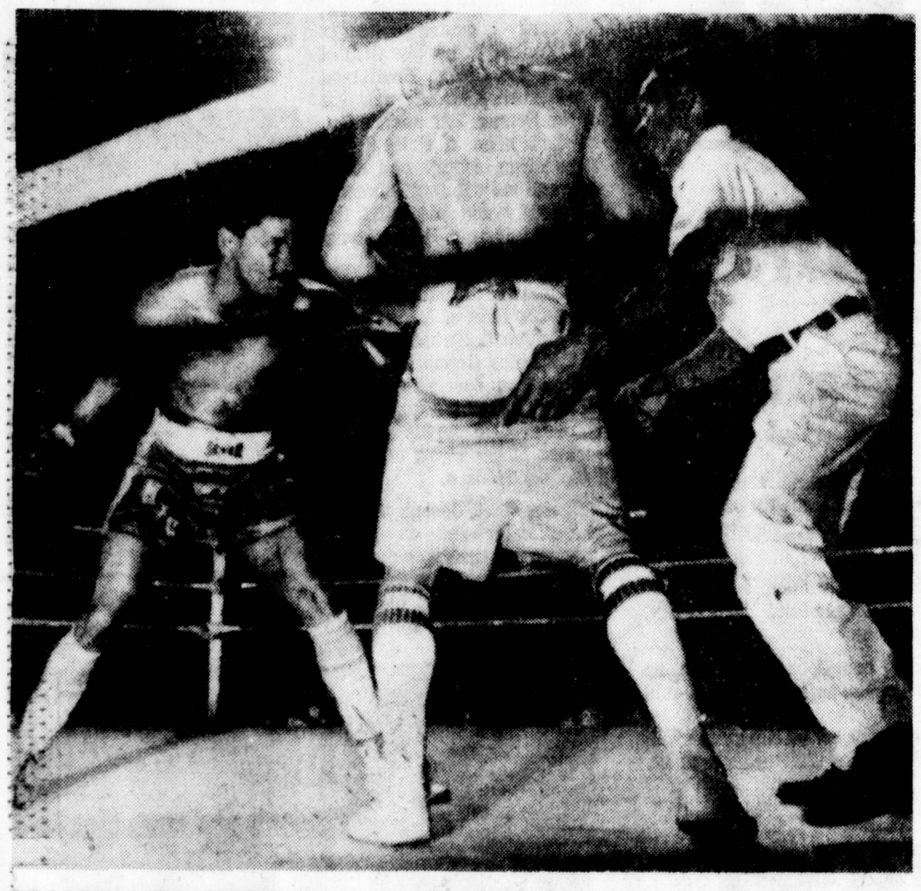

He had gone through four overtimes before Monday night — winning them all. "I was all torn up inside as I watched this one, just like all the others this season."

There were only three other major college games in the nation Monday night — all in the SEC.

Kentucky, bound for the National Invitation Tournament, slipped past Mississippi State in overtime 94-93 in the final game ever in the Wildcats' Memorial Coliseum. Gary Redding scored a career high 30 points as Auburn smashed Mississippi 103-88 and Florida erupted at the start of the second half with a 17-2 spurt that produced a 94-81 rout of Louisiana State.

Tennessee, which ended its regular season Saturday night, got a break in the NCAA tourney when Alabama won. The Vols will play Southern Conference champion VMI in the East Region which has only two other ranked teams — unbeaten Rutgers, No. 3, and No. 13 Virginia.

Leon Douglas led the Tide with 30 points and King contributed 27.

DROOPING DRAWERS: Maurice Quillan of New Orleans takes advantage of Andre Love's slipping trunks to get in a couple of hits during their six-round pro fight in New Orleans Monday night. Love, who fights out of Houston, Tex., started losing his trunks in the third round when the elastic band gave away. Although Love's trunks slipped repeatedly, he never did lose them completely, thanks to several assists by the referee. But Love did lose the decision. (AP Wirephoto)

Streaking Irwin Joins Golf Elite

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Hale Irwin has scored two victories in the space of three weeks.

He's rapidly gaining stature as one of the world's finest players and has nailed down a spot in the elite field of champions who will play in the new World Series of Golf.

He's the year's leading money-winner with $113,612.

He will take the next two weeks off, but retirement is far from his mind.

Baseball Negotiations Resume Today

Veteran Players Hold Own Meeting

NEW YORK (AP) — Spring is the time of optimism in the baseball world, when there are no losses and everybody has a chance to have some fun in the sun.

This season there has been no spring, only a continuation of winter, and the prospects for an immediate thaw in the situation appears about as likely as Commissioner Bowie Kuhn inviting Marvin Miller to toss out the first ball of the regular season.

If there is a first ball.

The owners and players are so wide apart as they head into their 26th negotiating session today that a group of some 25 veteran players has made its own pitch to Miller, executive director of the Players Association.

The players' meeting in St. Petersburg, Fla., called at the request of Cincinnati Reds slugger Johnny Bench, was for the purpose of gaining some information.

"Maybe if we all get together we can make more progress on this thing," Bench said before the 15-minute meeting. "I want to find out what's really going on.

"I have to admit I am confused. Besides, I want to know who's telling him (Miller) what to ask for. The majority of the guys down here are leaders on their clubs and I thought it would be a good idea if we got together and discussed the situation."

At the conclusion of the session, held at Tom Seaver's unofficial practice camp, the players asked Seaver and Joe Torre of the New York Mets to ask Miller if he could set up a meeting between the 24 player representatives and the club owners.

"They are concerned that the owners are not getting accurate reports," Miller said. "It (the request) was in the vein of 'Let's see if we can make sure there's communication.'"

Miller promptly invited the 24 owners to meet with the association's executive board Thursday in Tampa, Fla. John J. Gaherin, the owners' representative, said the invitation would be discussed at today's session.

Miller said the players getting involved in the actual negotiations was "a fine idea," but when asked if it would stimulate a solution to the unproductive negotiations, he said, "probably not, but when you're stuck, you try everything."

The fact that there is a 26th bargaining session is about the only cause for optimism in the dispute that caused the owners to close the spring training camps indefinitely and had negotiators for both sides trading accusations after their last meeting on Friday.

As Bench learned from Monday's meeting, the issue dividing the parties is a thorny one.

"I thought it was just a problem they had in negotiating," Bench said. "But I can see now it's a complex legal problem."

That legal dispute involves the issue of retroactivity, whether Miller can strip the players of their free agency rights won in a landmark arbitration case last December.

St. Joe Staying With Big Seven

By JOHN VANDEN HEEDE

St. Joseph is not pulling out of the Big Seven Conference.

"There's absolutely no truth to that rumor," says St. Joe athletic director George Waning. "We couldn't be more pleased with the conference."

But Waning says some thoughts have been tossed about concerning the future of the conference, including the possibility of adding more teams and and splitting the league into divisions.

Kalamazoo Central becomes an official member of the conference next fall, and league officals have received an application bid from Battle Creek Central.

When asked about other possibilities, Waning said: "I think you can go right up the lake." (It's been said that Grand Haven and Fruitport are interested.)

"As a conference, I think we should look three or four years in advance," continues Waning.

Under current enrollment trends, St. Joe will drop from a Class A to B athletic classification in a few more years while playing league schools nearly twice its size.

If the league grew — possibly to as many as 12 teams — it could be split into divisions, with the six biggest schools in one and the smaller ones in the other. There then could be shifts between the divisions according to enrollment changes.

It could operate much like the current Ottawa-Kent Conference, which has the Red, White and Blue Divisions.

Waning says a large conference would solve some scheduling problems. And he said conference meets in some sports could involve all schools.

The league was the Big Six until Holland and Battle Creek Lakeview joined this year and Dowagiac pulled out, and it will become the Big Eight with next fall's addition of Kalamazoo Central.

Battle Creek Central will be making its third bid to get into the conference, with the decision set for the May meeting. The application has been turned down twice previously by the league.

Meanwhile, the LMAC, which includes Benton Harbor, will be considering an application from Battle Creek Central later this month.

Lake Superior Upset NAIA Winner

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Three seeded teams fell by the wayside Monday in first-round action of the NAIA National Tournament, with third-seeded Alcorn, Miss., the most notable casualty.

Lake Superior State, Mich., here by virtue of something of a miracle in the first place, whipped heavily favored Alcorn 80-79. The other upsets found Lincoln Memorial, Tenn., knocking off seventh-seeded Guilford, N.C., College, 101-95, and Doane College tumbling 12th-seeded Norfolk State, 80-79.

In other first-round action Monday, top-seeded Fairmont, W.Va., survived a scare to pull out a 56-52 victory over Howard Payne, Tex.; Illinois Wesleyan whipped Southwest Baptist of Bolivar, Mo., 100-84; Coppin State beat Bowling Green 78-55; California Baptist overcame previously undefeated Hesston College 91-85, and Texas Southern whizzed by West Florida 81-59.

Minnesota May Release Names

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The University of Minnesota is expected to release Wednesday the names of persons its investigation has shown to have been involved in National Collegiate Athletic Association rules violations.

The NCAA customarily does not name violators publicly. However, Russell D. Tall, director of university relations, said that, assuming the NCAA announces its penalties against the Gopher basketball team, the university will disclose the names it's own investigation has turned up.

The university apparently hasn't appealed the NCAA penalties. If it had appealed, the NCAA would not make an announcement for another month or two until it had considered the appeal.

Ashe Wins MSU Benefit

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Arthur Ashe, ranked by the U.S. Tennis Association as the world's No. 1 player, proved it to about 3,800 tennis fans Monday night by defeating longtime opponent Dennis Ralston, 7-5, 6-4.

The game, played in Jenison Field House on the Michigan State University campus, was a benefit for junior tennis development in the East Lansing area.

Ashe and Ralston played each other 12 years ago in East Lansing in the NCAA tennis championships. Ralston, from the University of Southern California, defeated Ashe, from UCLA.

Scott And Eastern 'Close'

DETROIT (AP) — Former Detroit Pistons Coach Ray Scott says he is "close" to becoming head basketball coach at Eastern Michigan University.

The former national Basketball Association player told Detroit radio station WJR Monday that only a few minor points in the contract are left to be ironed out.

The station quoted a source close to both Scott and EMU as saying that a contract will be signed tonight and that an official announcement will be made Thursday morning.

EMU officials have said they would make the decision on the new head coach by Wednesday.

Pontiac Bean Bowl Proposed

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Sugar Bowl, the Orange Bowl, the Cotton Bowl — the Bean Bowl?

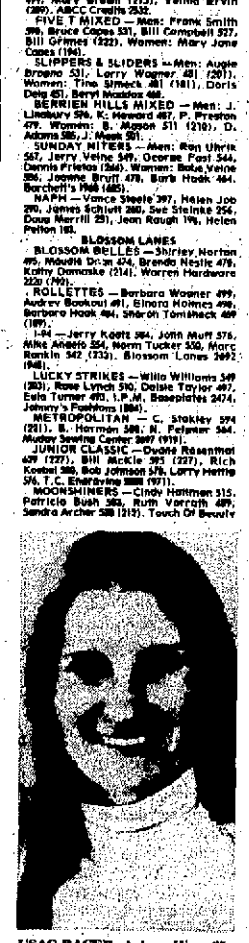

Yes, if some Michigan legislators have their way. A resolution asking the Pontiac Stadium Authority to establish a Bean Bowl football game in Michigan is headed for the Senate.

The House on Monday approved the resolution, sponsored by Rep. Donald Albosta, D-St. Charles, on a voice vote.

The resolution notes that the theme of a post-season football bowl often centers around an agricultural product like cotton, sugar or oranges.

TOM PELON

Fennville Coach Resigns

FENNVILLE — Tom Pelon resigned Monday as Fennville basketball coach.

Pelon, who coached the Blackhawks to a 39-45 record in four years at the helm, cited several reasons for his resignation.

"I've been coaching three sports for a couple of years now," Pelon said. "I just have a few other goals. I want to go on and get my masters and I would like to spend a little more time with my wife, Myrna.

"I'm certainly not resigning because of a lack of personnel coming up in the system," he added. "I think we have some excellent juniors coming back next year including five who started at one time or another this season. We also had a great sophomore team."

Pelon said his decision was a tough one to make but felt it was an ideal time to get out of coaching.

"I'm going out enjoying basketball," he said. "I think that's the way to go out. I had a lot of support from the school and we had a relatively successful season."

Fennville finished this past season with a 14-8 record, but six of the losses came by five points or less. The Blackhawks set a lot of individual marks, including Marc Moeller's single-game school record of 63 points against Goblus.

Pelon, who also was junior varsity football and baseball coach, wants to finish the work for his Master's Degree at either Western Michigan, where he began his degree work, or at Central Michigan. His future plans after that are undecided.

Houseal, Johns Pointek Take Two Gold Medals

KALAMAZOO — Ann Houseal, Sue Piontek and Kirsten Johns all captured two gold medals apiece in the Western Michigan YMCA District Swimming Championships held at Kalamazoo College Saturday.

In the 15-over girls age group, Houseal won the 100-yard backstroke. Piontek took the 50-yard freestyle and Johns the 100-yard breastroke. All three then teamed with Karen Hettig to win the 200-yard medley relay.

The only other gold medal won was by Robert Parks in the 50-yard freestyle for 13-14 year old boys.

Silver medals went to Maria Houseal in the 10-under 50-yard butterfly, Piontek in the 100-backstroke and Parks in the 100-yard breastroke.

Maria Houseal won a bronze medal in the 50-freestyle.

All gold medal winners qualify for the regional meet.

Records Reveal LeFlore Older

DETROIT (AP) — Youthful Detroit Tigers outfielder Ron LeFlore is not as young as he says he is.

LeFlore, who says he's 23, will be 28 years old on June 16.

Detroit police, state corrections department and driver's license records say the speedy Tiger was born in 1948 — not 1952, as the Tigers believe.

His birth certificate in Detroit's Division of Vital Statistics confirms he's older than the Tigers think.

LeFlore, in Lakeland, Fla., awaiting the opening of spring training, would not comment. He has often been referred to as the leader of the Tigers' youth rebuilding program.

Tiger General Manager Jim Campbell said it doesn't matter how old LeFlore is.

"Frankly, it's of no concern to me," Campbell said. "I could care less.... The only concern I have is that he can play ball."

LeFlore, paroled from Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson in 1973, has frequently told interviewers he was a hip teenager when he and friends held up an East Side bar in 1970, were caught and sent to prison. Actually, LeFlore had served time twice before in state correctional facilities.

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Sugar Bowl, the Orange Bowl, the Cotton Bowl — the Bean Bowl?

Yes, if some Michigan legislators have their way. A resolution asking the Pontiac Stadium Authority to establish a Bean Bowl football game in Michigan is headed for the Senate.

The House on Monday approved the resolution, sponsored by Rep. Donald Albosta, D-St. Charles, on a voice vote.

The resolution notes that the theme of a post-season football bowl often centers around an agricultural product like cotton, sugar or oranges.

Houseal, Johns Pointek Take Two Gold Medals

KALAMAZOO — Ann Houseal, Sue Piontek and Kirsten Johns all captured two gold medals apiece in the Western Michigan YMCA District Swimming Championships held at Kalamazoo College Saturday.

In the 15-over girls age group, Houseal won the 100-yard backstroke, Piontek took the 50-yard freestyle and Johns the 100-yard breastroke. All three then teamed with Karen Hettig to win the 200-yard medley relay.

The only other gold medal won was by Robert Parks in the 50-yard freestyle for 13-14 year old boys.

Silver medals went to Maria Houseal in the 10-under 50-yard butterfly, Piontek in the 100-backstroke and Parks in the 100-yard breastroke.

Maria Houseal won a bronze medal in the 50-freestyle.

All gold medal winners qualify for the regional meet.

TOM PELON

Fennville Coach Resigns

FENNVILLE — Tom Pelon resigned Monday as Fennville basketball coach.

Pelon, who coached the Blackhawks to a 39-45 record in four years at the helm, cited several reasons for his resignation.

"I've been coaching three sports for a couple of years now," Pelon said. "I just have a few other goals. I want to go on and get my masters and I would like to spend a little more time with my wife, Myrna.

"I'm certainly not resigning because of a lack of personnel coming up in the system," he added. "I think we have some excellent juniors coming back next year including five who started at one time or another this season. We also had a great sophomore team."

Pelon said his decision was a tough one to make but felt it was an ideal time to get out of coaching.

"I'm going out enjoying basketball," he said. "I think that's the way to go out. I had a lot of support from the school and we had a relatively successful season."

Fennville finished this past season with a 14-8 record, but six of the losses came by five points or less. The Blackhawks set a lot of individual marks, including Marc Moeller's single-game school record of 63 points against Gobles.

Pelon, who also was junior varsity football and baseball coach, wants to finish the work for his Master's Degree at either Western Michigan, where he began his degree work, or at Central Michigan. His future plans after that are undecided.

Records Reveal LeFlore Older

DETROIT (AP) — Youthful Detroit Tigers outfielder Ron LeFlore is not as young as he says he is.

LeFlore, who says he's 23, will be 28 years old on June 16.

Detroit police, state corrections department and driver's license records say the speedy Tiger was born in 1948 — not 1952, as the Tigers believe.

His birth certificate in Detroit's Division of Vital Statistics confirms he's older than the Tigers think.

LeFlore, in Lakeland, Fla., awaiting the opening of spring training, would not comment. He has often been referred to as the leader of the Tigers' youth rebuilding program.

Tiger General Manager Jim Campbell said it doesn't matter how old LeFlore is.

"Frankly, it's of no concern to me," Campbell said. "I could care less.... The only concern I have is that he can play ball."

LeFlore, paroled from Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson in 1973, has frequently told interviewers he was a hip teenager when he and friends held up an East Side bar in 1970, were caught and sent to prison. Actually, LeFlore had served time twice before in state correctional facilities.

By JOHN VANDEN HEEDE

Some southern states have been complaining about their waterfowl seasons and bag limits being to small.

They've even threatened to pull out of the regulating Mississippi Flyway Council.

But Michigan Department of Natural Resources waterfowl expert Ed Mikula is hopeful all will be resolved before the hunting season rolls around again next fall.

Much of our waterfowl winters in the southern states, so many in Louisiana, Alabama and Missippi don't like it when the season ends and there are still plenty of ducks around.

Mississippi Flyway regulations are decided on a democratic basis and all states get the same hunting season options.

"Folks in the south tend to have more exploitative type of philosophy than people in the north," declares Mikula. "People in the north are more resource oriented and more conservative."

Mikula says Mississippi Flyway hunting regulations must be more conservative than other parts of the country because of the high numbers of hunters. The flyway has more than 40 per cent of the country's shooters and accounts for more than 40 per cent of the harvest.

And hunters in the south get their share. In 1975 Louisiana shooters took close to three million ducks while accounting for between 20 to 30 per cent of the total flyway harvest.

"They have some of the highest harvests for the total number of ducks killed per hunter," adds Mikula while noting that Louisiana and Minnesota provide about half of the total kill.

Even if the southern states pulled out of the Mississippi Flyway Council, they would still have to follow the unit's federal guidelines. Their probable hope as an independent would be to obtain more liberal regulations through having legislators apply political pressure in Washington.

In summing up the hoped for outcome of current discussion with southern states, Mikula is optimistic.

"I don't think there will be any concessions," he says, "just better dialogue and maybe a little more response to their ideas."

Meanwhile, the preliminary outlook for next fall's season is encouraging, with the breeding population now being higher than a year ago. But, of course, the success of the season will depend on how many ducks are raised this summer.

The point system seems certain to remain as a method of determining bag limits, with some minor changes.

The 10-point ducks like blue-winged teal, green-winged teal and scaup could have a 15-point value this fall. And it's quite possible that all areas will be open for hunting redheads and canvasbacks.

Tackle Swap-N-Shop Slated For March 20

The Southwestern Chapter of the Michigan Steelheaders will hold its first annual Sport-fishing Tackle Swap-N-Shop Saturday, March 20, from noon to 5 p.m. at the Youth Fairgrounds in Berrien prings.

The price of admission will be a $1 donation.

Persons wishing to sell fishing equipment, including boats, will be able to rent a table or space for a $2 donation.

Area tackle shops and dealers have also been invited, and some have indicated they will attend and offer close-out and trade-in items.

A table or boat space may be rented by writing Southwestern Michigan Steelheaders, P.O. Box 141, St. Joseph, Mich. 49085. Interested persons may also call Joe Kimmerly in Niles (683-5760) or Don Troop in St. Joseph (429-7265).

Twin Lakes Watercraft Restrictions Considered

Watercraft restrictions for Twin Lakes in Cass county are expected to get tentative approval this week from the Natural Resources Commission.

Under the the guidelines, an operator of a motorboat, between the hours of 6:30 p.m. and 10 a.m. the following day, could not operate his craft at high speed (planing condition) or have in tow, or otherwise assist in the propulsion of, a person on water skis, water sled, kite, surfboard or other similar contrivance.

The expected NRC recommendation comes after a public hearing where it was revealed a conflict between the interests of boaters and fishermen exists.

Twin Lakes is located in Wayne township and covers about 116 acres in total area.

Fishing Report

You know spring is near when fishing gets underway on inland lakes, and that's exactly what's happening in southwestern Michigan.

Perch have started to hit in shallow water, with Diamond Lake in Cass county and Eagle Lake in Van Buren county among the best waters.

The Department of Natural Resources has also noted bluegill fishing on the channels of Painter and Eagle Lakes in Cass county and on Stone Lake, also in Cass county.

Sucker fishing was also underway before major area rivers flooded their banks, and it is expected to continue when the water subsides.

The same holds for steelhead fishing on the St. Joseph, Kalamazoo, Black and Galien Rivers. Spawn bags seem to be the favorite bait of steelhead anglers.

Drugs Kill Heartworm

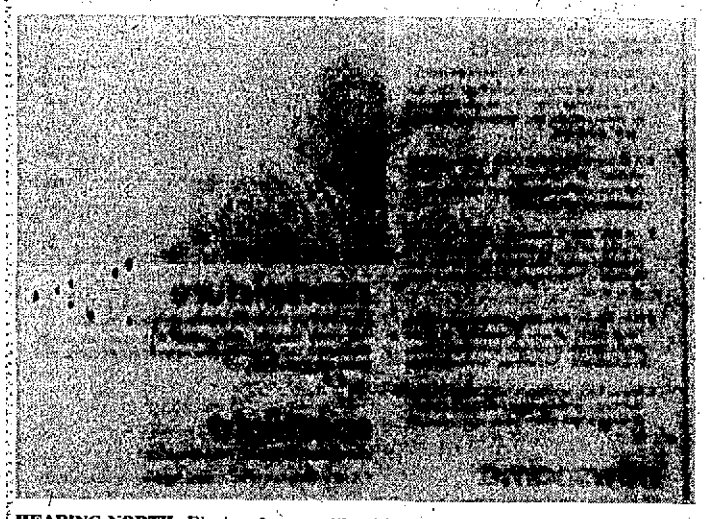

The canine heartworm disease is not always futal — when detected in time.

Drugs are available which kill the long white worms called "dirofilaria immitis."

In its early stages it can be detected by a blood test. But when the heartworms become adults, a veterinarian must use x-rays, repeated blood examination and other laboratory tests.

Canine heartworm disease is transmitted by mosquitos. When biting an infected dog, a mosquito may take up blood containing immature stages of the heartworm.

After a two-week incubation period in the mosquito, they develop into infective larvae. If these larvae are transmitted by the mosquito to another dog, they migrate through the body to the heart. There they grow to an adult size of six to 14 inches in about five to six months.

Record Muskie Caught On Hamlin Lake

The New Year was only a few hours old when Ludington fisherman Robert D. Sladick hooked onto a state record tiger muskellunge in Mason County's Hamlin Lake.

Sladick caught his 32-pound, 49½-inch-long prize-winner on Jan. 2, topping the previous record set in 1974 by one pound. Tiger muskies are a hybrid cross between northern pike and northern muskellunge.

The fisherman also becomes the state's first in 1976 to qualify for a Master Angler Award from the Department of Natural Resources. The awards are given to anglers who catch fish meeting minimum weights for any of 36 species found in Michigan waters. Awards went to 240 fishermen in 1975 (including 12 who landed state record fish).

Entry rules are simple — have two witnesses attest in writing to the weight of the catch, use certified state scales and record scales' serial number, and submit entries to the DNR Fisheries Division, Mason Building, Lansing 48926.

Coyote Bounty Critic

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A 40-year-old bounty system on coyotes which costs the state about $50,000 a year is a waste of money, say officials of the Michigan's Department of Natural Resources. "It's like pouring money down a rat-hole," said David Jenkins, chief of the DNR wildlife division. The reward for coyote carcasses is the last bounty remaining in the state, Jenkins pointed out in an interview this week. Bounties once were paid for slain bobcats, foxes and timber wolves, but these were outlawed in the 1960s, he added. Most of Michigan's coyotes, Jenkins said, are found in the Upper Peninsula, where proponents of the bounty argue that the animals help decimate the deer and small game population. But Jenkins contended that, as a predator, the coyote has had little impact on state game.

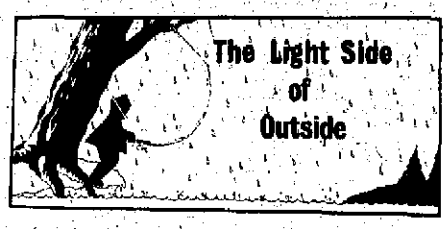

NUNGRY BAT

The tiny bat has a big appetite. It will eat a quarter of its weight at one meal and more than half of its weight every night.

There's no question that with the built-in coziness of traditional snowmobile garb, a woman can tolerate all kinds of inclemencies while in pursuit of winter fun. But it's a bulky uniform and when bumpy trail moguls lend urgency to nature's beckon, a considerable time is required for the response.

Fortunately. . .in these matters. . .snowmobiles make a lot of noise, so silence up and down the trail assures the required solitude. But cross-country skis don't make all that much noise, . .so you can imagine the rest of the story.

The setting. . .a snowmobile parked in a little gully on the trail between Tahquamenon Falls State Park and the community of Paradise.

The characters. . .a large woman, thoroughly engrossed, and a Finnish park ranger who regularly commutes on skis.

Action. . .considerable.

A lowering sun and thoughts of a hot coffee pot add extra thrust to ski poles and known downgrades are approached with great vigor. Thus, considerable speed had been generated before comprehension and the moment of truth arrived together.

Any effort to decelerate, reverse directions or take to the woods offered great potential for tangled skis and prolonged proximity to a nervous situation. To my friend Bill's credit, he did not panic but elected to continue on course with even greater haste, gluing his eyes on the tree tops and permitting his skis to select their own passage through the bedlam now under way.

Being veterans, the skis performed admirably and in an instant, a forest encounter was over.

No greetings were exchanged. . .

Mill Pond Boating Controls Considered

A slow — no wake — speed restriction for boaters on the Dowagiac Mill Pond in Cass county is expected to get tentative approval this week from the Natural Resources Commission.

The recommendation follows two public hearings where testimony indicated a safety problem would result if high-speed boating was permitted. There were also comments about possible noise and erosion problems.

The Mill Pond was recently enlarged to about 200 acres when the City of Dowagiac rebuilt a dam on Dowagiac Creek. The impoundment has a maximum depth of 10 feet, but the major portion is less than five feet deep and has many stumps and partially submerged obstructions.

Some southern states have been complaining about their waterfowl seasons and bag limits being to small.

They've even threatened to pull out of the regulating Mississippi Flyway Council.

But Michigan Department of Natural Resources waterfowl expert Ed Mikula is hopeful all will be resolved before the hunting season rolls around again next fall.

Much of our waterfowl winters in the southern states, so many in Louisiana, Alabama and Missippi don't like it when the season ends and there are still plenty of ducks around.

Mississippi Flyway regulations are decided on a democratic basis and all states get the same hunting season options.

"Folks in the south tend to have more exploitative type of philosophy than people in the north," declares Mikula. "People in the north are more resource oriented and more conservative."

Mikula says Mississippi Flyway hunting regulations must be more conservative than other parts of the country because of the high numbers of hunters. The flyway has more than 40 per cent of the country's shooters and accounts for more than 40 per cent of the harvest.

And hunters in the south get their share. In 1975 Lousiana shooters took close to three million ducks while accounting for between 20 to 30 per cent of the total flyway harvest.

"They have some of the highest harvests for the total number of ducks killed per hunter," adds Mikula while noting that Louisiana and Minnesota provide about half of the total kill.

Even if the southern states pulled out of the Mississippi Flyway Council, they would still have to follow the unit's federal guidelines. Their probable hope as an independent would be to obtain more liberal regulations through having legislators apply political pressure in Washington.

In summing up the hoped for outcome of current discussion with southern states, Mikula is optimistic.

"I don't think there will be any concessions," he says, "just better dialogue and maybe a little more response to their ideas."

Meanwhile, the preliminary outlook for next fall's season is encouraging, with the breeding population now being higher than a year ago. But, of course, the success of the season will depend on how many ducks are raised this summer.

The point system seems certain to remain as a method of determining bag limits, with some minor changes.

The 10-point ducks like blue-winged teal, green-winged teal and scaup could have a 15-point value this fall. And it's quite possible that all areas will be open for hunting redheads and canvasbacks.

Tackle Swap-N-Shop Slated For March 20

The Southwestern Chapter of the Michigan Steelheaders will hold its first annual Sportfishing Tackle Swap-N-Shop Saturday, March 20, from noon to 5 p.m. at the Youth Fairgrounds in Berrien prings.

The price of admission will be a $1 donation.

Persons wishing to sell fishing equipment, including boats, will be able to rent a table or space for a $2 donation.

Area tackle shops and dealers have also been invited, and some have indicated they will attend and offer close-out and trade-in items.

A table or boat space may be rented by writing Southwestern Michigan Steelheaders, P.O. Box 141, St. Joseph, Mich. 49085. Interested persons may also call Joe Kimmerly in Niles (683-5760) or Don Troop in St. Joseph (429-7265).

Twin Lakes Watercraft Restrictions Considered

Watercraft restrictions for Twin Lakes in Cass county are expected to get tentative approval this week from the Natural Resources Commission.

Under the the guidelines, an operator of a motorboat, between the hours of 6:30 p.m. and 10 a.m. the following day, could not operate his craft at high speed (planing condition) or have in tow, or otherwise assist in the propulsion of, a person on water skis, water sled, kite, surfboard or other similar contrivance.

The expected NRC recommendation comes after a public hearing where it was revealed a conflict between the interests of boaters and fishermen exists.

Twin Lakes is located in Wayne township and covers about 110 acres in total area.

Fishing Report

You know spring is near when fishing gets underway on inland lakes, and that's exactly what's happening in southwestern Michigan.

Perch have started to hit in shallow water, with Diamond Lake in Cass county and Eagle Lake in Van Buren county among the best waters.

The Department of Natural Resources has also noted bluegill fishing on the channels of Painter and Eagle Lakes in Cass county and on Stone Lake, also in Cass county.

Sucker fishing was also underway before major area rivers flooded their banks, and it is expected to continue when the water subsides.

The same holds for steelhead fishing on the St. Joseph, Kalamazoo, Black and Galien Rivers. Spawn bags seem to be the favorite bait of steelhead anglers.

Drugs Kill Heartworm

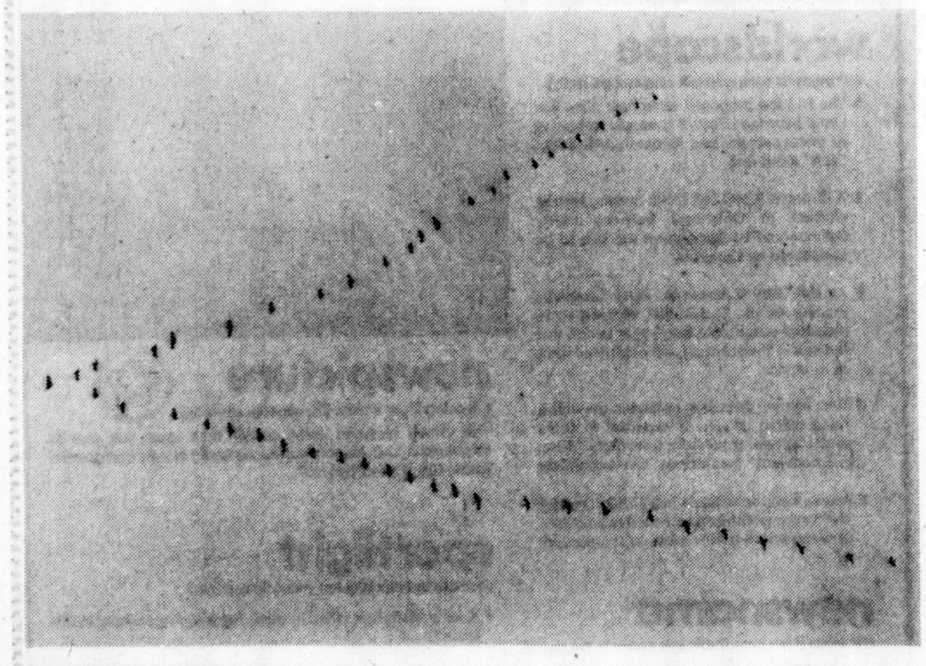

The canine heartworm disease is not always fatal — when detected in time.

Drugs are available which kill the long white worms called "dirofilaria immitis."

In its early stages it can be detected by a blood test. But when the heartworms become adults, a veterinarian must use x-rays, repeated blood examination and other laboratory tests.

Canine heartworm disease is transmitted by mosquitos. When biting an infected dog, a mosquito may take up blood containing immature stages of the heartworm.

After a two-week incubation period in the mosquito, they develop into infective larvae. If these larvae are transmitted by the mosquito to another dog, they migrate through the body to the heart. There they grow to an adult size of six to 14 inches in about five to six months.

Record Muskie Caught On Hamlin Lake

The New Year was only a few hours old when Ludington fisherman Robert D. Sladick hooked onto a state record tiger muskellunge in Mason County's Hamlin Lake.

Sladick caught his 32-pound, 49⅛-inch-long prize-winner on Jan. 2, topping the previous record set in 1974 by one pound. Tiger muskies are a hybrid cross between northern pike and northern muskellunge.

The fisherman also becomes the state's first in 1976 to qualify for a Master Angler Award from the Department of Natural Resources. The awards are given to anglers who catch fish meeting minimum weights for any of 36 species found in Michigan waters. Awards went to 240 fishermen in 1975 (including 12 who landed state record fish).

Entry rules are simple — have two witnesses attest in writing to the weight of the catch, use certified state scales and record scales' serial number, and submit entries to the DNR Fisheries Division, Mason Building, Lansing 48926.

Coyote Bounty Critic

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A 40-year-old bounty system on coyotes which costs the state about $50,000 a year is a waste of money, say officials of the Michigan's Department of Natural Resources. "It's like pouring money down a rat-hole," said David Jenkins, chief of the DNR wildlife division. The reward for coyote carcasses is the last bounty remaining in the state, Jenkins pointed out in an interview this week. Bounties once were paid for slain bobcats, foxes and timber wolves, but these were outlawed in the 1960s, he added. Most of Michigan's coyotes, Jenkins said, are found in the Upper Peninsula, where proponents of the bounty argue that the animals help decimate the deer and small game population. But Jenkins contended that, as a predator, the coyote has had little impact on state game.

HUNGRY BAT

The tiny bat has a big appetite. It will eat a quarter of its weight at one meal and more than half of its weight every night.

DOG SLED WINNER: Barbara Gardner of Anchorage, Alaska, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Trickett of Andrews University, Berrien Springs, races to a first place in recent dog sled race in Alaska. The event was the annual Cheechako Dog Sled Race, held at Chugiak, which is about 18 miles from Anchorage. Barbara works in advertising sales for KANC radio in Anchorage.

There's no question that with the built-in coziness of traditional snowmobile garb, a woman can tolerate all kinds of inclemencies while in pursuit of winter fun. But it's a bulky uniform and when bumpy trail moguls lend urgency to nature's beckon, a considerable time is required for the response.

Fortunately. . .in these matters. . .snowmobiles make a lot of noise, so silence up and down the trail assures the required solitude. But cross-country skis don't make all that much noise. . .so you can imagine the rest of the story.

The setting. . .a snowmobile parked in a little gully on the trail between Tahquamenon Falls State Park and the community of Paradise.

The characters. . .a large woman, thoroughly engrossed, and a Finnish park ranger who regularly commutes on skis.

Action. . .considerable.

A lowering sun and thoughts of a hot coffee pot add extra thrust to ski poles and known downgrades are approached with great vigor. Thus, considerable speed had been generated before comprehension and the moment of truth arrived together.

Any effort to decelerate, reverse directions or take to the woods offered great potential for tangled skis and prolonged proximity to a nervous situation. To my friend Bill's credit, he did not panic but elected to continue on course with even greater haste, gluing his eyes on the tree tops and permitting his skis to select their own passage through the bedlam now under way.

Being veterans, the skis performed admirably and in an instant, a forest encounter was over.

No greetings were exchanged. . .

Mill Pond Boating Controls Considered

A slow — no wake — speed restriction for boaters on the Dowagiac Mill Pond in Cass county is expected to get tentative approval this week from the Natural Resources Commission.

The recommendation follows two public hearings where testimony indicated a safety problem would result if high-speed boating was permitted. There were also comments about possible noise and erosion problems.

The Mill Pond was recently enlarged to about 200 acres when the City of Dowagiac rebuilt a dam on Dowagiac Creek. The impoundment has a maximum depth of 10 feet, but the major portion is less than five feet deep and has many stumps and partially submerged obstructions.

BH Will Divide Its Legal Chores Between 2 Lawyers

In a relatively quiet meeting last night, the Benton Harbor city commission voted to hire two attorneys to perform the city's legal business previously assigned to fired-City Atty. Yvonne Hughes.

The commission voted to hire — on a contractual basis — Benton Harbor Atty. K. Morris Gavin to perform "routine, day-to-day" legal business and Grand Rapids Atty. Benjamin H. Logan II to represent the city in major suits.

Atty. Logan is representing Mayor Charles Joseph and four city commissioners in a suit filed in Berrien Circuit court challenging the legality of Mrs. Helen Ford's appointment to the city commission.

Atty. Gavin was retained by the city commission in January to provide a second opinion to Atty. Hughes' opinion that said recommended pay increases for the mayor and city commissioners were improper and in violation of city charter.

Mayor Joseph offered the resolution to hire the two attorneys and objections to the hirings were raised by Commissioners Charles Yarbrough and Arnold Bolin.

Yarbrough questioned Logan's work for Joseph and asked about the cost of hiring two attorneys to do the job of one.

Joseph responded that he believed that the two attorney could save the city money and said costs would be "far less than the $47,500 we spent on the law department during 1975." While admitting no contracts have been drawn up, Joseph said he was prepared to pay the attorneys under the same formula used to pay Gavin for his earlier services — $35 per hour.

Gavin said during the meeting that he expects his work for the city to take approximately 20 hours a week. He said after the meeting that he hoped an agreement could be reached so that the attorneys could be paid in a "lump sum" which he said would save money for the city and the attorneys because it would simplify their bookkeeping procedures.

Bolin argued that an interview with the attorneys prior to their hiring would have been "a matter of good business" and said city employes were interviewed before hiring. Joseph offered to withdraw his motion so that an interview could be conducted but an earlier motion to "move to the previous question" by Commissioner Winston Minott brought the issue on the floor.

Commissioners Bolin, Yarbrough and Edmund Eaman voted against the hiring of Logan and Commissioner Charles Shepherd abstained. Yarbrough cast the only dissenting vote on the hiring of Gavin.

In contrast to recent meetings, temper flare-ups were largely subdued at the meeting last night and outbursts from the large crowd attending the meeting were quickly suppressed as "out of order" by Mayor Joseph.

In other business:

The commission approved a $12,000 contract with the Benton Harbor architectural firm of Wayne C. Hatfield and Associates to conduct an inventory of buildings in the city' central business district and to build a model showing development plans for the downtown business section.

The commission voted to promote Maung Thu Din, accounting supervisor in the city's finance department, to deputy finance director. City Manager James Peeples said Din, who has been working for the city for the past year and a half, will receive a salary of approximately $14,920.

Saying he has received numerous complaints from citizens, Commissioner Winston Minott asked the press to notify citizens that the city is not responsible for setting gas and electrical rates. Minott said gas and electrical rates are set by state and federal agencies and urged citizens to forward their complaints about high bills to them.

The commission approved naming the Twin Cities Joint Sewer board as lead applicant for a federal grant to finance the first step of a sewer study of the greater Twin Cities area.

Municipalities involved in the area to be studied are the Cities of Benton Harbor and St. Joseph and Villages of Shoreham and Stevensville, and the Townships of St. Joseph, Benton, Royalton, Sodus and Hagar.

The commission agreed to again review complaints against the police department by Lawrence C. Sherman, who was arrested by city police Nov. 21 for failure to yield the right-of-way and fleeing police. Sherman told the commission that he was not consulted regarding his complaints when the original investigation was conducted. After that investigation, Police Chief Andre Radez reported that no police harassment was indicated in the arrest.

Mayor Explains Absence

Benton Harbor Mayor Charles F. Joseph said he traveled to "seven or eight different places" last week in an attempt to get funds to fight the high rate of unemployment in Benton Harbor. Joseph said he has "indicated to the White House and other political offices that the situation in Benton Harbor is critical" and funds are needed to get people back to work. The mayor could not be reached for comment last week after City Commissioner Helen Ford charged there was an assassination plot against him.

Eight-Month Dispute Over

ALPENA, Mich. (AP) — A labor dispute lasting almost eight months at the world's largest maker of concrete block machinery ended Monday when union workers approved a new contract. Members of the United Steelworkers union approved a new contract with the Besser Co. by a margin of 173 to 129. No details of the pact were made public. The company has been shut down since July 18. Union members called the company's action a lockout. But the union did not call a strike against the firm until Feb. 27.

BH Mayor Again Accused Of Slander

For the second time this year, former Benton Harbor City Atty. Yvonne Hughes has charged Mayor Charles Joseph with slander and threatened to take legal action if she does not receive a retraction of statements he made about her.

The latest demand for retraction, issued following Monday night's city commission meeting, concerned statements made by Joseph in a newsletter mailed to Benton Harbor residents last month.

Included in the newsletter were charges that the city paid $54.51 for connecting a gas dryer for Atty. Hughes, loaned her $2,000 as a down payment on house she never purchased and paid other bills of hers.

In her demand for retraction, Atty. Hughes states that "it is my belief that (the statements) were maliciously made, untrue, incomplete, misleading and made in bad faith....and in the context in which they were made suggest nefarious and criminal conduct on my part."

The demand also states that the statements were republished in part in The Herald-Palladium and asks that Joseph see that his retraction be published in this newspaper in addition to being distributed to all parties receiving the original newsletter.

A story in the Feb. 23 edition of The Herald-Palladium concerning Joseph's charges details the allegations concerning the $2,000 loan and the expense of connecting Atty. Hughes' dryer, both of which she said were part of relocation expenses agreed to by the city.

Atty. Hughes said at that time the loan was an advance on her salary and that she had been repaying it at the rate of $40 a week.

Atty. Hughes, who was fired as city attorney by a 6-3 commission vote on Feb. 23, said last night she also intends to pursue a previous slander charge she made against Joseph in January concerning his statement that "the Law Depart*ment has spent $820* which has never been accounted for."

She said she has not received a retraction of that statement.

Under Michigan law, a person charged with slander must be given an opportunity to issue a retraction before a suit for damages can be filed.

Leaders of a drive to recall Joseph and four "Clean Slate" commissioners also said last night that they intend to take a similar action against Commissioner Helen Ford for statments she made last week suggesting they were involved with Police Chief Andrew Rodez in a plot to assassinate the mayor.

Morgan Hager said Atty. Hughes would represent himself, Maurice Bishop and former Commissioner Carl Brown in the action and that a demand for retraction would be drawn up today.

The full text of Atty. Hughes' demand for retraction issued last night:

Please be advised that I intend to proceed, in proprious personna or otherwise, to take whatever legal action necessary, including litigation, if required, to seek damages for the slanderous statements which you recently caused to be printed in a publication captioned From the Mayor's Desk, Let's Talk, Volume 1, No. 2, (February, 1976) and which has subsequently been republished and redistributed, with regard to myself, individually and as the Benton Harbor City Attorney and the head of the Law Department.

The statements in the newsletter have been throughly reviewed and it is my belief that they were maliciously made, untrue, incomplete, misleading, and made in bad faith. These statements, in the context in which they were made suggest nefarious and criminal conduct on my part.

As you are well aware, all the expenditures listed were made pursuant to contract and/or were approved by the appropriate staff of the City of Benton Harbor.

Michigan Compiled Laws Annotated Section 600.2911 (MSA 27A.2911) requires a request for retraction be made affording the person printing a libelous statement a reasonable time to retract the statement before exemplary or punitive damages may be asked for and received in litigation. I am therefore requesting that you, at or before the next Commission meeting retract the untrue and maliciously made statements setting out fully the truth as to the expenditures. I further request that you have such retraction printed and distributed to the parties receiving the slanderous newsletter.

I have likewise sent a copy of this letter to the Herald-Palladium as the libelous statements were republished in part therein and I request that you see that your retraction is published in the newspaper as well.

I trust that you will give this matter your very immediate attention.

Very truly yours,
(Ms.) Yvonne L. Hughes

FBI To Block 'Violent Acts'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi says proposed new rules governing FBI intelligence activities will not include a one permitting the FBI to take "preventive action" to thwart potential violence.

But Levi said the absence of such a rule would not prohibit the FBI from taking steps to block violent acts if such tactics were justified in specific cases.

Eight-Month Dispute Over

ALPENA, Mich. (AP) — A labor dispute lasting almost eight months at the world's largest maker of concrete block machinery ended Monday when union workers approved a new contract. Members of the United Steelworkers union approved a new contract with the Besser Co. by a margin of 175 to 129. No details of the pact were made public. The company has been shut down since July 18. Union members called the company's action a lockout. But the union did not call a strike against the firm until Feb. 27.

BH Mayor Again Accused Of Slander

For the second time this year, former Benton Harbor City Atty. Yvonne Hughes has charged Mayor Charles Joseph with slander and threatened to take legal action if she does not receive a retraction of statements he made about her.

The latest demand for retraction, issued following Monday night's city commission meeting, concerned statements made by Joseph in a newsletter mailed to Benton Harbor residents last month.

Included in the newsletter were charges that the city paid $54.51 for connecting a gas dryer for Atty. Hughes, loaned her $2,000 as a down payment on house she never purchased and paid other bills of hers.

In her demand for retraction, Atty. Hughes states that "it is my belief that (the statements) were maliciously made, untrue, incomplete, misleading and made in bad faith....and in the context in which they were made suggest nefarious and criminal conduct on my part."

The demand also states that the statements were republished in part in The Herald-Palladium and asks that Joseph see that his retraction be published in this newspaper in addition to being distributed to all parties receiving the original newsletter.

A story in the Feb. 23 edition of The Herald-Palladium concerning Joseph's charges details the allegations concerning the $2,000 loan and the expense of connecting Atty. Hughes' dryer, both of which she said were part of relocation expenses agreed to by the city.

Atty. Hughes said at that time the loan was an advance on her salary and that she had been repaying it at the rate of $40 a week.

Atty. Hughes, who was fired as city attorney by a 6-3 commission vote on Feb. 23, said last night she also intends to pursue a previous slander charge she made against Joseph in January concerning his statement that "the Law Department has spent $510 which has never been accounted for."

She said she has not received a retraction of that statement.

Under Michigan law, a person charged with slander must be given an opportunity to issue a retraction before a suit for damages can be filed.

Leaders of a drive to recall Joseph and four "Clean Slate" commissioners also said last night that they intend to take a similar action against Commissioner Helen Ford for statments she made last week suggesting they were involved with Police Chief Andrew Rodez in a plot to assassinate the mayor.

Morgan Hager said Atty. Hughes would represent himself, Maurice Bishop and former Commissioner Carl Brown in the action and that a demand for retraction would be drawn up today.

The full text of Atty. Hughes' demand for retraction issued last night:

Please be advised that I intend to proceed, in proprious personna or otherwise, to take whatever legal action necessary, including litigation, if required, to seek damages for the slanderous statements which you recently caused to be printed in a publication captioned From the Mayor's Desk, Let's Talk, Volume 1, No. 2, (February, 1976) and which has subsequently been republished and redistributed, with regard to myself, individually and as the Benton Harbor City Attorney and the head of the Law Department.

The statements in the newsletter have been throughly reviewed and it is my belief that they were maliciously made, untrue, incomplete, misleading, and made in bad faith. These statements, in the context in which they were made suggest nefarious and criminal conduct on my part.

As you are well aware, all the expenditures listed were made pursuant to contract and;or were approved by the appropriate staff of the City of Benton Harbor.

Michigan Compiled Laws Annotated Section 690.2911 (MSA 27A.2911) requires a request for retraction be made affording the person printing a libelous statement a reasonable time to retract the statement before exemplary or punitive damages may be asked for and received in litigation. I am therefore requesting that you, at or before the next Commission meeting retract the untrue and maliciously made statements setting out fully the truth as to the expenditures. I further request that you have such retraction printed and distributed to the parties receiving the slanderous newsletter.

I have likewise sent a copy of this letter to the Herald-Palladium as the libelous statements were republished in part therein and I request that you see that your retraction is published in the newspaper as well.

I trust that you will give this matter your very immediate attention.

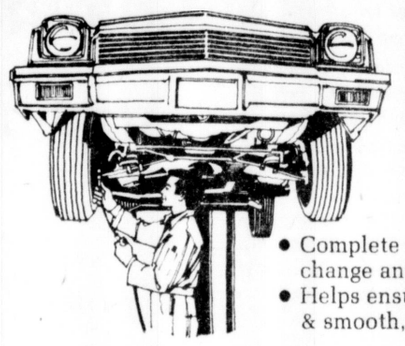

Very truly yours,
(Ms.) Yvonne L. Hughes

FBI To Block 'Violent Acts'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi says proposed new rules governing FBI intelligence activities will not include a one permitting the FBI to take "preventive action" to thwart potential violence.

But Levi said the absence of such a rule would not prohibit the FBI from taking steps to block violent acts if such tactics were justified in specific cases.

Coloma School Board Plans June Millage Request

COLOMA — The Coloma school board last night voted to seek approval of a property tax levy at the district's annual school election June 14. The board's decision came in a vote formally establishing the annual election date for this year. Coupled with the date was the provision for the millage election.

No specific amount of the levy was discussed. In two separate votes last year, district voters rejected board sought levies of 1.28 mills. It would have raised $70,000 yearly.

Supt. William Barrett said in addition to picking a date for an election, the board also had to determine the amount and pin down the number of teachers to be notified they will not be reemployed next year. Barrett said the district stands to end the current fiscal year $20,000 to $30,000 short in income over expenses which would reduce the district's balance to less than $100,000.

In other areas, David DeFields, assistant junior high school principal, told the board a group of students had staged a two-minute sit-in in the school's main hallway to protest the number of detention hours being given to students. DeFields said the students began going to classrooms when some of the students' names were taken. He said he did not know the number of students involved but that it was not many.

Detention hours are given students for infraction of school rules. DeFields also reported that 11 parents have been at the school under a program whereby parents are to help oversee behavior of students. The program was begun after a meeting last week where school officials said they needed the parents' help.

The board adopted a required federal policy banning discrimination because of sex in educational programs, activities or employment policies.

The board approved allowing the Coloma Baseball association to use school facilities for the summer, but took no official action on formation of a recreation commission sought by Larry Saiz, association president, to apply for a $7,000 grant.

Saiz proposed the formation of a three-member commission, comprised of one school board member, one Coloma township board member and one representative of the Berrien Parks and Recreation committee, to seek funds under a county parks and recreation grant. Saiz said the funds could be used for various recreational purposes, with his association raising up to $4,000 in matching funds toward the $7,000 grant.

The board approved the use of the Washington elementary school by the Coloma Lions club for their annual pancake day, Sunday, April 25.

Hartford Terminates 28 Teachers As Budget Hedge

HARTFORD — The Hartford school board last night voted to notify 28 of the school district's 95 teachers they will be terminated in June.

Supt. Gary Waterkamp said the notifications would be sent to all 28 teachers now even though a few of them may be asked to return after the board finishes trimming next year's budget. Four teacher aides will also be let go as a result of last night's action.

"I would expect that at least 18 to 20 teachers will not come back, but that could change," Waterkamp said. He said the district was required to give teachers 60 days notice if they are not going to be rehired next year. The exact number of teachers to be terminated will not be known until the budget is completed, he said.

Waterkamp said the staff reductions were necessary to enable the board to trim at least $200,000 out of next year's budget. This year's budget is about $1,630,000.

He said the budget had to be trimmed because the district will receive less state aid next year and is anticipating a reduced number of pupils. An estimated 1,629 students will start classes next fall, about 100 fewer than started last fall.

The school district is aiming for a pupil-teacher ratio of 30 to one next year, Waterkamp said. This year's ratio was 19 to one.

Waterkamp said that to continue employing 95 teachers would require a tax increase. "We can't justify a tax increase with such a low pupil-teacher ratio," he said.

The teachers to be terminated were lowest in seniority, according to William Hurtman, administrative assistant. Seniority will also determine which teachers are called back if more are needed, he said.

Some of the teachers terminated were in their third year, and one was in his fourth year in the Hartford school district, according to Waterkamp.

Waterkamp said it was the board's hope not to cut any programs in spite of the staff reductions.

Last week, the Hartford Education association issued a statement saying it was opposed to making any staff reductions until other budgetary items of lesser importance have been trimmed and until it has been determined what the 1976-77 budget will be.

Last night, HEA President Mrs. Maxine Sinclair said her organization at this time has planned no other protest of the board's action. She said the action complied with the master contract.

In other areas, the board accepted the resignation of William Dyer, a member for the past six years. Dyer, 48, of route 1, Hartford, wrote in his resignation letter that increasing responsibilities in his job as postmaster of Hartford did not leave him enough time to adequately fulfill his school board duties.

Waterkamp said the board must appoint a replacement for Dyer within 20 days to serve until the June school elections when the remaining two years of the term can be filled.

The board approved a policy establishing an Indian Parent committee of up to 40 members which will advise the board on educational programs for Indian students.

The board agreed to ask the Hartford city council not to change the speed limit from 25 to 35 m.p.h. on parts of Main and Center streets because of the large number of children walking to and from school.

The action was in response to a notice from the city council that several speed limits and traffic lights may be changed in the city.

The board voted to seek bids on three wood lathes, two for the high school and one for the middle school. The lathes will replace four lathes, all of which need expensive repairs, according to Waterkamp.

The board agreed to change the dates of the Spanish club workshop trip to Mexico City from April 10-18 to June 17-24 provided adequate insurance would be available for the trip. Waterkamp said the trip date was moved back to allow the 14 club members more time to raise funds for the trip.

Eugene Snider, principal of Red Arrow elementary, told the board that with 30 per cent of a survey returned, 50 parents had indicated they would like to form a Red Arrow parent-teacher organization and six said they were not interested.

Police Are Busy

TOKYO (AP) — Ten thousand policemen raided 1,271 crime hangouts today and seized 1,017 gangsters and quantities of guns and drugs, authorities said.

The crackdown was the third since last September and October. The two previous raids netted 25,328 gangsters.

Paw Paw Will Vote April 27 On School Bond

PAW PAW — The Paw Paw school board, meeting in special session last night, set Tuesday, April 27, as the date for an election on a $345,000 school bond issue.

Supt. Norval Bovee said a three-mill property tax levy would be required for three to four years to pay off the issue. He said the exact number of years the levy would have to run was not certain because figures on state equalized valuations will not be until later.

As previously outlined by the board, the bond issue would pay for the construction of three new buildings, the remodeling of another, and a new track.

Under the plan, the present bus garage would be remodeled into shop, vocal music, and art rooms for the Michigan avenue school, freeing the areas presently used for those programs for a reading resource room, audio-visual room and reading laboratory.

At the high school, two rooms used as offices for the superintendent and bookkeepers would be returned to classroom status. A new 2,500 square foot administration building would then be built to replace those rooms.

The plan also calls for the construction of a 4,000 square foot bus garage and 50 by 150 warehouse and maintenance building.

The truck would replace the present facility, which the board considers inadequate, and help provide for what is expected to be increased pressure mandated by federal provisions calling for equal programs for girls in athletics.

New Buffalo Election Produces No Surprise

NEW BUFFALO — A controversy over proposed sewer tap-on fees produced no surprises in New Buffalo city's non-partisan election here yesterday. Two, three-year terms on the city council were at stake and Frank Magro, an incumbent councilman and Carl R. Keefer, who took no stand on the fees, have defeated two candidates who criticized proposed fees. According to preliminary returns, Keefer received 344 votes, Magro, 291, William Alderson, 169 and Frank Sedlock, 145. Alderson and Sedlock, both residents of Sunset Shores subdivision whose residents will be paying new sewer tap-on fees, had termed the fees unfair. A total 486 people of about 1,300 registered city voters cast ballots in the election. Mayor Rolland Oselka did not seek re-election to the council. He was recently appointed to the Berrien county board of commissioners.

Coloma Approves New Truck Body

COLOMA — The Coloma city commission last night authorized the purchase of a new truck body for the city's water pick-up truck damaged in an accident March 3.

The commission approved paying $1,830, less any insurance claim, to Neil's Automotive, Hartford, for a truck body.

The pick-up truck was involved in an accident at the intersection of Red Arrow highway and Church street at 7:30 a.m., March 3. The driver of the truck was issued a summons for failing to yield the right of way by Coloma township police, who investigated.

In other areas, a request from the Coloma division of the Menasha corporation, to hook into the city's sanitary sewer system was referred to the public works committee for review.

The commission approved hiring two part-time public works employes on a full-time basis. Effective immediately, Gary Fisher receives a pay hike from $2.75 to $3 per hour, and effective March 15, Tony Aviles, becomes a full-time employe with his pay increasing from $3 to $3.25 per hour.

Mayor Glenn Randall announced the city has been paired with Kingsley, Mich., hunted southeast of Traverse City during Mayor's Exchange day of Michigan week in mid-May.

Randall said he was unsure if the city would participate in the event in hopes that plans may still be made with Coloma high school officials for a student government day instead, which has been the city and township practice since 1970.

Randall said he has received no information as to the schools' plans for conducting the day-long event, but he has learned many students are interested in it.

R. W. Petrie & Associates, Benton Harbor, the city engineers, reported the firm was seeking additional avenues of funding for the replacement of the Logan street bridge, in addition to the state critical bridge replacement program. The added funds were needed to offset higher-city costs.

City Clerk Mrs. Patricia Beezley announced the final board of review meeting would be held Saturday, March 13, from 9 a.m. to noon, at the city hall.

Hartford Council Gets $5.6 Million Sewer Plan

HARTFORD — Plans for a $5,634,000 area wastewater treatment system were presented to the Hartford city council last night.

As outlined by Tom Deneau of Wightman and Associates, St. Joseph, the area served by the system would include Hartford city and township, sections 28-33 of Bangor township, and the Shafer lake area of Lawrence township.

The system would include the construction of sewers and a new wastewater treatment plant, with about $4,156,000 of the cost coming from grants from the federal Environmental Protection agency and state Water Resources commission.

Deneau said the study concluded that expansion or changes of the city's present treatment plant were impractical. The report placed construction costs of the new system at $871,000 for Hartford township, $206,000 for Hartford city, $392,000 for Bangor township, and $9,000 for Lawrence township, based on expected usage.

Originally, Lawrence village and the remainder of Lawrence township had been part of the study area, but sought their own plan after engineers found that a single treatment plant for the entire area was not feasible.

Deneau said a hearing on both plans has been scheduled for 7 p.m., April 20 at Lawrence high school. The council took no official action last night.

In other areas, the council went on record as having no opposition to the transfer of a liquor license from Les Cole of the Main Tavern to Gerald Coats, Battle Creek, provided the transfer was approved by the state Liquor Control commission.

The council also heard a request by Don Rose that property he owns at the southeast corner of Center street and 60th avenue be annexed to the city. Mayor Wayne Nelson said he doubted there would be any objection, but that any such request would have to be submitted to the state boundary commission.

The council designated April 1-2 as the dates for the annual pick-up of discardable items across the city not covered by normal trash service.

The question of whether all the city's police cars should be marked with decals designating them as city cars was referred to the police committee. Police Chief Lee Spencer said he preferred that the cars remain unmarked because it proved advantageous in certain types of situations.

The pick-up truck was involved in an accident at the intersection of Red Arrow highway and Church street at 7:30 a.m., March 3. The driver of the truck was issued a summons for failing to yield the right of way by Coloma township police, who investigated.

In other areas, a request from the Coloma division, of the Menasha corporation, to hook into the city's sanitary sewer system was referred to the public works committee for review.

The commission approved hiring two part-time public works employes on a full-time basis. Effective immediately, Gary Fisher receives a pay hike from $2.75 to $3 per hour, and effective March 15, Tony Aviles, becomes a full-time employe with his pay increasing from $3 to $3.25 per hour.

Mayor Glenn Randall announced the city has been paired with Kingsley, Mich., located southeast of Traverse City during Mayor's Exchange day of Michigan week in mid-May.

Randall said he was unsure if the city would participate in the event in hopes that plans may still be made with Coloma high school officials for a student government day instead, which has been the city and township practice since 1970.

Randall said he has received no information as to the schools' plans for conducting the daylong event, but he has learned many students are interested in it.

R. W. Petrie & Associates, Benton Harbor, the city engineers, reported the firm was seeking additional avenues of funding for the replacement of the Logan street bridge, in addition to the state critical bridge replacement program. The added funds were needed to offset higher city costs.

City Clerk Mrs. Patricia Beezley announced the final board of review meeting would be held Saturday, March 13, from 9 a.m. to noon, at the city hall.

Hartford Council Gets $5.6 Million Sewer Plan

HARTFORD — Plans for a $5,634,000 area wastewater treatment system were presented to the Hartford city council last night.

As outlined by Tom Deneau of Wightman and Associates, St. Joseph, the area served by the system would include Hartford city and township, sections 28-33 of Bangor township, and the Shafer lake area of Lawrence township.

The sytem would include the construction of sewers and a new wastewater treatment plant, with about $4,156,000 of the cost coming from grants from the federal Environmental Protection agency and state Water Resources commission.

Deneau said the study concluded that expansion or changes of the city's present treatment plant were impractical. The report placed construction costs of the new system at $871,000 for Hartford township, $206,000 for Hartford city, $392,000 for Bangor township, and $9,000 for Lawrence township, based on expected usage.

Originally, Lawrence village and the remainder of Lawrence township had been part of the study area, but sought their own plan after engineers found that a single treatment plant for the entire area was not feasible.

Deneau said a hearing on both plans has been scheduled for 7 p.m., April 20 at Lawrence high school. The council took no official action last night.

In other areas, the council went on record as having no opposition to the transfer of a liquor license from Les Cole of the Main Tavern to Gerald Coats, Battle Creek, provided the transfer was approved by the state Liquor Control commission.

The council also heard a request by Don Rose that property he owns at the southeast corner of Center street and 60th avenue be annexed to the city. Mayor Wayne Nelson said he doubted there would be any objection, but that any such request would have to be submitted to the state boundary commission.

The council designated April 1-2 as the dates for the annual pick-up of discardable items across the city not covered by normal trash service.

The question of whether all the city's police cars should be marked with decals designating them as city cars was referred to the police committee. Police Chief Lee Spencer said he preferred that the cars remain unmarked because it proved advantageous in certain types of situations.

He was preparing for an evening gala performance honoring the theater's 25th anniversary. Performance included appearances by Scott and others in scenes from past productions at the theater. "BUTTER"

Perhaps the wet head is dead today, but the women of ancient times didn't seem to think so. They used butter on their hair.

The Greeks and Romans used butter as a medicine which was good for burns and other injuries to the skin.

In fact, the art of butter making has been going on for thousands of years. The word "butter" appears as far back as the book of Genesis in the Scriptures.

Hindu maidens in the 8th and 9th century B.C. had bridal feasts consisting of milk, honey and butter. One important ritual was when the bride took some of the butter and greased the axle of the bridal carriage.

Butter is made from goats', sheep's, and buffaloes' milk, as well as cows'. Also it takes about two quarts of whole milk to make one pound of butter.

The early method of butter making was to place milk in a leather skin bag that was swung back and forth to separate the fat. Later on, milk was placed into churns which were rocked or swung. Finally came the dasher which was a wooden stick with a rounded end. The dasher was moved up and down in the churn until butter was formed.

The dasher and churn method was a household necessity throughout the 19th century. In Orange County, New York in 1856, however, the first commercial creamery to make butter in large quantities was developed. Incidentally, the average American eats about 5 pounds of butter a year.

Remember, the next time you're in the dairy department of Schneck's . . . butter is better than ever!

Voters Add Own Twists To Area's Village Elections

Voters in at least four villages with annual elections yesterday in southwestern Michigan added their own twists to the election wars.

In Lawrence, voters split 105 to 105 on an issue to permit licensed establishments to sell liquor by the glass. Officials were to check to determine the outcome of the vote, if the official canvass sustains the tie.

In Grand Beach, an unopposed candidate for council there wound up in a 23 to 23 tie with a write-in candidate. The winner was to be determined later.

Eau Claire voters turned back a second attempt by the incumbent village president to retain his office via a write-in campaign. Some 193 of the village's 230 registered voters went to the polls to settle the issue. The turnout of about 84 per cent was the highest in recent memory of election officials.

Stevensville recorded over a 57 per cent turnout of voters to settle contests for president, clerk, treasurer and several council trustee berths.

By community, the results in the 17 villages with elections yesterday were:

Baroda

BARODA — All Baroda village council incumbents were re-elected to their posts without opposition in yesterday's election.

A total of 36 ballots were cast with two spoiled.

Unofficial returns were: Jerry Pilley, president, Republican, 31 votes; Mrs. Ileen Tollas, clerk, Democrat, 34; Mrs. Leona Ott, treasurer, Democrat, 31, and Henry Nitz, assessor, Republican, 31. All were elected for two-year terms.

Elected to the three four-year terms as trustees were: Albert Reifschneider, Republican, 30 votes; Howard Gaul, 28 and Ronald Zordell, 27, both Democrats.

Berrien Springs

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Candidates for village offices here were elected without opposition yesterday.

They were: President— Edgar Kesterke, 110 votes; Clerk — Wade Gorham, 111; Treasurer — Mrs. Olga Spaulding, 108; Assessor — Glen Briggs, the lone Democrat, 63; and trustees — Harold Wagner, 104; Edwin Racine, 101; and Rexford Koetzler, 95.

Library board members elected were Mrs. Elva Nothstine, 106; Miss Marion Nichols, 103; and William C. Rice, 99. All vote totals are unofficial.

A total of 124 people voted in yesterday's election. The village has over 500 registered voters.

Bloom'dale

BLOOMINGDALE — Treasurer Julia Murray survived a challenge, but Stephen Dickerson, incumbent village trustee, was defeated in yesterday's village election here.

Unofficial returns showed Mrs. Murray, a Republican, easily defeating Democrat challenger Mrs. Velma Knapp by a margin of 64 to 7.

Dickerson trailed a field of four candidates for three four-year village trustee seats. Winners were Democrat James Petty, the current clerk who left his duties to run for the village council post, and incumbents Herbert VanHorn Jr., a Democrat, and George Scamehorn, a Republican.

Petty polled 57 votes, according to the unofficial returns, while VanHorn had 50, Scamehorn, 52, and Dickerson, 18.

All other candidates were unopposed and included Richard Dickerson, Republican incumbent president, with 67 unofficial votes; Miss Janet DeKam, Republican clerk, 62 and Morris Harpham, Republican assessor, 65.

All sought two-year terms with the exception of trustee candidates where terms are four years. Petty said a total of 72 unofficial votes were cast.

Breedsville

BREEDSVILLE — Thirty-two Breedsville residents voted yesterday in the general village election and returned Republican incumbents, all unopposed, to office.

Re-elected to two-year terms, according to preliminary returns, were Village President Raymond Johnson who received 29 votes; Clerk Eileen Monahon, 28; Treasurer Grace Fish, 32; and Assessor Bruce Mortenson, 28.

Incumbent Trustees re-elected to four-year terms were Tony Klinge, 26 votes; Robert Taylor, 25; and Walter Tonczuk, 27.

Cassopolis

CASSOPOLIS — Three incumbent Republican trustees fought off a challenge from a lone Democrat in winning re-election to their two-year seats on the village council in the election here yesterday.

Re-elected were incumbents M.C. Barnett, 130 votes; Thomas Hartsell, 143; and Fred Senger, 148. Democratic challenger John Rickman received 48 votes, write-in candidates Earl Snelling received 11 votes and Raymond Bruens and James Grady, one each.

All other village candidates were incumbent, Republicans and ran unopposed in yesterday's election. Re-elected were: President — Donald Horne, 147 votes; Clerk — John Snyder, 145; Treasurer — Sylvia Bosler, 148; and Assessor — Ruth Edinger, 144. All were elected to two-year terms.

A total of 189 cast ballots in yesterday's election. Snyder said there are approximately 750 registered voters in the village.

Decatur

DECATUR — Clarence Blaine Rex, incumbent Republican trustee, is the new village president here, following yesterday's election in which all candidates were unopposed.

Rex received 62 votes in replacing Keith Leighton, Democratic incumbent president, who did not seek re-election. Yesterday's total vote was 87.

Other unopposed candidates and their vote totals yesterday were: Clerk — Harry Schmidt, incumbent Democrat, 71 votes; Treasurer — Mrs. Virginia Lezan, incumbent Democrat, 69; Assessor — Hans Peterson, incumbent Democrat, 67.

Democrats elected to the three trustee seats were Travis Groves, 60 votes; Donald Wickett, 54 votes; and Carl Keyes, 71 votes. All vote totals are unofficial. All village terms are for two years.

Douglas

DOUGLAS — Unopposed Republicans were all elected in yesterday's village election here which saw a total of 65 voters go to the polls.

According to Clerk Ray McKamy, all of the unopposed candidates received between 47 and 63 votes. Elected were: William Shepard, incumbent president; McKamy, incumbent clerk; Mrs. Noland (Carole) Schreckengust, treasurer; Mark Atwood, incumbent assessor; all for two year terms.

Elected to two-year trustee seats were incumbents Gordon W. Durham and Frank Wilson, and newcomer Gerald Umbarger.

Eau Claire

EAU CLAIRE — J. Caswell Crowder was elected to a two-year term as village president here yesterday as he overcame a write-in campaign by fellow-Democrat and incumbent President Marvin LaVanway.

According to preliminary returns, Crowder received 108 votes and LaVanway got 24 as a GOP candidate and 55 as a Democratic candidate.

Crowder, who has been a council trustee for 13 years, defeated LaVanway in the village's February primary and had no Republican opposition for the president's post.

LaVanway is completing his 10th year as village President.

In the only other race, Republican Ruth Sharp won a two-year term as village clerk, defeating incumbent Democrat James Newman by a 113 to 69 margin, according to preliminary returns.

Village officials said 193 people, or about 84 per cent of the village's 230 registered voters, went to the polls.

The turnout was the highest percentage turnout in recent memory, village election officials said.

The victory by Crowder ended the second write-in attempt by LaVanway.

Two years ago Crowder beat LaVanway in the Democratic primary only to lose to him on a write-in campaign in the general election.

Three candidates were unopposed in their bids for four-year trustee terms as were candidates bidding for two-year terms as treasurer and assessor, respectively.

Incumbent Democratic Trustee Frank James received 114 votes as did Republican newcomer Nelson J. Nagle. Incumbent Democratic Trustee Billie Durham received 94 Votes.

Marvin LaVanway also received seven write-in votes as a trustee candidate as did Mrs. Margaret Krejci.

Incumbent Democratic Treasurer Peggy LaVanway received 123 votes and incumbent Democratic Assessor Kenneth Karn received 130 votes.

Galien

GALIEN — The two Republicans on the ballot in Galien village council elections yesterday were both defeated by more than 4-1 margins as seven Democrats were elected to village offices.

Democratic Incumbent Naomi Warner won the race for Galien village treasurer by defeating Republican Gregory Holdridge, 91 votes to 21.

Winners in the trustee race were Democratic incumbents Jack Canfield with 197 votes, Raymond M. Backus with 91 votes, and Paul Warner with 89 votes. Republican Stephen Nichols failed in his try for a village council seat with 23 votes.

Village President Robert James received 82 votes in turning back a write-in challenge from Richard Potter who received 35 votes.

Democrats Sandra Ostrander and Johnnie Backus were re-elected clerk and assessor with 103 and 95 votes, respectively. Robert Foster received 17 write-in votes for trustee.

The total vote was 119.

Grand Beach

GRAND BEACH — Unofficial returns from yesterday's Grand Beach village election assure incumbent Robert Grim of a seat on the village council, but a race for the other seat on the council ended in a tie.

Grim led all candidates with 38 votes. But Harry Creighton, a write-in candidate, and incumbent Charles Joyce tied with 23 votes each, according to the unofficial returns.

The outcome will be in doubt until the county election board meets to canvass the vote, according to Mrs. Louise Krejci, village clerk and treasurer.

Mrs. Krejci said the tie would probably be decided in an arbitrary manner such as a coin flip if the canvass sustains the tie.

The two seats were the only offices at stake in the election.

Seven others received a total of 14 write-in votes. Kenneth McDermott received three votes; Mrs. Krejci, Charles Freeman, Richard Sweney, Jentena Jenson, and Robert Trainor Sr. each received two votes; and Robert Trainor Jr. received one vote for the offices.

There were 54 votes cast.

Lawrence

LAWRENCE — Voters here voted to a tie in the village's election yesterday on whether to permit licensed establishments in the village to sell liquor by the glass.

The balloting left the fate of the proposal unclear.

According to unofficial returns, the voters tied 105 to 105 on whether to permit the sales.

Mrs. Joyce Alburtus, clerk who was elected village assessor in the balloting, said there was one spoiled ballot.

Charles MacDonald, Van Buren county clerk, said he would check with state election officials for a ruling on the outcome if the official canvass of the vote upheld the tie.

The liquor issue twice before was defeated in village referendums.

Arthur Haney, owner of the Red Arrow tavern in Lawrence, who circulated petitions to put the issue on the ballot, was defeated during the election in his bid to become village president.

Unofficial vote totals showed incumbent Republican president Eugene Carr defeated Democrat Haney by a vote of 127 to 83. It was the only contested race in yesterday's election here.

Other unopposed Republican winners were: Clerk — Lauralee Duncan, 173 votes; Treasurer — Llewelyn Bowen, incumbent, 165; Assessor — Mrs. Alburtus, 160.

Trustee winners were Republican incumbents Paul McGowan, 163, and Glen Thomsen, 161, plus Republican newcomer Ralph Webster, 161. Virginia Sanborn did not seek re-election. The trustee seats are for four years and all other offices are for two years.

A total of 211 ballots were cast in yesterday's election, with one ballot spoiled.

Al Horn received two write-in votes for assessor and one write-in vote for treasurer. Darla Hagen received one write-in vote for clerk.

Lawton

LAWTON — Republican candidates seeking village offices here were all unopposed in winning the posts in yesterday's annual election. A total of 42 unofficial ballots were cast, according to Clerk Mrs. Barbara Weurding.

Unofficial results were: incumbents James Moon, president, 35; Mrs. Weurding, clerk, 42; Mrs. Florence Fate, treasurer, 37, and Robert Howard, assessor, 36.

Trustees unopposed were incumbents Russell Hackenberg, 35; Douglas Noble, 37; Marshall Sanderson, 35, and Donald Bitely, 35.

Library board incumbents and their unofficial vote counts were Mrs. Katherine Atwater, 35; Charles Gibson, 38, and Mrs. Marian Pfister, 35.

Paw Paw

PAW PAW — All nine Republican candidates in this village's general election yesterday were elected without opposition. Clerk Maxine Chipman said a total of 150 unofficial votes were cast.

Incumbent trustees re-elected and their unofficial vote totals were Mrs. Ann Griffiths, 119; Charles Cusumano, 115, and George Kolosar, 113.

Other incumbents included Mrs. Chipman, clerk, 120; Burton Harrison, treasurer, 131, and Mrs. Juanita Thomas, assessor, with 115.

Charles Smith, an incumbent trustee, tallied a total of 122 unofficial votes in an uncontested race for village president. Dr. John Taylor, present president, did not seek re-election.

Newcomers elected to the library board, and their unofficial vote counts were Mrs. Margaret McNeil, 127, and Mrs. Carl Jernberg, 108.

Mrs. Chipman said two write-in votes each were cast for Mrs. Griffiths as president, and James Cella as trustee.

Saugatuck

SAUGATUCK — Village voters here yesterday approved a special proposal to finance a building to replace the present post office and elected unopposed Republican candidates to various village offices.

Unofficial returns showed the post office proposal was approved by a vote of 115 to 103. Approval allows the village council to sell village-owned land near Main and Butler streets to a contractor for $10. The contractor would erect a building meeting postal department specifications and resell the building and land to the village on a land contract not to exceed 10 years and seven per cent interest per year.

The village would then lease to the postal department the building that would become Saugatuck's new post office. Postal officials have described the present post office as obsolete.

Unopposed Republican candidates elected and their vote totals were: President — James B. Christenson, incumbent, 203 votes; Clerk — Mrs. Elsie Christenson, incumbent, 198; Treasurer — Mrs. Laurice E. Bryan, incumbent, 191; Assessor — James Boyce III, incumbent, 174. All are two-year terms except assessor which is a one-year term.

Unopposed trustee candidates elected were incumbents Mrs. Viola Fox, 197, and Julius VanOss, 188, plus newcomer Richard Hoffman, 163. All are Republicans elected to two-year terms.

A total of 249 people voted in yesterday's election, according to Mrs. Christenson.

Shoreham

Unopposed Shoreham village office candidates, all but one an incumbent, were elected to the offices they sought yesterday. They were John Helsley, president, 31 votes; Mrs. John (Janet) Helsley, clerk, 31; Mrs. J.C. (Nancy) Anderson, treasurer, 31; and Benjamin Rice, assessor, 30. Rice is the only new officer. Trustees re-elected were Timothy Taylor, 29 votes; Harry Jaeger, 30 and J.C. Anderson, 31.

The president, clerk, treasurer and assessor were each elected to two-year terms while the council trustees were elected to four-year terms.

Stevensville

Incumbent Republicans successfully fought off their Democratic challengers in yesterday's Stevensville village election, according to unofficial returns.

Over 57 per cent of the village's 429 registered voters turned out to re-elect Arthur Kasewurm, president; Mrs. Bernice Schoenfelder, clerk; Ervin (Bud) Fechner, treasurer; Robert Sturch, assessor; and trustees Richard Kramer, Donald DeMorrow, and William Heyn Jr.

Kasewurm defeated Conrad Stampohar, 148 to 95, repeating his 1971 triumph, when he was first elected village president. Earlier this year, Kasewurm had defeated fellow Republican Ruben Newman in the GOP primary.

Mrs. Schoenfelder defeated Mrs. Lois Akins, 164 to 73, to remain on as village clerk.

Fechner, incumbent treasurer, defeated Mrs. Edna Zandarski, 148 to 88, and Assessor Robert Sturch captured 174 votes while running unopposed.

Incumbent Republican trustees also captured three, two-year seats. The incumbents, Kramer, DeMorrow and Heyn, received 161, 150, and 131 votes, respectively, compared to Democratic challengers John Akins' 89 votes and Richard Zandarski's 88.

There were no special issues on the ballot.

Three Oaks

THREE OAKS — A complete slate of Republicans was elected in Three Oaks village elections yesterday as the lone Democrat running lost by more than 2-1 margin.

Democrat Anthony C. Benhart Jr received 85 votes, coming in fourth in the race for three four-year seats on the village council. Republican winners were incumbent Dennis Grosse and newcomers the Rev. Ronald Mason and Richard Wooley.

Grosse received 174 votes while Wooley received 155 and Rev. Mason 152.

Newcomer Herbert Klinedinst received 181 votes running unopposed for village president. Incumbents Mrs. Gertrude Miller and Wilbur Warren were reelected clerk and treasurer respectively with 191 votes each.

Incumbent Chester Decker and newcomer Mrs. Hannah Noble were each elected to a two-year seat on the council with 174 and 169 votes, respectively.

There were 218 votes cast.

Recall Of Clyde Township Supervisor Is Defeated

FENNVILLE — A recall election to oust Reginald King as supervisor of Allegan county's Clyde township, failed yesterday, according to unofficial vote totals.

Township Clerk Mrs. Marie Nielson, said unofficial vote totals showed 120 voted against the recall and 68 for it. She said the total vote was 189, but there was one spoiled absentee ballot.

King, 33, was an unopposed candidate for supervisor in the 1974 election.

He came under fire from certain residents who signed petitions seeking his recall for what they termed "unfair judgments of tax assessments" on his part, King denied the charges.

Mrs. Nielson said there are 627 registered voters in the township, meaning 30 per cent turned out for yesterday's recall election.

Voters Add Own Twists To Area's Village Elections

Voters in at least four villages with annual elections yesterday in southwestern Michigan added their own twists to the election wars.

In Lawrence, voters split 105 to 105 on an issue to permit licensed establishments to sell liquor by the glass. Officials were to check to determine the outcome of the vote, if the official canvass sustains the tie.

In Grand Beach, an unopposed candidate for council there wound up in a 23 to 23 tie with a write-in candidate. The winner was to be determined later.

Eau Claire voters turned back a second attempt by the incumbent village president to retain his office via a write-in campaign. Some 193 of the village's 230 registered voters went to the polls to settle the issue. The turnout of about 84 per cent was the highest in recent memory of election officials.

Stevensville recorded over a 57 per cent turnout of voters to settle contests for president, clerk, treasurer and several council trustee berths.

By community, the results in the 17 villages with elections yesterday were:

Baroda

BARODA — All Baroda village council incumbents were re-elected to their posts without opposition in yesterday's election.

A total of 36 ballots were cast with two spoiled.

Unofficial returns were: Jerry Pliley, president, Republican, 31 votes; Mrs. Ileen Tollas, clerk, Democrat, 34; Mrs. Leona Ott, treasurer, Democrat, 31, and Henry Nitz, assessor, Republican, 31. All were elected for two-year terms.

Elected to the three four-year terms as trustees were: Albert Reifschneider, Republican, 30 votes; Howard Gaul, 28 and Ronald Zordell, 27, both Democrats.

Berrien Springs

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Candidates for village offices here were elected without opposition yesterday.

They were: President— Edgar Kesterke, 110 votes; Clerk — Wade Gorham, 111; Treasurer — Mrs. Olga Spaulding, 108; Assessor — Glen Briggs, the lone Democrat, 63; and trustees — Harold Wagner, 104; Edwin Racine, 101; and Rexford Koetsier, 95.

Library board members elected were Mrs. Elva Nothstine, 108; Miss Marion Nichols, 103; and William C. Rice, 99. All vote totals are unofficial.

A total of 124 people voted in yesterday's election. The village has over 500 registered voters.

Bloom'dale

BLOOMINGDALE — Treasurer Julia Murray survived a challenge, but Stephen Dickerson, incumbent village trustee, was defeated in yesterday's village election here.

Unofficial returns showed Mrs. Murray, a Republican, easily defeating Democrat challenger Mrs. Velma Knapp by a margin of 64 to 7.

Dickerson trailed a field of four candidates for three four-year village trustee seats. Winners were Democrat James Petty, the current clerk who left his duties to run for the village council post, and incumbents Herbert VanHorn Jr., a Democrat, and George Scamehorn, a Republican.

Petty polled 57 votes, according to the unofficial returns, while VanHorn had 50, Scamehorn, 52, and Dickerson, 18.

All other candidates were unopposed and included Richard Dickerson, Republican incumbent president, with 67 unofficial votes; Miss Janet DeKam, Republican clerk, 62 and Morris Harpham, Republican assessor, 65.

All sought two-year terms with the exception of trustee candidates where terms are four years. Petty said a total of 72 unofficial votes were cast.

Breedsville

BREEDSVILLE — Thirty-two Breedsville residents voted yesterday in the general village election and returned Republican incumbents, all unopposed, to office.

Re-elected to two-year terms, according to preliminary returns, were Village President Raymond Johnson who received 29 votes; Clerk Eileen Monahon, 28; Treasurer Grace Fish, 32; and Assessor Bruce Mortenson, 28.

Incumbent Trustees re-elected to four-year terms were Tony Klinge, 26 votes; Robert Taylor, 25; and Walter Tonczak, 27.

Cassopolis

CASSOPOLIS — Three incumbent Republican trustees fought off a challenge from a lone Democrat in winning re-election to their two-year seats on the village council in the election here yesterday.

Re-elected were incumbents M.C. Barnett, 130 votes; Thomas Hartsell, 143; and Fred Senger, 148. Democratic challenger John Rickman received 48 votes, write-in candidates Earl Snelling received 11 votes and Raymond Bruens and James Grady, one each.

All other village candidates were incumbent Republicans and ran unopposed in yesterday's election. Re-elected were: President — Donald Horne, 147 votes; Clerk — John Snyder, 145; Treasurer — Sylvia Bosler, 148; and Assessor — Ruth Edinger, 144. All were elected to two-year terms.

A total of 189 cast ballots in yesterday's election. Snyder said there are approximately 750 registered voters in the village.

Decatur

DECATUR — Clarence Blaine Rex, incumbent Republican trustee, is the new village president here, following yesterday's election in which all candidates were unopposed.

Rex received 62 votes in replacing Keith Leighton, Democratic incumbent president, who did not seek re-election. Yesterday's total vote was 87.

Other unopposed candidates and their vote totals yesterday were: Clerk — Harry Schmidt, incumbent Democrat, 71 votes; Treasurer — Mrs. Virginia Lezan, incumbent Democrat, 69; Assessor — Hans Peterson, incumbent Democrat, 67.

Democrats elected to the three trustee seats were Travis Graves, 60 votes; Donald Wickett, 54 votes; and Carl Keyes, 71 votes. All vote totals are unofficial. All village terms are for two years.

Douglas

DOUGLAS — Unopposed Republicans were all elected in yesterday's village election here which saw a total of 65 voters go to the polls.

According to Clerk Ray McKamy, all of the unopposed candidates received between 47 and 63 votes. Elected were: William Shepard, incumbent president; McKamy, incumbent clerk; Mrs. Noland (Carole) Schreckengust, treasurer; Mark Atwood, incumbent assessor; all for two year terms.

Elected to two-year trustee seats were incumbents Gordon W. Durham and Frank Wilson, and newcomer Gerald Umbarger.

Eau Claire

EAU CLAIRE — J. Caswell Crowder was elected to a two-year term as village president here yesterday as he overcame a write-in campaign by fellow-Democrat and incumbent President Marvin LaVanway.

According to preliminary returns, Crowder received 106 votes and LaVanway got 24 as a GOP candidate and 55 as a Democratic candidate.

Crowder, who has been a council trustee for 13 years, defeated LaVanway in the village's February primary and had no Republican opposition for the president's post.

LaVanway is completing his 10th year as village President.

In the only other race, Republican Ruth Sharp won a two-year term as village clerk, defeating incumbent Democrat James Newman by a 113 to 69 margin, according to preliminary returns.

Village officials said 193 people, or about 84 per cent of the village's 230 registered voters, went to the polls.

The turnout was the highest percentage turnout in recent memory, village election officials said.

The victory by Crowder ended the second write-in attempt by LaVanway.

Two years ago Crowder beat LaVanway in the Democratic primary only to lose to him on a write-in campaign in the general election.

Three candidates were unopposed in their bids for four-year trustee terms as were candidates bidding for two-year terms as treasurer and assessor, respectively.

Incumbent Democratic Trustee Frank James received 114 votes as did Republican newcomer Nelson J. Nagle. Incumbent Democratic Trustee Bille Durham received 94 Votes.

Marvin LaVanway also received seven write-in votes as a trustee candidate as did Mrs. Margaret Krugh.

Incumbent Democratic Treasurer Peggy LaVanway received 123 votes and incumbent Democratic Assessor Kenneth Karn received 130 votes.

Galien

GALIEN — The two Republicans on the ballot in Galien village council elections yesterday were both defeated by more than 4-1 margins as seven Democrats were elected to village offices.

Democratic Incumbent Naomi Warner won the race for Galien village treasurer by defeating Republican Gregory Holdridge, 91 votes to 21.

Winners in the trustee race were Democratic incumbents Jack Canfield with 197 votes, Raymond M. Backus with 91 votes, and Paul Warner with 89 votes. Republican Stephen Nichols failed in his try for a village council seat with 23 votes.

Village President Robert James received 82 votes in turning back a write-in challenge from Richard Potter who received 35 votes.

Democrats Sandra Ostrander and Johanne Backus were re-elected clerk and assessor with 103 and 95 votes, respectively. Robert Foster received 17 write-in votes for trustee.

The total vote was 119.

Grand Beach

GRAND BEACH — Unofficial returns from yesterday's Grand Beach village election assure Incumbent Robert Grim of a seat on the village council, but a race for the other seat on the council ended in a tie.

Grim led all candidates with 38 votes. But Harry Creighton, a write-in candidate, and Incumbent Charles Joyce tied with 23 votes each, according to the unofficial returns.

The outcome will be in doubt until the county election board meets to canvass the vote, according to Mrs. Louise Krejci, village clerk and treasurer.

Mrs. Krejci said the tie would probably be decided in an arbitrary manner such as a coin flip if the canvass sustains the tie.

The two seats were the only offices at stake in the election.

Seven others received a total of 14 write-in votes. Kenneth McDermott received three votes; Mrs. Krejci, Charles Freeman, Richard Sweney, Jentena Jenson, and Robert Trainor Sr. each received two votes; and Robert Trainor Jr. received one vote for the offices.

There were 54 votes cast.

Lawrence

LAWRENCE — Voters here voted to a tie in the village's election yesterday on whether to permit licensed establishments in the village to sell liquor by the glass.

The balloting left the fate of the proposal unclear.

According to unofficial returns, the voters tied 105 to 105 on whether to permit the sales.

Mrs. Joyce Alburtus, clerk who was elected village assessor in the balloting, said there was one spoiled ballot.

Charles MacDonald, Van Buren county clerk, said he would check with state election officials for a ruling on the outcome if the official canvass of the vote upheld the tie.

The liquor issue twice before was defeated in village referendums.

Arthur Haney, owner of the Red Arrow tavern in Lawrence, who circulated petitions to put the issue on the ballot, was defeated during the election in his bid to become village president.

Unofficial vote totals showed incumbent Republican president Eugene Carr defeated Democrat Haney by a vote of 127 to 83. It was the only contested race in yesterday's election here.

Other unopposed Republican winners were: Clerk — Lauralee Duncan, 173 votes; Treasurer — Llewelyn Bowen, incumbent, 165; Assessor — Mrs. Alburtus, 160.

Trustee winners were Republican incumbents Paul McGowan, 163, and Glen Thomsen, 161, plus Republican newcomer Ralph Webster, 161. Virginia Sanborn did not seek re-election. The trustee seats are for four years and all other offices are for two years.

A total of 211 ballots were cast in yesterday's election, with one ballot spoiled.

Lawton

LAWTON — Republican candidates seeking village offices here were all unopposed in winning the posts in yesterday's annual election. A total of 42 unofficial ballots were cast, according to Clerk Mrs. Barbara Weurding.

Unofficial results were: incumbents James Moon, president, 35; Mrs. Weurding, clerk, 42; Mrs. Florence Fate, treasurer, 37, and Robert Howard, assessor, 36.

Trustees unopposed were incumbents Russell Hackenberg, 35; Douglas Noble, 37; Marshall Sanderson, 35, and Donald Bitely, 35.

Library board incumbents and their unofficial vote counts were Mrs. Katherine Atwater, 35; Charles Gibson, 38, and Mrs. Marian Pfister, 35.

Paw Paw

PAW PAW — All nine Republican candidates in this village's general election yesterday were elected without opposition. Clerk Maxine Chipman said a total of 150 unofficial votes were cast.

Incumbent trustees re-elected and their unofficial vote totals were Mrs. Ann Griffiths, 119; Charles Cusumano, 115, and George Kolosar, 113.

Other incumbents included Mrs. Chipman, clerk, 120; Burton Harrison, treasurer, 131, and Mrs. Juanita Thomas, assessor, with 115.

Charles Smith, an incumbent trustee, tallied a total of 122 unofficial votes in an uncontested race for village president. Dr. John Taylor, present president, did not seek re-election.

Newcomers elected to the library board, and their unofficial vote counts were Mrs. Margaret McNeil, 127, and Mrs. Carl Jernberg, 108.

Mrs. Chipman said two write-in votes each were cast for Mrs. Griffiths as president, and James Cella as trustee.

Saugatuck

SAUGATUCK — Village voters here yesterday approved a special proposal to finance a building to replace the present post office and elected unopposed Republican candidates to various village offices.

Unofficial returns showed the post office proposal was approved by a vote of 115 to 103. Approval allows the village council to sell village-owned land near Main and Butler streets to a contractor for $10. The contractor would erect a building meeting postal department specifications and resell the building and land to the village on a land contract not to exceed 10 years and seven per cent interest per year.

The village would then lease to the postal department the building that would become Saugatuck's new post office. Postal officials have described the present post office as obsolete.

Unopposed Republican candidates elected and their vote totals were: President — James B. Christenson, incumbent, 203 votes; Clerk — Mrs. Elsie Christenson, incumbent, 198; Treasurer — Mrs. Laurice E. Bryan, incumbent, 191; Assessor — James Boyce III, incumbent, 174. All are two-year terms except assessor which is a one-year term.

Unopposed trustee candidates elected were incumbents Mrs. Viola Fox, 197, and Julius VanOss, 188, plus newcomer Richard Hoffman, 163. All are Republicans elected to two-year terms.

A total of 249 people voted in yesterday's election, according to Mrs. Christenson.

Shoreham

Unopposed Shoreham village office candidates, all but one an incumbent, were elected to the offices they sought yesterday. They were John Helsley, president, 31 votes; Mrs. John (Janet) Helsley, clerk, 31; Mrs. J.C. (Nancy) Anderson, treasurer, 31; and Benjamin Rice, assessor, 30. Rice is the only new officer. Trustees re-elected were Timothy Taylor, 29 votes; Harry Jaeger, 30 and J.C. Anderson, 31.

The president, clerk, treasurer and assessor were each elected to two-year terms while the council trustees were elected to four-year terms.

Stevensville

Incumbent Republicans successfully fought off their Democratic challengers in yesterday's Stevensville village election, according to unofficial returns.

Over 57 per cent of the village's 429 registered voters turned out to re-elect Arthur Kasewurm, president; Mrs. Bernice Schoenfelder, clerk; Ervin (Bud) Fechner, treasurer; Robert Sturch, assessor; and trustees Richard Kramer, Donald DeMorrow, and William Heyn Jr.

Kasewurm defeated Conrad Stampohar, 146 to 95, repeating his 1971 triumph, when he was first elected village president. Earlier this year, Kasewurm had defeated fellow Republican Ruben Newman in the GOP primary.

Mrs. Schoenfelder defeated Mrs. Lois Akins, 164 to 73, to remain on as village clerk.

Fechner, incumbent treasurer, defeated Mrs. Edna Zandarski, 148 to 88, and Assessor Robert Sturch captured 174 votes while running unopposed.

Incumbent Republican trustees also captured three, two-year seats. The incumbents, Kramer, DeMorrow and Heyn, received 161, 150, and 131 votes, respectively, compared to Democratic challengers John Akins' 89 votes and Richard Zandarski's 88.

There were no special issues on the ballot.

Three Oaks

THREE OAKS — A complete slate of Republicans was elected in Three Oaks village elections yesterday as the lone Democrat running lost by more than 2-1 margin.

Democrat Anthony C. Benhart Jr received 65 votes, coming in fourth in the race for three four-year seats on the village council. Republican winners were Incumbent Dennis Grosse and newcomers the Rev. Ronald Mason and Richard Wooley.

Grosse received 174 votes while Wooley received 185 and Rev. Mason 162.

Newcomer Herbert Klinedinst received 181 votes running unopposed for village president. Incumbents Mrs. Gertrude Miller and Wilbur Warren were reelected clerk and treasurer respectively with 191 votes each.

Incumbent Chester Decker and newcomer Mrs. Hannah Noble were each elected to a two-year seat on the council with 174 and 189 votes, respectively.

There were 218 votes cast.

Recall Of Clyde Township Supervisor Is Defeated

FENNVILLE — A recall election to oust Reginald King as supervisor of Allegan county's Clyde township, failed yesterday, according to unofficial vote totals.

Township Clerk Mrs. Marie Nielson, said unofficial vote totals showed 120 voted against the recall and 68 for it. She said the total vote was 189, but there was one spoiled absentee ballot.

King, 33, was an unopposed candidate for supervisor in the 1974 election.

He came under fire from certain residents who signed petitions seeking his recall for what they termed "unfair judgments of tax assessments" on his part. King denied the charges.

Mrs. Nielson said there are 627 registered voters in the township, meaning 30 per cent turned out for yesterday's recall election.

TURNER KIRKLAND AND REPRODUCTION PISTOLS

Gun Buff's Business Now Worth Millions

By LES SEAGO
Associated Press Writer

UNION CITY, Tenn. (AP) — When Turner Kirkland started his antique gun business, he operated out of the trunk of his car. Today, the operation is a $2 million-a-year business with a combined showroom - museum - warehouse that draws collectors from all over.

Scattered around the showroom and filed away in bins in the warehouse are things like brand-new parts for antique rifles and pistols, kits for muzzle-loading firearms, reproductions of Civil War uniforms and a show case containing a huge muzzle-loader used by Kirkland to kill an elephant during an African safari.

Despite its size, the Dixie Gun Works is conducted with a combination of down home hospitality and frankness, making it hard to walk out of the place without buying something like a small cannon ($125) or a leather hunting pouch ($14).

"Now here's a man who drove all the way down here from Illinois," Kirkland says, leaning over a counter to inspect two ancient pistols. "He wants to swap us these pistols for these two rifles, and I believe we'll be able to strike a bargain ... We'll take his pistols and mark 'em up a little bit and sell them to make a profit and he'll have the rifles he needs for his collection."

The price tags on the rifles total more than $700.

Kirkland loves to swap guns, but he's willing to sell for cash. And he'll swap or sell in person or by mail.

An hour or two with the 350-page catalog he publishes each year is almost as good as a visit with Kirkland in person.

"It has been carefully reproduced from dimensions taken from an authentic original ... The manufacturer has installed a modern flap closure that is incorrect for this high-quality pouch. This closure should be removed and a horn button installed in its place..."

The catalog says the horn button will be sent without charge so proper modifications can be made.

Another section assures customers of the authenticity of Indian tomahawk reproductions, but warns that the head may fly off unless the purchaser soaks the weapon in water to swell the handle.

Kirkland's customers are mostly folks who like to do things the way they used to be done.

"It's nostalgia," he says. "The old-time way — the hard way. Anybody can take a 30-ought-6 and get a deer, but how many can bring home game with a muzzle-loader and black powder?"

'Song Of Myself' Rates High Tonight

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — At the same hour tonight, NBC is offering a repeat of a Dean Martin "Roast," CBS has a dramatic special about American poet Walt Whitman, and ABC is serving up a new miniseries.

I, pardon the personal reference, suggest you observe the CBS wares, "Song of Myself," starring Rip Torn as the poetic dreamer and author of "Leaves of Grass" and other scandalous works.

A repeat "roast" means only warmed-over fare, while the premiere of ABC's new six-part "Family" series, about the woe of a modern family in Pasadena, Calif., is but low-suds soap opera.

CBS' "Song of Myself" covers the life of poet Whitman from his late 20s, when he'd tried and abandoned everything from newspaper editing to real estate, to the last years of his life, when his niche in literary history was assured.

It's done in flashback style, starting with an ancient Whitman telling a friend photographing him, "Don't prettify me. I never prettified anything in my life."

TURNER KIRKLAND AND REPRODUCTION PISTOLS

Gun Buff's Business Now Worth Millions

By LES SEAGO
Associated Press Writer

UNION CITY, Tenn. (AP) — When Turner Kirkland started his antique gun business, he operated out of the trunk of his car. Today, the operation is a $2 million-a-year business with a combined showroom - museum - warehouse that draws collectors from all over.

Scattered around the showroom and filed away in bins in the warehouse are things like brand-new parts for antique rifles and pistols, kits for muzzle-loading firearms, reproductions of Civil War uniforms and a show case containing a huge muzzle-loader used by Kirkland to kill an elephant during an African safari.

Despite its size, the Dixie Gun Works is conducted with a combination of down home hospitality and frankness, making it hard to walk out of the place without buying something like a small cannon ($125) or a leather hunting pouch ($14).

"Now here's a man who drove all the way down here from Illinois," Kirkland says, leaning over a counter to inspect two ancient pistols. "He wants to swap us these pistols for these two rifles, and I believe we'll be able to strike a bargain ... We'll take his pistols and mark 'em up a little bit and sell them to make a profit and he'll have the rifles he needs for his collection."

The price tags on the rifles total more than $700.

Kirkland loves to swap guns, but he's willing to sell for cash. And he'll swap or sell in person or by mail.

An hour or two with the 550-page catalog he publishes each year is almost as good as a visit with Kirkland in person.

"It has been carefully reproduced from dimensions taken from an authentic original ... The manufacturer has installed a modern flap closure that is incorrect for this high-quality pouch. This closure should be removed and a horn button installed in its place..."

The catalog says the horn button will be sent without charge so proper modifications can be made.

Another section assures customers of the authenticity of Indian tomahawk reproductions, but warns that the head may fly off unless the purchaser soaks the weapon in water to swell the handle.

Kirkland's customers are mostly folks who like to do things the way they used to be done.

"It's nostalgia," he says. "The old-time way — the hard way. Anybody can take a 30-ought-6 and get a deer, but how many can bring home game with a muzzle-loader and black powder?"

'Song Of Myself' Rates High Tonight

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — At the same hour tonight, NBC is offering a repeat of a Dean Martin "Roast," CBS has a dramatic special about American poet Walt Whitman, and ABC is serving up a new miniseries.

I, pardon the personal reference, suggest you observe the CBS wares, "Song of Myself," starring Rip Torn as the poetic dreamer and author of "Leaves of Grass" and other scandalous works.

A repeat "roast" means only warmed-over fare, while the premiere of ABC's new six-part "Family" series, about the woe of a modern family in Pasadena, Calif., is but low-suds soap opera.

CBS' "Song of Myself" covers the life of poet Whitman from his late 20s, when he'd tried and abandoned everything from newspaper editing to real estate, to the last years of his life, when his niche in literary history was assured.

It's done in flashback style, starting with an ancient Whitman telling a friend photographing him, "Don't prettify me. I never prettified anything in my life."

Israel's Retired Spy Chief Still Tells Very Little

By DAVID LANCASHIRE
Associated Press Writer

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Nobody noticed the plain, middle-aged man slipping from cafe to cafe in Buenos Aires 16 years ago. Isser Harel didn't want to be noticed. He was planning a kidnaping. And when Adolf Eichmann — the Nazi convicted and hanged for organizing the World War II slaughter of Jews for Hitler — was captured in his Argentina hideout and flown secretly to Israel for trial, almost nobody knew that the inconspicuous stranger in Buenos Aires was Eichmann's captor.

Isser Harel has made a career of being unnoticed. Yet for more than a decade he was a key figure in the Middle East and the mystery world of espionage — the intelligence expert who built and ran Israel's secret services.

"Capturing Eichmann was the most important achievement of the Israeli secret service," Harel reminisced recently in his Tel Aviv home.

ISSER HAREL
'Among world's best'

"But capturing Eichmann wasn't the most sophisticated or complicated operation I directed. Those cases are still unknown," Harel said, and many of them must remain unknown.

Allen Dulles, former chief of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency, once said Harel's underground network was "among the world's best." Ex-CIA operative Miles Copeland, in his book "Beyond Cloak and Dagger," says the intelligence service built by Harel "may have succeeded where others have failed in planting (agents) in the Soviet government."

But Harel kept his name a state secret all the time he was Israel's chief spy from 1952 to 1963. It was divulged only two years after he resigned in an argument with then Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion over Harel's mailing of explosive parcels to German rocket scientists working in Egypt.

Harel also differs from the glamorous spies of fiction like James Bond, whom he calls "too stupid." In all his years in business, Harel said, he never carried a gun and he was never seduced by a beautiful woman, at least not in the line of duty.

"I often used women as agents, though," he said. "Women were some of our best operators, but I never used them in a sex role. It's dangerous. You put a woman to work on a man and you never know what will happen — the situation can turn around."

Harel came to Palestine from the Soviet Union in 1930 as an immigrant farmer and orange grower, joined the Jewish underground in World War II and caught a German counterfeiter on his first assignment. By 1948 he was manipulating Arab agents, building the filing system that is the basis of intelligence work, breaking up Jewish terrorist gangs and virtually running the secret service.

Four years later he was officially put in charge and he constructed Israel's complicated system of intelligence departments in its present form: "Mossad" (the institute) for operations abroad, "Shin Bet" (security service for secret work inside Israel, "Aman" (military intelligence), plus a police special branch and a Foreign Ministry research division.

Harel refuses to talk much about the American CIA or the U.S. investigations into its activities, but he keeps careful track of them and he makes clear that he guarded against any unauthorized abuses or operations when he set up the Israeli system.

Now 63 years old and retired for almost 13 years, Harel has taken up a new trade — writing spy fiction and a true thriller on Eichmann called "The House on Garibaldi Street."

Aside from the Eichmann Kidnaping in 1960, only two of Harel's operations have been made public.

KITCHEN-SNOOPING: To give meatloaf a new taste, add fried rice to the chopped meat before broiling (Mrs. B.' kitchen)... To keep steak from smoking or burning, rub lemon around outer fat before broiling (Riviera, Vegas)... Diced olives will give a new taste dimension to your next Steak Tartare (Quo Vadis, NYC).

SMATTERING OF SIGNS: Your GEMINI child may be the "runaway type," for these youngsters are born wanderers. AQUARIANS ARE not known for being patient, but the months ahead are going to demand this quality if things are to go well. LEO does his best work when he is sole authority in an executive capacity... Faded Phrases: "Are there any more at home like you," "Oh, fudge" and "She's a little vixen."... Richard Harris portrays another Richard next — Richard Coeur de Lion in "Robin & Marian." (Tricky Dickey?)... Sandwich Favorite of David Brenner: Fresh baby shrimp, thinly sliced hard-boiled eggs and green olives, piled on sourdough bread. Serve with chutney... Win a bar bet with this: How many eyes does a spider have? (Most spiders have eight eyes.)... Rainbow Grill, NYC, has a fine current show starring Allen and Rossi — with lively singer Jeanne Napoli... Overheard at The Concord: "What's the penalty for bigamy?" — "Two mothers-in-law!"... Scientists have fund that happily-married husbands and wives are similar to each other in body chemistry.

Six-Shooter Sells For $36,000

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A nickel-plated six-shooter said to been the property of legendary sheriff Bat Masterson has been sold for $36,000 to an unnamed private collector at an auction here. A spokeswoman for Sotheby Parke-Bernet Galleries said Sunday the Colt .45 normally would have sold for $300 to $500 but a letter in which Masterson ordered the gun boosted the bidding. "I am willing to pay extra for extra work," it said. Masterson wrote the letter to the Colt company in 1883 on stationery from an opera house saloon in Dodge City, the spokeswoman said.

Six-Shooter Sells For $36,000

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A nickel-plated six-shooter said to been the property of legendary sheriff Bat Masterson has been sold for $36,000 to an unnamed private collector at an auction here. A spokeswoman for Sotheby Parke-Bernet Galleries said Sunday the Colt .45 normally would have sold for $300 to $500 but a letter in which Masterson ordered the gun boosted the bidding. "I am willing to pay extra for extra work," it said. Masterson wrote the letter to the Colt company in 1885 on stationery from an opera house saloon in Dodge City, the spokeswoman said.

NEWS OF MARKETS

Market Continues Rally

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued Monday's rally today with a broad advance that pushed the Dow Jones industrial average into the 990s for the second time this year.

The Dow average of 30 blue chips rose more than 4 points to about 993 in the early going. Gainers took a 3-1 lead over losers among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

The buying set the stage for a test of whether the Dow could crack the 1,000 barrier — which it failed to do in several attempts two weeks ago.

The average has not closed above 1,000 since Jan. 26, 1973, when it was on the way down from its all-time closing high of 1,051.70 set 15 days before that.

Analysts said the market was benefiting from declines in some key short term interest rates.

In remarks prepared for a speech today, President Ford asserted that the economy was recovering from the recession "in a strong and solid and very encouraging way." Today's early prices included Louisiana Land & Exploration, up ⅜ at 23; Warnaco, ahead ¼ at 11⅝; Jonathon Logan, ½ higher at 18½, and A. H. Robins, down ⅛ at 11.

On Monday the Dow Jones industrial average jumped 15.82 to 988.74 in its strongest daily showing in more than five weeks.

Gainers outnumbered losers by more than a 2-1 margin among NYSE-listed issues; and the exchange's composite index rose .56 to 93.61.

Big Board volume picked up to 25.06 million shares.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index rose .79 to 104.44.

Goldblatt's Will Accept Credit Cards

Goldblatt's stores will now accept BankAmericard and Master Charge cards, in addition to their own credit service, apnounced Louis Goldblatt, president of the 46-store Midwest chain.

Goldblatt's operates a store in Fairplain plaza, Benton township.

Goldblatt said the decision to accept the bank cards is "in keeping with our policy of providing the most flexible credit service for our customers."

Cass Fair Livestock Dates Told

CASSOPOLIS — Dates for the pre-registration of livestock to be exhibited at the 1976 Cass county fair in August have been announced.

Pre-registration will be conducted on May 22 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on May 23 from 1 to 5 p.m. at the 4-H office on the fairgrounds in Cassopolis.

INVESTORS' GUIDE

Dividend Payments Continue Their Climb

Anyone who has owned common shares over the last half dozen years needs no reminder from this quarter of the vagaries of the stock market. But for what comfort it may afford, the steady climb of dividend payments continues — which should prove of comfort to those who are living on income from their investments.

N.Y. Stock Exchange — listed companies paid out a record of $16.8 billion in cash common dividends during 1975, setting a new high almost 5 per cent above the previous record of $25.7 billion paid out in 1974.

Of the 1,531 common issues listed as of the close of 1975, 83 per cent of 1,273 paid cash dividends, with 786 paying more than in the previous year and 309 paying the same amount. Dividends were cut by 108 firms and omitted by 61.

It may seem ironic, but in a year of considerable economic turmoil, the amusement companies were able to show the largest increase in dividend distribution for the year — 18.1 per cent to a total of $124 million. Other large dividend gains were recorded by paper and publishing corporations — 12.2 per cent; tobacco — 10.8 per cent and electronics and electrical stocks, 10 per cent.

Utilities — still, recovering from the onset of high fuel prices, distributed $6.7 billions, a gain of 11.3 per cent from the 1974 level.

Three industrial categories to show a decline in dividend payments were the automotive — a drop of 25.6 per cent to $1.2 billion; textiles, off 13.3 per cent to $172 million and leather goods and shoe manufacturers, down 0.3 per cent to $52 million.

Q. I bought 100 shares of stock in 1967 for $1,000. I now hear it is worthless. Where do I send the certificates? How can I claim the tax loss?

A. Don't send the certificate anywhere. Ask a broker if he can find a market for the stock and if he can, sell it for whatever he can get in order to establish the loss.

If there is no market, get a letter from him saying so.

If the company went bankrupt, you should have claimed the loss in the year it announced bankruptcy. If that year is already past, talk it over with IRS.

Q. I'm trying to get my husband to buy bonds of A.T.&T., General Telephone of California and N.J. Bell Telephone. What do you think of them as income sources for people in their late 60s.

A. O.K. with me. I can't argue with AAA and A ratings.

Q. For retirement purposes would you approve of discount bonds, maturing in 1985 and paying 10 per cent plus appreciation to maturity?

A. I would, if I could find such bonds rated A to AAA, but I doubt it. High quality bonds due in 10 years and selling at discount are not likely to offer a current 10 per cent. In fact, I don't think you will find many with even a yield to maturity that high.

'NOT FICTION'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford said today that America's economy is rebounding strongly and that his economic figures are not "political fiction. There can be no doubt that our national economy is rebounding in a strong and solid and very encouraging way," Ford said.

Pound Slightly Higher

LONDON (AP) — The British pound, which plummeted to record lows Monday before leveling off and closing at $1.9440, was slightly higher on foreign exchange markets today.

The ailing currency was quoted at $1.9473 in early trading, and one dealer said "sentiment" toward the pound had improved.

He added that he was certain the Bank of England, Britain's central bank, had not intervened in the market to support sterling in early dealings by buying up pounds.

Dealers disagreed over whether the bank was instrumental in halting Monday's slide of the pound, which at one point to $1.9275.

Some said the Bank of England stayed out of the market and allowed the drop to make Britain's exports more competitive. But The Times of London said the bank stepped in to buy 50-75 million pounds to halt the slide.

The treasury and the Bank of England traditionally refrained from any comment on foreign exchange dealings. But officials asserted informally that they had not "deliberately "engineered" the fall in the pound to provide an export-led refinition of the economy.

The pound, once one of the world's most solid currencies but now Europe's weakest, dropped below the $2 mark for the first time in history Friday after a steady downward trend over the past 10 months, attributed largely to Britain's economic troubles.

SALARIES LATER

Watervliet Offers Administrator Pacts

WATERVLIET — The Watervliet school board last night offered two-year contracts to its key staff administrators, but no salaries were established, according to Supt. Samuel Gravitt.

Supt. Gravitt said salaries will be discussed at a later date, "once we know where we stand budget-wise." Contracts were offered to Michael Williamson, administrative assistant; Kenneth Bannen, high school principal; Munte Anderson, middle school principal; Wayne Wiltshire, North elementary school principal; and David Coffeen, South elementary school principal. Gravitt had earlier been offered a new contract.

In other areas, the board passed a resolution opposing House Bill 812, which if approved by the legislature, would establish a teacher licensure commission, which would take control of licensing teachers away from the state department of education, Gravitt said.

Williamson reported that the school lunch program was finally breaking even and expressed hopes that it would continue to do so.

It was announced that a special board meeting will be held Monday, March 29, at 8 p.m. in the high school library, for the purpose of acting on an allocation budget for the county allocation board, plus consideration of tenure and probationary status for several teachers.

NEWS OF MARKETS

Market Continues Rally

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued Monday's rally today with a broad advance that pushed the Dow Jones industrial average into the 990s for the second time this year.

The Dow average of 30 blue chips rose more than 4 points to about 993 in the early going. Gainers took a 3-1 lead over losers among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

The buying set the stage for a test of whether the Dow could crack the 1,000 barrier — which it failed to do in several attempts two weeks ago.

The average has not closed above 1,000 since Jan. 26, 1973, when it was on the way down from its all-time closing high of 1,051.70 set 15 days before that.

Analysts said the market was benefiting from declines in some key short term interest rates.

In remarks prepared for a speech today, President Ford asserted that the economy was recovering from the recession "in a strong and solid and very encouraging way." Today's early prices included Louisiana Land & Exploration, up 3/8 at 23; Warnaco, ahead 1/4 at 11 5/8; Jonathon Logan, 1/2 higher at 18 1/2, and A. H. Robins, down 1/8 at 11.

On Monday the Dow Jones industrial average jumped 15.82 to 988.74 in its strongest daily showing in more than five weeks.

Gainers outnumbered losers by more than a 2-1 margin among NYSE-listed issues, and the exchange's composite index rose .56 to 53.61.

Big Board volume picked up to 25.06 million shares.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index rose .79 to 104.44.

INVESTORS' GUIDE

Dividend Payments Continue Their Climb

Anyone who has owned common shares over the last half dozen years needs no reminder from this quarter of the vagaries of the stock market. But for what comfort it may afford, the steady climb of dividend payments continues — which should prove of comfort to those who are living on income from their investments.

N.Y. Stock Exchange — listed companies paid out a record of $16.9 billion in cash common dividends during 1975, setting a new high almost 5 per cent above the previous record of $25.7 billion paid out in 1974.

Of the 1,531 common issues listed as of the close of 1975, 83 per cent of 1,273 paid cash dividends, with 796 paying more than in the previous year and 309 paying the same amount. Dividends were cut by 168 firms and omitted by 61.

It may seem ironic, but in a year of considerable economic turmoil, the amusement companies were able to show the largest increase in dividend distribution for the year — 19.1 per cent to a total of $124 million. Other large dividend gains were recorded by paper and publishing corporations — 12.2 per cent; tobacco — 10.9 per cent and electronics and electrical stocks, 10 per cent.

Utilitites — still recovering from the onset of high fuel prices, distributed $6.7 billions, a gain of 11.3 per cent from the 1974 level.

Three industrial categories to show a decline in dividend payments were the automotive — a drop of 25.6 per cent to $1.2 billion; textiles, off 13.3 per cent to $172 million and leather goods and shoe manufacturers, down 0.3 per cent to $52 million.

Q. I bought 100 shares of stock in 1967 for $1,000. I now hear it is worthless. Where do I send the certificates? How can I claim the tax loss?

A. Don't send the certificate anywhere. Ask a broker if he can find a market for the stock and if he can, sell it for whatever he can get in order to establish the loss.

If there is no market, get a letter from him saying so.

If the company went bankrupt, you should have claimed the loss in the year it announced bankruptcy. If that year is already past, talk it over with IRS.

Q. I'm trying to get my husband to buy bonds of A.T.&T., General Telephone of California and N.J. Bell Telephone. What do you think of them as income sources for people in their late 60s.

A. O.K. with me. I can't argue with AAA and A ratings.

Q. For retirement puroses would you approve of discount bonds, maturing in 1985 and paying 10 per cent plus appreciation to maturity?

A. I would, if I could find such bonds rated A to AAA, but I doubt it. High quality bonds due in 10 years and selling at discount are not likely to offer a current 10 per cent. In fact, I don't think you will find many with even a yield to maturity that high.

'NOT FICTION'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford said today that America's economy is rebounding strongly and that his economic figures are not "political fiction. There can be no doubt that our national economy is rebounding in a strong and solid and very encouraging way," Ford said.

Pound Slightly Higher

LONDON (AP) — The British pound, which plummeted to record lows Monday before leveling off and closing at $1.9440, was slightly higher on foreign exchange markets today.

The ailing currency was quoted at $1.9475 in early trading, and one dealer said "sentiment" toward the pound had improved.

He added that he was certain the Bank of England, Britain's central bank, had not intervened in the market to support sterling in early dealings by buying up pounds.

Dealers disagreed over whether the bank was instrumental in halting Monday's slide of the pound, which at one point to $1.9275.

Some said the Bank of England stayed out of the market and allowed the drop to make Britain's exports more competitive. But The Times of London said the bank stepped in to buy 50-75 million pounds to halt the slide.

The treasury and the Bank of England traditionally refrained from any comment on foreign exchange dealings. But officials asserted informally that they had not deliberately "engineered" the fall in the pound to provide an export-led reflation of the economy.

The pound, once one of the world's most solid currencies but now Europe's weakest, dropped below the $2 mark for the first time in history Friday after a steady downward trend over the past 10 months, attributed largely to Britain's economic troubles.

SALARIES LATER

Watervliet Offers Administrator Pacts

WATERVLIET — The Watervliet school board last night offered two-year contracts to its key staff administrators, but no salaries were established, according to Supt. Samuel Gravitt.

Supt. Gravitt said salaries will be discussed at a later date, "once we know where we stand budget-wise." Contracts were offered to Michael Williamson, administrative assistant; Kenneth Bannen, high school principal; Monte Anderson, middle school principal; Wayne Wiltshire, North elementary school principal; and David Coffeen, South elementary school principal. Gravitt had earlier been offered a new contract.

In other areas, the board passed a resolution opposing House Bill 912, which if approved by the legislature, would establish a teacher licensure commission, which would take control of licensing teachers away from the state department of education, Gravitt said.

Williamson reported that the school lunch program was finally breaking even and expressed hopes that it would continue to do so.

It was announced that a special board meeting will be held Monday, March 29, at 8 p.m. in the high school library, for the purpose of acting on an allocation budget for the county allocation board, plus consideration of tenure and probationary status for several teachers.

SOUTH HAVEN

Recreation-Education Pact Over 1 Hurdle

SOUTH HAVEN — Renewal of an agreement between the South Haven board of education and the City of South Haven to collaborate in a community recreation and education program was approved by the school board last night during a special meeting.

School board action followed a joint meeting with city officials and members of the South Haven Community Recreation and Education council.

City councilmen indicated they would vote to renew the agreement at their next regular meeting on March 15.

The new agreement is a three-year pact, expiring June 30, 1979. The joint endeavor was initiated in 1974.

The proposed budget for fiscal 1976-77 totals $86,000 as compared to anticipated expenditures totaling $81,850 for the current year.

The agreement calls for the city to contribute $40,000 which includes $10,000 to pay lifeguards during the summer on municipal beaches. The school system will contribute $25,000 and has agreed to assume any additional expenses that exceed revenue. Not included in the budget are several thousands of dollars of in-kind services provided by the school system such as use of school buildings.

Officials noted they are continuing to seek financial support from other South Haven area governmental units whose citizens participate in the program.

The program is open to residents of the South Haven school system which includes South Haven township and parts of Casco, Geneva and Covert townships.

New Buffalo Vandalism Is Probed

NEW BUFFALO — City and state police here are continuing investigation of a vandalism spree in the New Buffalo area over the weekend that left 11 auto windows shot out with a B-B gun.

City police said this morning that four more reports of shot out windows were given to police yesterday afternoon. Six were reported to city police late Sunday and early yesterday and one to state police.

Police said the side windows of autos parked on streets in the area were shot out sometime between 8 p.m. and midnight Sunday. An older model auto, discribed only as light tan or gray, is believed involved, police said.

Reading Program To Continue

GOBLES — The Gobles school board voted last night to continue in the 1976-77 school year the Title I reading program in cooperation with the Van Buren Intermediate school district.

School officials said Gobles has allocated $30,000 for the program. It will be reimbursed with federal funds.

Approval to continue the program in cooperation with the intermediate district was a necessary requirement, school officials said.

In other areas, the board set spring vacation for April 12-16 and its next board meeting for April 5.

Covert Student Scores Up

COVERT — Covert fourth and seventh graders are showing steady improvement in scores they have made in the last three years on statewide reading and math tests administered to them, the Covert school board learned last night.

In evaluating Michigan Educational assessment test scores, high school counselor Rodney DeYoung said that while Covert scores are still below state average, there has been steady improvement.

DeYoung had no specific statewide comparison figures, but said Covert students tested were meeting fewer objectives in math and reading tests than the average student tested across the state.

In other areas, the board approved $282,084 in contracts for construction work at the new high school. The contracts covered instructional equipment and construction of the athletic field.

The board also modified the plans for the high school swimming pool to include a second low diving board and a high diving board.

The board approved a resolution asking the Van Buren Intermediate school district to employ an additional person in the career education staff.

Fennville 'Pink Slips' 12 Teachers

FENNVILLE — Fennville school board voted last night to tentatively "pink slip" 12 of the system's probationary teachers as a hedge against possible financial problems in the coming school year.

Supt. James Tackmann said the board action does not mean that the school is laying off the 12 instructors at the end of this school year, but that it is laying the administrative groundwork should the layoff be necessary to balance the school's budget in the coming year.

He blamed what he termed "decreasing student enrollment and uncertain financial status" for the board's precautionary move.

Tackmann also explained that the vote now to pink slip or lay off teachers is necessary because labor laws require that probationary teachers be given 60 days notice prior to having their contracts terminated.

The board voted to accept up to 50 high school-age students from the Glenn school district on a tuition basis next school year.

High school age students in the elementary district now attend either South Haven or Saugatuck high schools.

In other business, the board voted to buy some 36 movable partitions for the high school for $1,731, providing they are approved by the state fire marshal's office, and rejected several bids from firms trying to sell the school sinks for elementary classrooms.

The board gave Tackmann authority to borrow up to $54,157 to help pay for three new school buses when delivery is made.

Missourian Gets Stiff Sentence For Lake Township Rape

Six men were sentenced to prison Monday in Berrien Circuit court with the stiffest sentence, 20 to 60 years, going to a sex offender.

Judge William S. White imposed the sentence on Donald G. Roberts, 34, of Valley Mines, Mo. Roberts had pleaded no contest to a charge of first degree criminal sexual conduct (formerly rape) stemming from the rape of a 32-year-old Alabama woman Sept. 9 in Lake township.

Calling it "a very vicious rape," White noted the woman's jaw was fractured with a hammer before she was forced to submit to sexual relations.

Judge Julian E. Hughes sentenced Thomas W. Edwards, 19, of 5806 George street, Stevensville, to 32 months to 4 years in prison for a probation violation — possessing marijuana Feb. 9 at the county jail. Steve Robin, 17, Fenton, pleaded guilty to a charge of motor vehicle theft in connection with the same case.

William Foster, 40, Chicago, pleaded guilty to a charge of attempting to carry a concealed weapon, a .38-caliber pistol, on I-94 in Antwerp township Nov. 20.

Three men arrested on various drug charges Feb. 16 during a raid coordinated by the Van Buren sheriff's department also appeared for arraignment.

Ronald Wrenfrow, 20, 428 East Main, Hartford, pleaded guilty to a charge of delivery of marijuana.

Donny Tate, 18, 103 North Center, Hartford, pleaded guilty to a charge of delivery of marijuana.

Arthur Minshall, 30, route 2, Bangor, pleaded innocent to one count each of delivery of marijuana, PCP, and LSD.

Ronnie Trout, 18, CR-653, Gobles, pleaded innocent to two counts each of malicious destruction of property and assault with a deadly weapon. The charges grew out of complaints by two men that their cars were hit by mailboxes thrown from the CR-653 overpass on I-94 Dec. 28.

Fennville 'Pink Slips' 12 Teachers

FENNVILLE — Fennville school board voted last night to tentatively "pink slip" 12 of the system's probationary teachers as a hedge against possible financial problems in the coming school year.

Supt. James Tackmann said the board action does not mean that the school is laying off the 12 instructors at the end of this school year, but that it is laying the administrative groundwork should the layoff be necessary to balance the school's budget in the coming year.

He blamed what he termed "decreasing student enrollment and uncertain financial status" for the board's precautionary move.

Tackmann also explained that the vote now to pink slip or lay off teachers is necessary because labor laws require that probationary teachers be given 60 days notice prior to having their contracts terminated.

The board voted to accept up to 50 high school-age students from the Glenn school district on a tuition basis next school year.

High school age students in the elementary district now attend either South Haven or Saugatuck high schools.

In other business, the board voted to buy some 36 movable partitions for the high school for $1,731, providing they are approved by the state fire marshal's office, and rejected several bids from firms trying to sell the school sinks for elementary classrooms.

The board gave Tackmann authority to borrow up to $54,157 to help pay for three new school buses when delivery is made.

Covert Student Scores Up

COVERT — Covert fourth and seventh graders are showing steady improvement in scores they have made in the last three years on statewide reading and math tests administered to them, the Covert school board learned last night.

In evaluating Michigan Educational assessment test scores, high school counselor Rodney DeYoung said that while Covert scores are still below state average, there has been steady improvement.

DeYoung had no specific statewide comparison figures, but said Covert students tested were meeting fewer objectives in math and reading tests than the average student tested across the state.

In other areas, the board approved $282,084 in contracts for construction work at the new high school. The contracts covered instructional equipment and construction of the athletic field.

The board also modified the plans for the high school swimming pool to include a second low diving board and a high diving board.

The board approved a resolution asking the Van Buren Intermediate school district to employ an additional person in the career education staff.

New Buffalo Vandalism Is Probed

NEW BUFFALO — City and state police here are continuing investigation of a vandalism spree in the New Buffalo area over the weekend that left 11 auto windows shot out with a B-B gun.

City police said this morning that four more reports of shot out windows were given to police yesterday afternoon. Six were reported to city police late Sunday and early yesterday and one to state police.

Police said the side windows of autos parked on streets in the area were shot out sometime between 8 p.m. and midnight Sunday. An older model auto, discribed only as light tan or gray, is believed involved, police said.

Reading Program To Continue

GOBLES — The Gobles school board voted last night to continue in the 1976-77 school year the Title 1 reading program in cooperation with the Van Buren Intermediate school district.

School officials said Gobles has allocated $30,000 for the program. It will be reimbursed with federal funds.

Approval to continue the program in cooperation with the intermediate district was a necessary requirement, school officials said.

In other areas, the board set spring vacation for April 12-16 and its next board meeting for April 5.

SOUTH HAVEN

Recreation-Education Pact Over 1 Hurdle

SOUTH HAVEN — Renewal of an agreement between the South Haven board of education and the City of South Haven to collaborate in a community recreation and education program was approved by the school board last night during a special meeting.

School board action followed a joint meeting with city officials and members of the South Haven Community Recreation and Education council.

City councilmen indicated they would vote to renew the agreement at their next regular meeting on March 15.

The new agreement is a three-year pact, expiring June 30, 1979. The joint endeavor was initiated in 1974.

The proposed budget for fiscal 1976-77 totals $86,800 as compared to anticipated expenditures totaling $81,859 for the current year.

The agreement calls for the city to contribute $40,000 which includes $10,000 to pay lifeguards during the summer on municipal beaches. The school system will contribute $25,000 and has agreed to assume any additional expenses that exceed revenue. Not included in the budget are several thousands of dollars of in-kind services provided by the school system such as use of school buildings.

Officials noted they are continuing to seek financial support from other South Haven area governmental units whose citizens participate in the program.

The program is open to residents of the South Haven school system which includes South Haven township and parts of Casco, Geneva and Covert townships.

POLICE ROUNDUP

Marijuana Charges Filed Against Four

State police of the Benton Harbor post arrested four men Monday night on charges of violation of the controlled substance act, possession of marijuana, in two separate investigations.

Booked at the Berrien county jail were Gus Lee Coleman, 27, of 522½ Heck court, and James Earl Jackson, 23, of 688 East Vineyard street, both Benton Harbor. Also booked were Cleven Roy Robertson, 26, and William Lee Finni, 25, both of Battle Creek.

Troopers said small amounts of suspected marijuana were confiscated in both incidents.

Troopers said Robertson and Finnie were arrested after a car was stopped for speeding on I-94 in St. Joseph township. Coleman and Jackson were arrested when officers investigated a vehicle parked in a lot in the 900 block of East Main street, Benton township.

A Niles man was arrested Monday by Benton Harbor police on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon after officers investigated a report of an alleged threat with a knife.

Booked at the Berrien county jail was Michael Hubert Shearman, 24, of 1330 Fairfield drive.

Daniel C. Hardus, 50, of 1263 Ogden avenue, told police a man forced his way into his home shortly before 7 p.m. Hardus said he pushed the man outside and the man pulled a knife. Hardus was unhurt.

Police said they were called to the scene and observed a man run from the area. The man was apprehended after a short foot chase, in the 1000 block of Bishop avenue by Benton township officer Kim Fowler, who was assisting city police.

Mark L. Deckert, 1014½ Harrison avenue, told St. Joseph police his 1973 Volkswagen was stolen from near his residence. The yellow car with red and black racing stripes was valued at $3,000, Deckert reported to police Monday. He said the car was locked.

A salesman at Patton Brothers appliance store, 200 East Empire avenue, told Benton Harbor police an unknown amount of cash was taken from the store's cash register while he was in another area of the store, Monday about 7 p.m.

Rolland Phillips said he stepped into the back room of the store and on returning saw the front door ajar and the cash drawer open. The missing money was 10 and 20 dollar bills. He said there was no one in the store when he went to the back room.

Paw Paw Council Okays 4.5-Mill Hike

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

PAW-PAW — A 4.5-mill boost in Paw Paw village's property tax rate was approved by the village council in adoption of a 1976-77 fiscal year budget last night.

The increase, effective with this year's taxes, moves the village rate from 9.3 to 13.8 mills. The boost will generate about $63,000 more for village operations.

Council Trustee Charles Smith, who was elected village president in yesterday's annual election, said the increase was needed to help pay for increased police protection, building repairs, maintenance costs and salary increases as well as to offset a projected decrease in one revenue source, the payment to the village by the village electric fund.

The added funds are to help support a $1,335,072 budget for 1976-77. The current budget is $1,101,424.

According to Smith, total income to handle the new fiscal year expenses was being projected at $1,405,078.

The new budget includes pay raises just under five per cent for 21 village employes, and increases for some elected officials and supervisory personnel, Smith said.

The pay of village trustees has been raised from $600 to $660 yearly; village president from $840 to $900; village Atty. Warren Sundstrand from $5,000 to $6,500; Police Chief George Fadel from $13,000 to $14,000; Controller Maxine Chipman from $12,000 to $12,600; and Harry Bush, superintendent of public works, from $16,800 to $17,800.

The salaries of Mrs. Chipman as clerk ($480 annually), Assessor Juanita Thomas ($500), and Treasurer Barton Harrison ($2,270), remained unchanged.

Changes made in the amount allocated for the police department will allow for the hiring of one fulltime officer and the promotion of a clerk from parttime to fulltime status, Smith said. Part of the money will be used to purchase recording equipment which will allow officers to record their reports while riding on patrol.

This in turn, Smith said, will free them from a good deal of paperwork and increase the amount of time on patrol markedly. It will also increase the time there is at least one village officer on duty to 22 hours per day on weekdays, and 18 hours per day on weekends, he said.

He said the increase was made because total complaints handled by the department were up 112 per cent last year.

"The only way you can slow down the crime increase is to have a man in that vehicle," the trustee said.

Last year a surplus of some $55,000 was taken from the electric fund and put into the general fund in lieu of taxes, Smith said. Smith said that amount will decrease to about $43,000 this year, accounting for about $12,000 of the budget increase.

Broken down, the millage increase amounts to about one mill for repairs to the village hall and library; 1.6 mills for increased police protection; one-half mill for increased fire hydrant rental; 1.2 mills for salaries; and 1 mill to replace the difference in the electric fund.

Although those figures total 5.3 mills, Smith said, one man quit the public works department and will not be replaced. His salary equaled roughly .8 mill.

Disbursements in the new budget, with last year's figure in parentheses: general fund, $350,449 ($303,317); parking meter, $5,809 ($6,861); pool fund, $88,957 ($52,247); major streets, $51,028 ($39,005); local street, $40,256 ($33,555); water and sewer, $234,037 ($217,420); and electric fund, $524,538 ($509,810).

The new budget also includes $40,000 in revenue sharing which Smith said will be used to construct a well.

Watervliet Township Delays Action On Landfill Issue

WATERVLIET. — A request to designate property on Hennessy road in Watervliet township as a waste disposal district for a privately owned sanitary landfill was tabled by the township board last night.

George Slater of All-Waste Disposal, Inc., Benton Harbor, and his attorney, David VanderPloeg, presented the landfill proposal to the board citing a critical need for a waste disposal site in the area. The 55-acre site is part of the late Edward Scheffler estate located on Hennessy road.

VanderPloeg said if the site was designated as a licensed waste disposal district then engineers could be hired to design the landfill and draw up specifications to meet the state Natural Resources department rules for licensing. The DNR has made soil tests at the site and okayed the soil for use in a landfill.

Township residents could use the site and pay the same basic fee schedule to dump refuse in containers as they currently do at the township dump site. Other waste haulers could pay to use the site and no junk cars would be allowed, according to Slater.

Slater explained the landfill would be licensed by the state, inspected regularly and screened from I-94 and Hennessy road by fence or foliage. He said he hoped to have the area ready for use in the fall.

Supervisor Lyle Woodworth said the area is not heavily populated and the property, zoned agricultural, has limited land use.

During discussion the board agreed informally that it had no objections to the proposal but tabled any action until Woodworth could discuss the issue with about five surrounding property owners.

A 13 per cent increase in the township's payment for police service to Watervliet was announced to the board by trustee Larry Strouse. He said the increase came at the request of the city officials who were faced with higher costs for operation of the police department. The township has been paying about $11,040 a year to the city for police services and the increase would boost the total to $12,500. The payment increase proposal still has to be accepted by the city.

Strouse said last month the police made 83 calls in the township.

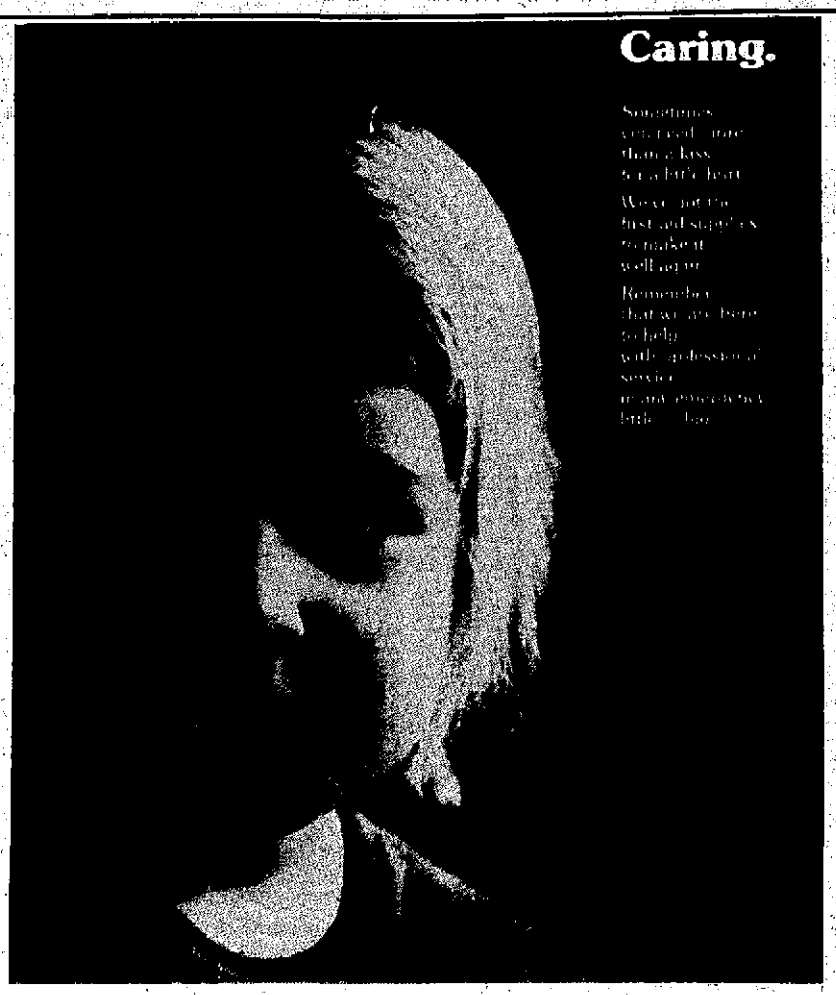

The township's new zoning ordinance will be presented to Berrien County officials for review this month and to the township board next month, according to trustee Robert Morlock. If adopted the ordinance will be printed.

Woodworth reported the joint city and township fire board has cut the fire department's budget for base operating costs to try and save money.

Barbara Tyler, clerk, reported the ambulance service made 20 calls in February.

The budget hearing date was changed from March 29 to March 23 and the board announced the dump will be open starting April 7.
